

Spring Medicine

Is a yearly necessity because of a yearly certainty,—the return in spring of such troubles as

Impure Blood,
Pimples, Boils, Eruptions,
Scrofula, Eczema, Psoriasis,
Biliousness, Headache,
Loss of Appetite,
That Tired Feeling, etc.

The perfect Spring Medicine, renovating and building up the whole system, is

Hood's Sarsaparilla

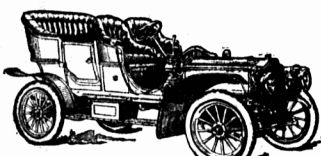

Which, acting thoroughly upon the blood, reaches and benefits every part of the system. Take Hood's this Spring.

"My brother took sick last spring. After he had taken Hood's Sarsaparilla two days he felt better, and six bottles completely cured him. He recommends Hood's to all his friends." F. H. DENMAN, P. O. Box 965, Montreal, Que.

"I have used Hood's Sarsaparilla a number of times and like it very much. It gives strength to the weak, and is a splendid tonic, especially in the springtime." Miss K. HAYNES, 4471 St. Catherine St., Westmount, Montreal, P. Q.

TWO REASONS WHY THE RUSSELL

is pre-eminently the right car

"Made in Canada" Mark these points:

1.—TREAD—Standard wagon tread in Canada is 56 to 56 1/2 inches. In other countries it varies from 49 to 52 inches up. Ask what the tread of a car is before you buy. You do not always use a car in town, and one wheel in the rut and the other—well anywhere, is not fun for either car or driver. Russell tread is 56 1/2 inches.

Will track with a wagon on any roads in Canada.

2.—CLEARANCE—In countries where all roads are parkways the mechanism of a car may be suspended low—not so in Canada. A car to be safe should have at least 9" road clearance.

The lowest point in front or rear axle of the RUSSELL is 9 INCHES from the ground, and no fly wheel, gears or vital parts are lower than 11 inches. Think what that means for Canadian roads.

LITTLE DORRITT IS SAID TO BE ALIVE

The Prototype of the Famous Character Relates Reminiscences . . . She is More Than Ninety Years of Age— Was a Playmate of Dickens . . . Sister of His Chum

LONDON, May 3.—In view of the announcement that the crypt of the Church of St. George the Martyr, Southwark, so closely associated with Dickens' Little Dorritt, is to let for "storage purposes," it may interest lovers of Dickens to learn that the original of the character is still alive.

Mrs. Cooper, who, as Mary Ann Mitton, was a playmate of Dickens and the sister of his closest school companion has lived at Southgate for more than half a century. Although more than ninety years of age, she is still in full possession of all her faculties, and takes an outdoor walk every fine day.

In conversation Mrs. Cooper showed how keen a pleasure it affords her to talk of the far-away time when as a girl she attended St. Pancras church with Charles, and of the visits afterwards paid by him to Manor farm, Sunbury, where the Mittons lived later.

Of the boy Dickens she retains the fondest recollections. One of her quaintest anecdotes tells how as a girl she teased him about his future wife. He declared that she must possess an intellectuality which would qualify her to take a keen interest in his work and when the girl remarked: "Then I wouldn't do for that, Charles," he agreed. "No, Dorritt, you wouldn't do for that."

How keen an interest both she and her brother took in the young writer's work is shown from the tales she tells of how "Charles" used to bring his manuscript and read it aloud to them.

"If we thought anything was not quite as it ought to be, we would tell him straight: 'No, no, Charles, that won't do at all.' Mrs. Cooper would say: 'Of Dickens the man, the old lady says: 'There never was such a man. He was so gentle and kindly to every one, and clever, for he never really had much education but he had a natural gift for getting things and describing them.'"

The old lady has still in her possession many relics of those old days, notably part of the bed upon which Dickens slept when he used to visit her brother during his days at Sunbury. She is proud also of having received many letters from the great novelist in his younger days.

She dearly loves to tell of the trouble she used to get into in the early days of young Dickens' sojourn in Camden Town (Mrs. Cooper was born in Hatton-garden), when instead of returning straight home after the service at St. Pancras church, she used to listen to Charles' persuasions, and go to see the "beadle" in his gorgeous "dresses" or some such other wonders of childhood.

Speaking of the life at Sunbury, he said: "You could always find Charles lying out among the hay, absorbed in some book."

Mrs. Cooper often pays a visit to London and she told the Express representative that next week she intended, weather permitting, to do a little shopping in the city.

How few of the passers-by in the busy streets will recognize the little white-haired old lady as the original Little Dorritt.

TRYON STRONG FOR RAILWAY

Resolution Passed at a Very Largely Attended Meeting on Tuesday Last.

A large number of the residents of Tryon and vicinity assembled in the Hall on Tuesday last, to discuss better railroad facilities. Henry Smith was appointed to the chair and F. G. Lang was appointed Secretary. After a few remarks, Mr. Lang moved the following resolution:

Whereas the people of Tryon and vicinity are desirous of having railway communication, this district is a long distance from the Prince Edward Island railway, and its inhabitants suffer great inconvenience by reason of not having better means of communication; a large amount of business being done in the neighborhood of Tryon, there being three butter factories, saw and door factory, a furniture factory, two planing mills, a roller process flour mill, woollen mills, two saw mills, carriage factory, stores and lobster factories, and the farmers of Tryon greatly need railway facilities for carrying mangel seed to the place and for the shipping of their farm products to market. A line of railway to Tryon is a great necessity in view of the benefit such a public convenience would confer on this part of the Province, and considering that there are no engineering difficulties to be met with, the country being level; the cost of construction would be comparatively moderate; that a large amount of freight would pass over this route and act as a feeder to the main line, and could be economically handled. There fore resolved: That this meeting of the inhabitants of Tryon and vicinity strongly but respectfully urge upon Hon. H. R. Emerson, Minister of Railways and Canals, the importance and necessity of having the Cape Traverse branch line extended from a point at or near Cape Traverse to Tryon, in order to give railway accommodation to the people of one of the most thickly populated sections of the province.

D. J. Thomson seconded the resolution and pointed out the need of better railway accommodation.

M. C. Delaney spoke in favor of the resolution, contending that the extension would be a paying institution as a great deal of freight would be handled.

Capt. Joseph Read, M. P. P., considered the people of Tryon were in great need of a railway and thought a road would be a great feeder for the main line; that Lot 28 was one of the heaviest tax-payers, and therefore one of the richest Lots on the Island.

James Richards, M. P. P., considered the railway would be a source of great benefit to a very thickly settled country, and the many industries now thriving in our midst would be doubled in a short time. Undoubtedly the road would build up the country; and that he would do all in his power to bring the matter before the Minister, and further the matter as much as he could.

Hon. S. E. Reid spoke in favor of the resolution, and hoped the time would speedily come when a road would be built to accommodate the people of this district. He was thoroughly in sympathy with the project. He had no doubt that the road passing through such a rich district would be a great feeder for the main line.

Geo. Ives followed, and convinced those present that such a road would double his output of lumber within a year and in a short time Tryon would be a place with a large number of inhabitants. The resolution was passed unanimously, and petitions were ordered to be circulated and presented to the minister of Railways, strongly representing our need of the railway.

A vote of thanks was tendered the members, and each fittingly responded.

THE HAPPINESS OF HOME.

Very largely depends on the mother's disposition; if she is animated and bright everyone is happy; but if she is nervous, irritable and cross—everything goes wrong.
