Farewell Sermon by Rev. Mr. Glendenning

Impressive Service at Methodist Church Last Night. The Pastor at the Conclusion of His Sermon Addressed Personally the Congregation and Choir.

There was a large attendance at the Methodist Church last evening, where Rev. G. W. F. Glendenning, very hard it is to be a Christian! Long before this the apostle Paul had called attention to the soldier's "fight the good fight of faith." The Christian has always been to heroism, to moral discipline and self-sacrifice; the Cross has ever been the test of courage.

What did Christ mean by the cross? It was a symbol of shame for the Romans it was deemed so abominable that it was reserved for the punishment of criminal slaves; the Jews had a horror of it above fastened Christ on the cross there was deep meaning in their cry: "If thou be the Son of God come down from the cross." They admired Christ's character and listened gladly to his teaching, but they misunderstood the symbol, which meant to them nothing but degradation.

But the cross meant more than a symbol of shame; it was a sign of victory. Never was there such a reversal of feeling as when God, became the sign of victory. Christianity is the religion of the cross; it is incorporated in our architecture; adorns our epines and houses of worship; hangs from our watch chains; is emblazoned in diamonds and jeweled jewelry; and is stamped on our bibles. From the hymns we sing "In the Cross of Christ I glory."

The cross is also the test of obedience. It stands as the symbol of discipline—the soldier's sign of the capacity for sacrifice. The story of real Christianity is the story of self-denial and hardship, as is abundantly proven in the lives of the apostles and martyrs.

No. 2 and 8 Batteries Do Good Shooting and are Complimented by Camp Commandant Prospects Bright for Carrying First Honors.

(Special to The Guardian.)
PETAWAWA, Ont., June 24.—No. 2 and 8 Batteries of the Heavy Brigade, completed their gun practice today; both batteries doing good shooting. The drill and discipline were excellent. After the firing yesterday, Colonel Constantine, the Camp Commandant, presented the prizes to the gun layers and signallers and congratulated Colonel Mackinnon on the excellent state of his brigade. The splendid training of the officers and gunners has been very favorably commented upon. Both batteries qualified the full number of gun layers, and the signallers were also stated to be very efficient. Gr. Hutchison won first prize for signalling in No. 2 Battery of M. D. MacKinnon in No. 8 Battery. It will be several months before the results of the efficiency competitions are published, but the signallers and gunners have a good chance for first. The Brigade will arrive in Charlottetown by the late train Monday night.

Crow's Nest Pass Agreement in Effect July 7th

(Special to The Guardian.)
OTTAWA, June 24.—The grain rates under the Crow's Nest Pass agreement of 1898 will come into effect on July 7th, next after two years suspension. The remainder of the agreement will continue in abeyance for another year after the amendments to the bill, which the House has concurred in, are amended. The amendments to the bill, which the House has concurred in, are amended. The amendments to the bill, which the House has concurred in, are amended.

Customs Act Bill Led to Exciting Debate in House

(Special to The Guardian.)
OTTAWA, June 22.—Lively battling broke loose in the House around midnight. Hon. Jacques Bureau, Minister of Customs, had introduced an amendment to the Customs Act providing that: "If at any time it appears to the satisfaction of the Governor-in-Council that natural products of a class or kind produced in Canada, either on sale or consignment, are being imported into Canada, either on sale or consignment, under such conditions as to affect the interests of Canadian producers, the Governor-in-Council may, in any case or classes authorized by the Minister to value such goods for duty, notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, and the value so determined shall be deemed to be the fair market value thereof."

Mr. Bureau explained that the amendment would replace a provision which had been found to be all "foolishness." In making the change the Government had the interests of the Canadian producer as primary consideration. Mr. Arthur Meighen protested that the amendment was to be authorized to put up the tariff as he saw fit. "Never," he exclaimed, "has there been anything like this asked from any Parliament."

Andrew McMaster, Liberal, declared he must vote against the amendment. He would vote against it if he were the only man to do so in the House. On the other hand, T. G. McBride, of Charlottetown, breaking on the amendment, his fellow Progressives, held that the application of the British Columbia tariff was the big event, so far at least, of the evening. The officer were entertained in the afternoon at Belvedere Golf Links. Yesterday afternoon the men were ashore and in the evening many of them were to be seen attending various church services. Their friendly contact is as noticeable as their neat and sailorlike appearance and it is to be hoped that citizens will assist in making their visit here a pleasant one. Books and games have been provided at the Navy League but a little personal courtesy goes farther with "Jack ashore" than any organized entertainment.

This evening with the kind consent of Admiral Pakenham and of officers, a concert for the benefit of the Navy League will be given by the men of the cruiser.

Outburst of Anger Murder of Wilson

Grave Effects Anticipated in the Political Situation by London Newspapers. Resignation of Government Predicted.

