

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

SEPTEMBER 24, 1889.

Notes and Clippings.

A Quebec despatch says that nearly all the workmen on the Bois de Chaleurs railway are out on strike for want of pay.

Toronto Empire:—"On the 10th of January, 1850, the Toronto Globe characterized the clear grit party as a 'little miserable clique of office-seeking, bunkum-talking, hypocritical.'" In thirty-nine years the party hasn't changed much, and answers pretty well to the description at the present hour.

It is expected that the United States expenditure on war pensions for the current year will amount to $110,000,000. Commenting upon this, the Halifax Mail says: Were Canada annexed to that country, therefore, either practically or commercially, we would have the privilege of contributing about $9,000,000 a year to support the "veterans" in a war in which we had not a particle of interest. At the same time we would have the privilege of raising all the money required by our provincial governments by direct taxation. These are some of the "reforms" that the grit party are working to effect.

Notwithstanding the fact that an act prohibiting the importation of Chinese into the United States is in operation, there is little or no effort made to interfere with the traffic, which is steadily increasing. One day last week the steamer Galic landed 169 at San Francisco. Of this number twenty-four were women, who were landed on writs of habeas corpus as the wives of merchants. The popular belief, however, is that they were brought over for immoral purposes. The Chinese slave traffic is a growing business on the Pacific Coast. Girls are bought from their parents for from $100 to $300, on the promise that they will be brought there and married. On their arrival they pass through the habeas corpus mill, and disposed of for $1,500 to $2,000 and placed in respectable houses. The collector at that port says he will try to stop this traffic, if he has to go into court himself.

Careless Driving.

A CITIZEN UPSET AND BADLY INJURED BY THE STUPID DRIVER OF A TRUCK-WAGON.

On Thursday night about half-past nine o'clock, as Mr. C. B. Warren, the well-known boot and shoe dealer, and his eldest daughter, were returning home from a visit to some friends in the country, their carriage came into collision with a truck-wagon driven by a careless countryman, and both occupants were thrown violently to the ground. At the time of the disaster Mr. Warren was driving carefully along on his own side of the road—as far down as he could get. The night was very dark. Knowing well that no person coming from town had any business on the side of the road upon which he was driving, he had no apprehension of danger from collision. Just as he arrived at Spring Park the big truck-wagon referred to loomed up directly in front of him, coming along at a snail's pace. He made an effort to avoid the collision which he saw was inevitable. But the effort was in vain. Regardless of consequences the countryman kept on his way. The two teams met. Mr. Warren's conveyance being the lighter, was soon overturned and the occupants spilled out on the roadside. As quickly as possible they picked themselves up. The little girl was fortunately not hurt, but badly frightened. Mr. Warren was badly shaken up and every bone in his body was aching. The pony's feet were scratched, and the carriage was pretty well battered. The countryman, whose stupidity was the cause of the disaster, drove off without making any attempt to render assistance or to find out if any one was hurt or killed. Mr. Warren and his daughter got home the best way they could. So stiff and sore was the former on arrival that it was with the greatest difficulty he unharnessed the horse. He slept little that night. The next morning he was much worse and called in Dr. Beer. That gentleman, upon examination, found that one of Mr. Warren's ribs were broken, that his back was badly strained and that his entire system had received a bad shaking up. The doctor did all he could for the injured man, who, we are pleased to learn, is now doing well. His injuries, however, will necessitate his confinement to bed for some time. Mr. Warren does not know the name of the countryman who did him so much harm, as the night was dark, and he ran off in a very cowardly manner. He remembers, however, that he had a second horse hitched behind the wagon. Perhaps this may furnish a clue to his identity. We hope it will. Such criminal carelessness and stupidity on the part of any person deserves the strongest condemnation. We trust that the stupid coward who was the cause of the disastrous accident to Mr. Warren will be found out and that he will be punished as he deserves.

Personal.

Captain Edward Palmer, jr., left on return to Victoria, B. C., this morning.

Alexander Martin, M. P. P., is at the Osborne.

The Lieut.-Governor will open the Exhibition at Summerside to-morrow, and the Exhibition at Georgetown on Thursday. Mrs. Carvell will accompany him.

The many friends of Kenneth McMillan, late with Messrs. Miller Bros., music dealers of this city, will regret to learn that owing to failing health he has been advised to seek a change of climate. He left by this morning's train for Colorado, accompanied by his wife and child.

Newfoundland News.—The Halifax Mail says:—Reports received by the steamer Harlow from the Straits of Belle Isle of the herring fishery are somewhat discouraging. A large fleet of vessels from different parts of Canada and Newfoundland have been on the coast some five or six weeks, many of which are now leaving without any fish. Codfish are fairly plentiful but bait difficult to obtain. Capt. Farquhar states that he had much difficulty in making the different ports on the north of Newfoundland owing to dense smoke caused by large fires in the country, no rain having fallen for some weeks.

