HASZARD'S GAZETTE.

Wednesday, April 12, 1854.

HENRY LONGWORTH,
GEORGE TWEEDY,
JOHN THORN, } Judges.

Mr. Stark commenced, on Wednesday evening last, a course of Lectures on Agricultural Chemistry, in the lower room of the Temperance Hall, before a large audience, among which, we numbered the Lieut. Governor, several members of both Houses of the Legislature, the Judges of the Supreme Court, and several of the most respectable inhabitants of Charlottetown, many Ladies were also present. The lecture which was merely introductory, gave great and universal satisfaction; and, as Mr. Stark's manner is prepossessing, and his delivery good, we promise ourselves much entertainment and instruction from an attendance on the course. We were sorry to find that the learned lecturer labored under indisposition.

Hon. Mr. Holl, at the close of the lecture, moved a vote of thanks to His Excellency, the Lieut. Governor, for his condescension in attending on this occasion and the interest uniformly displayed by him, for the agricultural and other improvements of the Colony, which was carried by acclamation.

It was announced, that there would be a lecture, on Wednesday, 19th inst., and the two succeeding Wednesdays.

TO THE EDITOR OF HASZARD'S GAZETTE.

Sir,—As a general rule, I have always thought it best to refrain from replying to anonymous attacks, or personal observations of every kind, and it is only because I know the hand too well to be deceived, that I think it even now at all worth the while to take notice of your correspondent W's letter. There is a blandness and gentleness of style in it which cannot easily be counterfeited, and as I have tasted the dish before, I think I am not likely to be mistaken in the flavor. The modesty which has induced him to conceal his name, whilst occupied in making a personal attack, is of the same amiable cast as the production itself, and I will not therefore, attempt to deprive him of all the glory and satisfaction, which his pleasing production must necessarily afford to himself and admirers.

I shall therefore, merely give the public, two quotations from a book of some authority called "William John Lawson's History of Banking," the first from page 173 of the Boston edition 1852, and which is as follows :—"In Scotland where there are no Government Savings Banks, the accumulations of the frugal, are paid into the joint stock Banks, and by them diffused in facilitating commercial operations in the neighbourhood in which the money is collected, amongst these there have been no failures, whilst on the contrary, among the English and Irish Savings Banks, numerous failures have taken place, many of them accompanied with serious and lamentable consequences to the unfortunate depositors."

The Second is from page 236. "The second branch of deposits consists, of small sums placed in the hands of the banks at interest, which are generally the savings of industrious mechanics, servants, &c., and which are placed in the banks to accumulate, and on which the parties may operate, not in the nature of a current account, but may receive a partial repayment whenever they please."

"This branch of their business appears to be an extention of our Savings Banks. The depositors go to the bank half yearly or quarterly, and deposit the savings of their labor, which with the interest that has accrued from their previous deposits is added to the principal. In this way it goes on accumulating, until the sum reaches the amount which the depositor has calculated will be sufficient to effect the object for which the deposit was first begun, when the whole is withdrawn." This may be all preeminently absurd, in the estimation of the corteous and humble minded W. but it is nevertheless stated as fact, in a work written expressly for the purpose of giving information upon banking affairs and which is highly commended for its accuracy and faithfulness in the London Banker's Magazine.

I am Sir,
Your obedient Stewart,
CHARLES HENSLEY.

TO THE EDITOR OF HASZARD'S GAZETTE.

Sir,—T. H. Haviland Esq., never spoke words more true, than when he said that part of our Island press was conducted in a most licentious manner. This was recalled most forcibly to my mind on persuing the last Advertiser: in that paper there is a short paragraph concerning N. Conroy Esq., which is couched in the most base and vile language imaginable. Only once have I seen such blackguard composition in a newspaper, and that was in a paper called "The Life in Boston" which was shown to me by a friend during a recent visit to New York. Both my friend and I expressed our mutual abhorrence that the noble art of printing should be so debased by men (if I may so call them) who could put such productions through the press.

Throughout the whole of Mr. Pippy's career in the conducting of newspapers, he has shewed a decided tendency to imitate the above mentioned Journal. He is by such conduct losing patronage very fast. It was only the other day when in conversation with a very respectable tradesman, that I witnessed the contempt in which such writings are held; he told me that in consequence of the manner in which the Advertiser was conducted of late, he would be forced to withdraw his subscription as he could not think of introducing such a paper into a family. Trusting that those hastily penned remarks will have the effect of drawing the attention of the community to this growing evil I remain your's,

A SUBSCRIBER.

Twelvetrees Brothers' Soap Powder

(an entirely new invention.)

IS the cheapest, safest, best, and most effectual article for all washing purposes, a packet of which is equal to ten Pennyworth of Soap!

The saving of Time and Labour is so astonishingly great, that a WEEK'S WASH can be accomplished BEFORE BREAKFAST—no rubbing being required.

This wonderful Article is MORE SERVICEABLE THAN SOAP, as it produces a better and much quicker lather, and is adapted for purposes for which Soap cannot be safely or effectually used.

It will not injure the hands, or the most delicate material; but whilst it is incomparable for permanently whitening Linens, &c., after they have become discoloured by age, or injured by bad Washing, it is also unsurpassable for improving the colors of FLANNELS, BLANKETS, WOOLLENS, COLORED PRINTS, MUSLIN and LACE.