(Special to The Guardian.)
LONDON, June 24.—The probable effect on the political situation of the assassination of Field Marshal Wilson, attracts attention this morning and all the newspapers speculate as to the position of the British government in view of the outburst of anger in parliament, and the withdrawal of protection from prominent men.

The intense indignation over the murder is mingled with wide spread feeling that it should have been prevented and consequently a scapegoat is being sought. Home Secretary Short, as responsible head of the Police has been signalled out particularly as a necessary victim and his removal is demanded. That he will forestall the political pressure on the government; by voluntarily resigning is predicted in some quarters.

The Morning Post announces this morning that Lady Wilson has informed the cabinet that the presence of any minister at the funeral of her husband Field Marshal Wilson would be distasteful. The cabinet begged for a reconsideration of this decision, but Lady Wilson declined, whereupon the prohibition of the King's Minister would be disrespectful to the King, and this caused Lady Wilson to revoke her decision.

Austen Chamberlain, Leader of the government in the House, visited the widow to express his sympathy, but she refused to see him, with the message "you are the last man who should be in this house today!"

Entertained Yesterday By Admiral Pakenham On H.M.S. Raleigh

Yesterday afternoon Admiral Sir William C. Pakenham and officers of H.M.S. Raleigh entertained at luncheon on board ship His Honor Lieutenant Governor MacKinnon, Mrs. MacKinnon and party, consisting of Judge Hazard and Mrs. Hazard, His Worship Mayor Jenkins, Mrs. Jenkins and Miss Jenkins, U. S. Consul Major Crosby and Mrs. Crosby, Lieut. Col. J. Stewart and Mrs. Stewart, Mr. Frank R. Hertz and Mr. Percy Dore. The guests were received cordially and a very pleasant time was enjoyed.

The cruiser was also visited in the afternoon by many citizens who were courteously shown over the handsome ship, which is of the latest type of fast cruisers; can develop a speed of over thirty knots and can throw from her 7.5 guns a two hundred pound projectile about twelve miles. Seven of these guns form her chief armament. She also has four anti-aircraft guns, some machine guns and six torpedo tubes. Of the eight hundred officers and men of the Raleigh, about fifty per cent have seen service in the Great War, a large number having been decorated.

The official visit of His Worship Mayor Jenkins and members of the City Council to Admiral Pakenham on board ship Saturday morning was cordially returned late in the day. On Saturday afternoon the sports at the Absegweit grounds was the big event, so far at least, of the evening. The officer were entertained in the afternoon at Belvedere Golf Links. Yesterday afternoon the men were ashore and in the evening many of them were to be seen attending various church services. Their friendly contact is as noticeable as their neat and sailorlike appearance and it is to be hoped that citizens will assist in making their visit here a pleasant one. Books and games have been provided at the Navy League but a little personal courtesy goes farther with "Jack ashore" than any organized entertainment.

Oleomargarine is Given An Extension German Foreign Minister Assassinated

(Special to The Guardian.)
OTTAWA, June 24.—Introduction of a resolution in the Commons this morning to provide for the manufacture and importation of oleomargarine for another year again brought on sharp cross-firing between Right Hon. Arthur Meighen and Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture. After rapid-fire exchange extending over an hour the resolution was approved and a bill based on it given first reading.

At the outset Mr. Meighen twitted Mr. Motherwell with not enunciating his policy. The Government was "spineless," afraid to face its responsibilities, and was a "phantom government." The Prime Minister declared that Mr. Meighen was pleading for the establishment of an autocracy. The leader of the Opposition is having one of his sarcastic spells, Mr. Motherwell contributed.

"The picture presented by Mr. Motherwell was grotesque," Mr. Meighen retorted.

Hon. T. A. Cramer thought the Government would have been well advised to have brought in a bill of permanent character. The Government was taking a fair and defensible position in asking the advice of Parliament. Members were sent to Ottawa as representatives of the people, and not to indulge in party combat across the floor.

Military Parade Yesterday Witnessed by Thousands

The Soldiers in Camp at the Exhibition Grounds Brighton and Victoria Park Turned Out in Splendid Order and Attended Divine Service at Several City Churches.

The military church parades yesterday morning of the P.E.I. Light Horse, 1st Battalion P.E.I. Light Infantry and No. 8 Signal Company was witnessed with pleasure by thousands of citizens who thronged the streets, many of them accompanying the soldiers to divine service at the various churches. The warm sunshine and clear sky made the day an ideal one for parades of this nature and the splendid order and discipline maintained by even the new recruits among the soldiers spoke admirably for the efficiency of the brief training they have already received under canvas.

The Light Horse.

The three squadrons of the P.E.I. Light Horse under the command of Lieut. Col. W. C. Cook, parading from their camp at the Exhibition Grounds to the Methodist Church, was undoubtedly one of the long time in this city. "A" Squadron was commanded by Maj. F. I. Andrew, M.M., "B" Squadron by Maj. L. T. Lowther and "C" Squadron by Maj. W. H. Poole.

