

Bid Is Made To Increase Oil Exports

DALLAS (CP) — Canada must increase exports of oil to the United States or else reduce its imports from the U.S., Energy Minister Pepin said here.

"To date we have managed to balance the books with you and contribute to your balance of payments situation," he told the Independent Petroleum Association of America.

"Sound business, however, calls for you to buy more from us if we have suitable commodities that you need. If we have not, we must purchase less from you.

"And our oil is such a commodity which we have available now and far into the future."

He told the oilmen that Canada has shown "its capacity to extend its exports without causing disruptions in your markets," and "our actions will continue to be responsible and honorable ones."

LOOK FOR OIL IN CANADA
Mr. Pepin also invited them to join the exploration drive for oil in Western Canada and join "in the fun" of the free and competitive market in Eastern Canada east of the Ottawa Valley.

Turning to natural gas, Mr. Pepin said Canada's recent decision to allow Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd. to run a line through the U.S.—provided, it gets permission from the U.S.—was not a blow to the amity between the two nations on energy trade.

"Nor does this decision mean that Canada will not wish to export further volumes of natural gas when and if it is apparent that there are surplus supplies in Canada and American consumers desire to purchase this surplus."

But Canada is committing reserves to domestic markets for periods of as long as 30 years "so that the reserves which are available for export are limited."

Text of his speech was released to the press in advance of delivery.

NDP Advised To Act Like Major Party

HALIFAX (CP) — Chief Ashfield, Atlantic provinces organizer for the New Democratic Party, says the NDP should begin to act more like a major party, particularly in the Atlantic region.

"We must not be deluded into thinking that ours is a policy which is going to sweep away the two old parties overnight," he said.

Addressing the Nova Scotia NDP's third annual convention Saturday, Mr. Ashfield criticized Nova Scotia's Liberal leader Gerald Regan and Premier Smallwood of Newfoundland.

Referring to Mr. Smallwood, he said, "Joy is quite a man. He has an egomania which is quite without parallel in the Western world."

He said the premier's telephone number is the only non-seven-digit number in St. John's. "To call Mr. Smallwood you dial the letters Joy."

Mr. Ashfield said Mr. Regan has been going from one community to another making lavish promises which could not be kept.

The convention called for a shake up in the administration of educational, health, welfare and judicial services in Nova Scotia. It said the provincial government should assume full responsibility for these services, including both capital and operating costs.

BRISTOL

With Halloween at hand again, James Conohan, who is retired now, tells us its more than fifty years since he and the late Jim Moore pushed a two-wheel cart into the old starch factory pond as a trick, not knowing the old style cart would float off the wheels and the wheels and axle rolled away into the middle of the pond where they were not located for a long time. Its one trick they never forgot on Halloween.

Mrs. Belle Gauthier and daughter who have been here for the summer months in the old home are leaving shortly for Toronto, where they spend the winter months with a son Aeneas and Mrs. Gauthier.

INSURE CHANNEL ACCESS

PARIS (Reuters) — Britain and France pledged Friday to guarantee unrestricted access to the proposed Channel rail tunnel, which British Transport Minister Barbara Castle hopes will be operational by the end of 1975. The pledge is contained in a communique issued after talks between Mrs. Castle and her French colleague, Edgar Pisani. Cost of the tunnel between England and France is estimated at £135,000,000 to £170,000,000 ($465,000,000 to $510,000,000)—to be financed by private capital with the participation of public money if it is thought desirable.