If you could see your own scalp through an ordinary magnifying glass, you would be amazed at the amount of dust, dandruff, and dead skin thereon accumulated. The best and most popular preparation for cleansing the scalp is Ayer's Hair Vigor.

The Forest Fires.

The fires up west are practically out, no serious consequences being now anticipated from those smouldering in the saw dust. From Port Hill to O'Leary, the course of the fire, the country looks desolate indeed. But were it not for the heavy rainfall of Thursday evening, the destruction of property would have been much greater. It came just in time.

Besides the property already mentioned in THE EXAMINER as being destroyed we hear that Robinson's mills at Emoro River were burnt down.

The Haywards removed all the machinery from their mills at Mill River, believing that the building was doomed. But the rain came just in time to stay the progress of the flames, and the mills were saved. The damage to the railway track has been made all right and trains are running on time.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

"Rip" Heard From.

SIR,—I understand that certain parties are making capital against me because of my absence on Friday night last, when the almost successful attempt was made by a young man, under the influence of beer, to abduct the horse and buggy, which, during the past summer, has been under my immediate supervision, which attempt, owing to my absence, would have been successful had not certain parties interfered. In order to place myself right before the proper authorities, and to correct any misunderstanding, I wish to state that my absence was owing to my being the victim of a conspiracy; for on the evening in question, I received from the abductors a nice wing of a chicken, which I was away enjoying when the attempted abduction took place. I now see that the sending me the repast was the beginning of a plot, which, thanks to the agility of my master, was nipped in the bud, and ended in the confusion of the guilty parties. I wish now to notify all others that, for the remainder of the season, I intend to remain at my post, and, under no circumstances will I be absent.

Yours sincerely, but sorrowfully,
RIP.

Boston Markets.

BOSTON, Sept. 19.

Eggs.—The market has not been quite so active as last week, but there has been a very good demand for all choice new laid goods. Choice Island marks are in demand at 20 cents.

POTATOES.—Potatoes advanced about five cents during the week, and the market is firm. Receipts are quite liberal.

FISH.—The receipts of mackerel are still very light, and the market is firm at the following prices:—

Table with 2 columns: Item and Price. Includes Mackerel, extra shore # bbl., No. 1, No. 2, No. 3 large rimmed, No. 3 plain, English.

The quotation for canned mackerel and lobsters are,—

Table with 2 columns: Item and Price. Includes Canned Mackerel, 1 lb. tins labelled per doz., Canned Lobsters, 1 lb. tins, labelled, new, per doz.

Charlottetown Markets.

There was a good attendance at the market to-day. Butter (fresh) was scarce at 22 to 24 cents per lb. Other prices were about the same as last market day. Below we quote:—

NOTICE.—We direct the attention of our readers to the sale of Westlaw, the property of Wm Rayden, Esq., a notice of which appears in our columns, to be sold on the 4th of Oct. next. This is one of the most desirable residences in the city, and a rare chance is afforded to any one wishing to purchase a first class house.

Address to Colonel Moore and Team.

In the sport and play of war
You have more than held your own;
Over Canada afar
Wide your worthy deeds are known.

Winners of the cannon-shift
On Quebec's historic plains,
You have given our Isle a lift,
Your successes are our gains.

For there yet are some who think
We are on some sandy pen,
Huddling close to 'scape the brink
Of our little eight by ten.

And that nothing should they fear
From the herd of eight by ten;
What than this can be more clear,—
Little sandbank, little men.

But you've more than held your place
With the men of larger lands;
You, the winners of the race,
Welcome to your native sands!

In the sport and play of war
You do well, and have our praise;
Oh! should strife our quiet mar,
Should we fall on other days.

Should grim War, with unmasked face,
Stalk before us threateningly,
Would you boldly give him chase,
Or, like cowards, turn and flee?

Shall it e'er be said of you,—
"When 'twas sport, right brave were they;
When 'twas earnest, sternly true,
They were timid of the fray."

For, as schooldays are a lease
To win knowledge for the life,
So 'tis yours in time of peace
To prepare for coming strife.

Ah, not yet have come the days
Seen by poet's glance afar,
When Red Mars should dim his blaze
And earth own a kindlier star.

Star of peace and pledged good will,—
All against one foe combined,
Raging Passion, Brooded Ill—
The long scourge of human kind

O'er a surer Eden then
Justice her fair sway shall hold;
Joy return to earth again,—
Golden days, for lust of gold!

CARD.

TO THE LADIES OF CHARLOTTETOWN AND VICINITY:—I will be in Charlottetown the first week in October. I bring with me the FAMOUS ORANGE BLOSSOM, the newly discovered treatment for delicate ladies. It is perfectly harmless, and can be used by the most delicate at any and all times. It works like a charm, and often removing pain with the first application. I would like to meet as many ladies as can make it convenient to call, as my time is limited.

Yours very truly,
L. A. CARLYLE.
