So what is going on at the Barn

I hope everyone is surviving the last few weeks until exams. Things are starting to slow down here a bit at the SU. Security review interviews are happening on campus, and some of your Student Councilors will be taking part to ensure campus safety. We had our last council meeting for the term last Sunday night — thanks to all councillors for your hard work and dedication. There are still some t-shirts that will make really great Christmas gifts for just about anybody: only 7 dollars. The Union is still concerned about the Health Center and its future, we are doing our best to ensure that we will not lose any part of this excellent service. We would like to thank the Health Center Staff — Dr. Lund, Sharon Mullin-Zimmermann and Sharon Currie for all your help and service this year. Last Saturday at the Open House a few visitors popped out of the rain and into the Barn, we had some neat displays from the sub-organizations and lots of helium. Don't forget, if you need a little stress release come down to the Barn!

The yearbooks are in! The yearbooks are in!

Yes, it's only November, but the 1997 yearbooks have arrived. They can be picked up at the Yearbook Office (Main 09), and they are also being sold this week in the Breezeway. As always, the books are free to graduates, and are only $10 for the rest of us. What better way to remember the good times at UPEI? Many, many, many, many thanks go to the staff and volunteers who put together the book. They did an excellent job, and in record time.

As many of you know, one of the Counsellors from Student Development retired over the summer, and was not replaced. Although this makes the Counsellors very busy, they will still make time for students who need help. They are still there to help! The counsellors are located in Robertson Library, at the Department of Student Development. This is a really hectic time of year for most students. Just keep in mind that the counsellors can and will help you get through it.

If students have any concerns about where money is being spent (or not being spent) On campus, write them down on a piece of paper and drop them off at the barn. We'll make sure they're voiced!

In recent issues of The Cadre, there have been several articles and Letters to the Editor concerning the Sociology/Anthropology Department at UPEI. Students should be aware that Council is gathering information on the subject, and will most likely be taking action (which action and what stand will be taken has yet to be determined) on the situation in the near future. If students do have complaints or concerns about this Department or any other Department on campus, you should feel free to voice them to the Chair of the Department, to the appropriate Dean and to the Student Union.

Things have been steady at the Barn lately. We've added a new fun-thing to our weekly line-up. Games Night is now part of the regular rotation. Nintendo 64, Sony Playstation, board games, Twister and lots more (Cheratie is willing to defend her Twister championship against anybody...). Wednesday is still the coolest student trivia in town with your host Gigolo Joe Sullivan. Friday nights are always rocking down here, with the celtic entertainer Jerry McDaniel coming over from Cape Breton for this Friday. Be sure to drop down; admission is only three bucks.

I guess the Scrooge Event is going to be on December 13th. For all of you that still have exams after this, I'm sorry, but it is the only time that really works. Things will be slowing down in the next couple of weeks, so make sure you do well on your exams so you can come and party guilt free with the rest of us. Good luck and we will see you at the Barn.
