

MacGregor-Bowley Wedding

Trinity United Church, Charlottetown, was the scene of a quiet wedding on June 7th, when Rev. J. T. Irwin performed the double ring ceremony at the marriage of Miss Miriam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hudson Bowley, Charlottetown, and George Harrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester MacGregor, Kingston, P. E. I. Mr. Raymond Player rendered appropriate music for the occasion. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an informal bridal dress of white net over tulle with shoulder-length veil. She carried a bouquet of red roses. Her bridesmaid, Mrs. Harold Hunter, was becomingly attired in powder blue net over nylon with matching bandeau and carried a bouquet of snapdragon. Mr. Harold Hunter supported the groom and Mr. Melvin MacKinnon ushered the guests. The bride's mother wore a dress of Queen Elizabeth blue crepe with white accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses, while the groom's mother chose a dress of aqua crepe trimmed with lace, white accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Following the ceremony, a buffet luncheon was served at the home of the bride's parents. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Harold Hunter and responded to by the groom. The tea cups were presided over by Mrs. George Cobb and Mrs. Jean MacKinnon. Assisting in serving were Misses Mary MacKinnon, Edith Brown, Esther Johnson, and Mrs. Leonard Wynn. The happy couple then left for a short visit to Calais, Maine. For travelling, the bride chose a beige suit with white accessories and carried a powder blue shortie coat. The bride, until recently employed by the Maritime Electric Company, while the groom is an employee on the staff of Canada Packers. Previous to her marriage, the bride was tendered a shower at the home of Miss Esther Johnston, where she received many useful gifts.

Stevenson-Beaton Wedding

Beaton of "Seven Acres", Winchester, N.H., was married to Roland Chester Stevenson, son of Mrs. Eva Stevenson, Westminister, Mass. and the late Edgar N. Stevenson. Rev. Enoch Olsen of Danbury, Conn. performed the ceremony. Helen M. Beaton of St. Paul, Minn., sister of the bride, was maid of honour and Evelyn J. I. Beaton of Stamford, Conn., also a sister, was bridesmaid. Pattie Crowe of Shrewsbury, Mass., niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. Best man was Thomas Crowe of Shrewsbury, Mass., brother-in-law of the bridegroom, while ushers were Jack Beaton of Danbury, Conn., brother of the bride, and Robert N. Foster of Fitchburg, Mass., brother-in-law of the bridegroom. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an off white slipper satin gown with yoke of silk tulle trimmed with bead work and seed pearls, fitted bodice and full skirt terminating in a long train. Her veil of silk tulle was attached to a coronet of orange blossom seed pearls and she carried an arm bouquet of white roses. The church was decorated with white gladioli. Mrs. Enoch Olsen, soloist, sang, "The Love of God" and "Follow, I Will Follow Thee". A reception on the lawn at the bride's home, attended by 85 guests, followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson left for a wedding trip through the Blue Ridge Mountains. For travelling the bride wore a two-piece navy dress, over which she wore a fur neck-piece, and white accessories. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson will temporarily reside in Westminister, Mass. Out of town guests were present from Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick, Mt. Vernon, N.Y., New York City, Stamford, Conn., Port Chester, N.Y., Saugerties, N.Y. and Keene, N.H.

Bedtime Snack solves laxative problem

"Constipation made me sullen all day. What a change since I started to use ALL-BRAN regularly! Even my wife notices it!" writes man from Ville Montmorency, Que. If you suffer from irregularity due to lack of bulk, try a bowlful of this toast cereal every night before bed. It may bring back the youthful regularity you thought long lost. ALL-BRAN is the only type ready-to-eat cereal that supplies all the bulk you need. It's high in protein and iron. Not habit-forming. Kellogg's is so sure you'll like ALL-BRAN that if you're not completely satisfied after 10 days, send empty carton to Kellogg's, London, Ont., and get DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK!

Attention - School Trustees and Teachers

Because of the teacher shortage, it will be necessary to issue a number of permits for the coming school year. Qualified teachers should, therefore, see that their engagement is arranged with their districts on or before July 15 after which date applications for permits will be considered by the Department. J. WALTER JONES, Minister of Education.

Bowers-Blake Nuptials in Honolulu

In a double ring ceremony in Honolulu recently, Miss Mary Agnes Blake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Gordon Strachan Blake, became the bride of Francis Andrew Inakant Bowers Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis A. I. Bowers, Chaplain Kenneth Rewick of Punahou read the service before an altar banked with dark green monstera leaves which were accented with the gray-green of kukui foliage. The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. The aisle was marked with pink and white plumeria blossoms and lighted tapers in tall candelabra. She wore a classic ivory satin gown with sweetheart neckline, long fitted sleeves and formal train, which had been worn by her cousin, Mrs. Charles Worthington Robertson, at her wedding. The bride's double veil of ivory tulle bordered by heirloom rose point lace belonged to her grandmother, Lady Dawson Johnston. She carried ivory and pink roses with sprays of honeysuckle. Mrs. Albert Evensen was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Robertson, Miss Velma Blaisdell, Miss Merrie Stacey and Miss Emma Aluli. Among the relatives attending the wedding were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. S. B. Pratt, who was dressed in navy blue crepe and wore a gardenia corsage. Francis A. I. Bowers served as his son's best man. The guests were seated by John and Harry P. Field Jr., Douglas Gardner, Vernon Knight, Wallace Doty and George Richardson Jr. After the wedding a reception was held, during which Ke Kall Nel Au, the Hawaiian wedding song, was sung. Mrs. Bowers Jr. attended Hanalei and graduated from Punahou school and Smith college in Northampton, Mass., later attending the University of Hawaii School of Social Work. The bridegroom graduated from Punahou school and the University of Hawaii and attended Stanford University Law School. Strange But True