On arriving at the Methodist Church the troops dismounted, those of the Roman Catholic faith breaking off and marching to St. Dunstan's Cathedral while the remainder proceeded into the Methodist Church, occupying the central pews. The other pews were filled by the large congregation of visitors.

The service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Glendenning, assisted by the army chaplain, Major J. C. Martin, who preached an eloquent sermon from Exodus 17:12-13: "But Moses' hands were heavy; and they took a stone, and put it under his arm, and he sat there; and Aaron and Hur stayed on either side of him, and his hands were steady until the going down of the sun, and Joshua discomfited Amalek and his people with the edge of the sword."

Mrs. D. L. Hooper

The whole community was saddened yesterday on learning of the death of Mrs. D. L. Hooper of this city, which occurred Saturday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. D. MacBeath, in Moncton. The late Mrs. Hooper had gone some three weeks ago to the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, for treatment. She was accompanied by her daughter, Miss Vera. For some time hope was entertained of her recovery but on Wednesday last she left for home and stopped off at the daughter's, Mrs. MacBeath at Moncton, where she passed peacefully away on Saturday. The late Mrs. Hooper was a most lovable lady, and had a host of friends in the city and country who will miss her sorely.

She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John W. Robinson of Brackley Point and leaves to mourn one son, Major Parker Hooper, who was at Petawawa but arrived in Moncton yesterday and will accompany the body to Charlottetown this evening; and two daughters, Muriel, (Mrs. MacBeath) and Miss Vera; also sisters and brothers besides numerous relatives and friends. The funeral arrangements will be announced later. The Guardian tenders deepest sympathy to the bereaved family.

- Under the command of Lieut. Col. C. J. Stewart, M.C., the 1st Battalion P.E.I. Light Infantry (105th Battalion, C.E.F.) paraded in splendid order from Brighton Camp to Zion Presbyterian Church and St. Dunstan's Cathedral, headed by the pipe and brass bands of the battalion. At Grafton St. corner the parade divided, the Roman Catholic soldiers, under the command of Major Strong, headed by the brass band, proceeding to St. Dunstan's Cathedral and the remainder marching to Zion Church, where the service was conducted by the chaplain, Capt. G. C. Taylor.
- Capt. Taylor preached from Psalm 72, 16: "There shall be a handful of corn in the earth upon the top of the mountains; the fruit thereof shall shake like Lebanon and they of the city shall flourish like grass of the earth." He applied this text to the marvelous extension of the British Empire and dwelt upon the heritage of every British subject, emphasizing the responsibilities which go with the privilege of this heritage. He appealed to the returned men present to carry the qualities of courage and endurance they learn on active service into Canadian citizenship and of the new recruits he desired that they would grasp the spirit of the men who made the great sacrifice in the war.
- At St. Dunstan's Cathedral W. T. Trainor celebrated his first High Mass before a large congregation. Rev. Father Rooney acted as deacon, Rev. R. McKenzie as sub-deacon and Rev. Maurion McDonald as master of ceremonies. An inspiring sermon was preached by Rev. F. Mulhally, who took as his text the words of Christ: "I am the good shepherd." After church service the infantry parade from Zion Church, marched up Grafton Street to Hughes' Corner, the salute being taken at the Square by Col. Stewart. On being joined by the Roman Catholic detachment the parade proceeded along Queen Street and thence to camp. Many laudatory comments were heard upon the efficient marching and the parade throughout was witnessed with keen interest as it proceeded.
- The Signallers.
- No. 8 Signal Company under command of Maj. K. S. Rogers, breaking off from the infantry parade at Pownall Street, proceeded to St. James' Church, where the service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Mulhally, who preached from 2nd Timothy 2: 3: "Thou therefore endure hardness, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ."
- The preacher pointed out that St. Paul, who spoke these words, had himself led a soldier's life, keeping order not only among the Romans but among the different conquered tribes of the Empire. While the world today has had more than enough of war, still the qualities of a good soldier are in demand and the appliances of war are necessary for the maintenance of peace and order. The Christian world cannot shut its eyes today to the menace of the Mohammedan and Yellow races nor to the degenerate and revolutionary tendencies which threaten its destruction. The qualities of good soldiership the speaker said, are: 1st, loyalty; 2nd, physical and moral discipline; and 3rd, physical and moral courage. While the soldier's life is freed from many of the conventionalities which make for moral profligacy, there is nevertheless that wonderful "esprit des corps" and "morale" which can be built only upon faith and courage and the possession of these Christian qualities is a leading trait in the character of the great soldiers of the war; for when a man is a good soldier of Christ he is usually a good soldier of his country.
- Splendid Choir Music
- In all the churches yesterday the parading soldiers were treated to magnificent choir music which formed a feature of the services very much appreciated.
- Citizens were hoping to see yesterday a parade of officers and men of H.M.S. Raleigh to St. Paul's Church or St. Peter's Cathedral but church service was held, as usual in the navy, on board the cruiser.