The thunder-lizard of prehistoric times was ten times the size of an elephant, with a small head and deep set eyes. More curious still were the armored dinosaurs. These amazing animals possessed hard long bony plates and spines. Some of them had horns in front, and strange but true, one kind had a row of large plates standing up all along his back and a long, slender tail with a couple of sharp spines near its end! All of these creatures laid eggs in the sand where the heat of the sun incubated them. Too, there were flying dragons, forerunners of the birds. These curious creatures glided from place to place in much the same manner as a bat or flying squirrel do in our time. They had a wing spread of about thirty feet, the wings ending in terrible claws. In those days one did not have to be an alcoholic to see lots of strange and startling creatures on land, in the air, and in the water. Indeed, they were everywhere, and the wonder is how men ever managed to get a foothold on this planet, considering their number, size and fierceness.

Seaman - Reid Wedding

On Saturday, June 28th the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gavin Reid, Victoria Cross, P. E. I., was the scene of a pretty wedding when their daughter, Thelma Lee, was united in marriage to David Alexander, son of Mrs. Seaman and the late Alexander C. Seaman, of Brackley Point, P. E. I. Rev. F. N. Young performed the ceremony. The bride, given in marriage by her father, entered the drawing room to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Anna MacLaren. She wore a street length dress of mist blue lace with fitted bodice, flared skirt and bolero styled jacket. A floral designed hat and white accessories completed her ensemble and she carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses. Her only attendant, Miss Eileen Sanderson, wore a pink nylon net dress with matching gloves, flower hat and carried a mixed bouquet of roses and snapdragon. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Heath Seaman. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Reid chose a figured nylon dress with black accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. The groom's mother wore a black sheer dress with black and white accessories and corsage of white roses. Following the ceremony, the immediate relatives and friends enjoyed a delicious buffet lunch served by Misses Lois Mutch, Joyce Mackay and Dorothy Gibson. The toast to the bride and groom was made by Miss Lois Mutch, friend of the bride. The guests were entertained during the evening with piano selections by Miss MacLaren. The happy young couple left on a honeymoon trip to the Cabot Trail and other points of interest in the Maritimes. Out-of-town guests attending the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Heath Seaman, Halifax, N. S. The many friends of David and Thelma join in wishing them many years of happiness. Prior to her marriage, the bride was entertained at a miscellaneous shower by Misses Joyce Mackay and Dorothy Gibson at the latter's home in Marshfield. Many beautiful and useful gifts were received, testifying to the popularity of the bride-to-be.

Most people use toothpicks to dislodge particles of food from between their teeth. But Norman Cooper of Nashville, Tenn., builds toothpicks into all manner of strange and beautiful objects. What many believe to be Cooper's outstanding work is a model of the Eiffel Tower. This big little job took 30,000 toothpicks and 500 working hours. The miniature tower is 7 1/2 feet tall. Sickness let Cooper into this unique hobby. When he started toothpicking his way to fame his nerves were shattered. Now he is okay and recommends his hobby to all nervous people. Among Cooper's collections is a model church, which used up 5,000 picks, a forest fire observation tower, a huge swing, a playground slide, bridges and power line towers. Cooper also has a toothpick ferris wheel which used up 15,000 pieces.

Address and Presentation

A large congregation met at the St. John's United Church, Mt. Stewart, following the morning service in honour of Mr. B. W. Thurber, student pastor. Mr. Kenneth Jay, elder, read the following address, and Mr. Harold Affleck presented Mr. Thurber with a well-filled purse. Dear Mr. Thurber: As your six months' pastorate amongst us is drawing to a close, we felt we could not let you slip away from us without our good wishes for you in the days that lie ahead. You have given us of your best in the church and your inspiring sermons will not soon be forgotten, as you always kept the great goal in sight, that the way of the cross leads home. In the Sunday School you have given the children the chance to take part in reading and announcements and prayer that has been a spiritual uplift to them, we hope may bear fruit in later life. In the Young People's Union you have kept them together and directed their time in praiseworthy work in studying of the scriptures and sing-songs, and we are proud of all your work. You have kept our congregation together and all our work kept up for the new Pastor. And now Mr. Thurber as you are about to leave us for a time you may ever be guided from on high in your new field of labor, and when you further your education your old

Noted Composer To Vacation Here

Mr. Geoffrey O'Hara, of Pawling, New York, internationally known composer, accompanied by Mrs. O'Hara, will arrive on Prince Edward Island this week to spend a short holiday visit here. Mr. O'Hara, while born a Canadian, has lived many years in the United States where he has attained a high place among composers, having published several hundred songs and operettas, which have been sung by many of the most famous singers of the world, including the great Caruso. Mr. O'Hara's first success was with the well-known song "K-K-K-Katy" which was sung by the Allied Troops during the First World War, around the world. Caruso sang for record "Your Eyes Have Told Me", and other famous songs written by Mr. O'Hara include "There is No Death" and "Give a Man a Horse He Can Ride." This will be the first visit to the Island of Mr. and Mrs. O'Hara and they will spend their holidays at Dalway where they will be joined by Mr. O'Hara's brother, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. T. O'Hara of Ottawa. Friends in Mt. Stewart will be ready to welcome you back as the Rev. B. W. Thurber. Please accept this little gift from your well wishers of St. John's United Church, Mt. Stewart.
