

THE DAILY EXAMINER. DECEMBER 23, 1892.

The Kindergarten.

The name—like most German names—is happily suggestive. Our children are the young plants and the school is the garden.

Elected by Acclamation.

The President of the Council and the Solicitor-General in the new Administration have been elected by acclamation.

The Senator and the Guardian.

There are only two or three points in the Guardian's elaborate reference to the Palmer-Howlan affair; and they are very little ones.

The Springhill Strike.

The Springhill strike is still going on. The schools have been closed for want of fuel.

St. James' Church—Call Accepted.

At the meeting of the St. John Presbytery, held yesterday, Rev. T. F. Fullerton, of Calvin Church, accepted the call to St. James' Church, Charlottetown.

Chapleau's Successor.

Pierre Leclaire, advocate of Montreal, has been selected by the Conservative convention to replace Chapleau.

Accident.

During yesterday's civic election Ald. Dawson was thrown from his carriage while driving to the polls.

THE MARKET.—The display of beef and other meats today by Messrs. Blake Bros., Saunders & Campbell, George Thorne and John Drake, besides many country butchers, was excellent in every way.

One feature in the vegetable market was a lot of Brussels sprouts which were for sale at the stall of Mr. McKinnon, gardener, Royalty. Eggs were on sale at 22 to 25 cents per doz. In butter the supply was small at 20 cents per lb. Geese were in good supply, and sold well at 60 to 80 cents each.

Turkeys were in good supply at 70 cents to $1.45 each. Chickens brought from 30 to 45 cents per pair. The attendance of country people was small, owing to the inclemency of the weather and the not overly good condition of the roads.

CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS.

Closing Exercises at the Schools.

WEST KENT STREET SCHOOL.

The new flag of West Kent Street School might be seen floating proudly to the breeze this morning to denote the closing of the school for the Christmas holidays.

The improvement in the singing was very noticeable. We understand that this is due to the instruction of Miss Ashley and Mr. J. K. Ross, who have taken a special interest in this important branch.

Another leading feature of the exercises was the march drill by an infant class under Mr. Vance—which would do credit to any of our volunteer companies.

The marching was excellent, which, by the way, is done to the beat of a big drum—a new acquisition to the school.

Lorne Robinson—quite a youthful pupil of the school—presided at the organ very efficiently.

The following programme was rendered:

- Chorus..... School Recitation..... Lulu Nicholson Recitation..... Fred Worth Chorus..... Infant Class Recitation..... Ernest Hodgson Recitation..... Louis Wakefield Singing..... Infant Class Recitation..... Eddie Williams Salutatory..... Malcolm Stewart Recitation..... Somerled McLeod Chorus..... Number of Boys Recitation..... Ernest Mitchell Dialogue..... Carlyle McLeod and Annie Foster Squad Drill..... God Save the Queen.

The teachers were remembered, as usual, on this joyous occasion.

Principal Miller received a handsome carving set.

Mr. R. H. Campbell—A dressing case, a volume of poems, and a handkerchief case.

Mr. E. G. Mattheson—A silver-headed cane.

Mr. J. K. Ross—Silver napkin ring, album and other gifts.

Mr. F. C. M. Loan—Dressing case.

Miss Ashley—Xmas cards.

Miss Wadman—Rose-bowl and booklet.

Miss Currie—Silk handkerchief and other gifts.

Miss Stumbles—Book.

UPPER PRINCE STREET SCHOOL.

The closing exercises before the Christmas holidays and Author's Day were happily combined in Upper Prince Street School. Whittier was the poet of the day.

Maggie James read a capital biographical essay which she had written for the occasion and there were recitations and singing of the poems of the Quaker poet of freedom according to the following programme:

- Chorus—Sound over all waters..... School Essay—Whittier..... Maggie James Recitation—A Sabbath scene..... Adele McLeod Song—The First Noel..... Selected Pupils Recitation—Mary Garvin..... Elsie LeFage Kindergarten Song—Merry Xmas has come Recitation—Because she loved him..... Ethel Pope Chorus—Who fathoms the eternal thought..... School Recitation—Lucy Hooper..... Emma Turner Recitation—The well of Lock Maree..... Maggie Cotton Solo—Charity..... Helen Dawson Recitation—Red River voyageur..... Ethel Reid Kindergarten Song—Merry Xmas..... Recitation—Riding Hood..... Mand Byrne Recitation—Santa Claus man..... Burnie Urquhart Chorus—Shepherds Watching..... School

Mr. T. C. James addressed the pupils upon the question of Author's day, strongly commending the movement and congratulating the school upon the excellence of their entertainment.

Mr. W. L. Cotton followed, briefly complimenting the school and referring to the bright anticipations of Christmas.

Before parting, the teachers received the following gifts:

Mr. Seaman—Half dozen table spoons and breast pin.

Miss Sanddon—Browning's poems.

Miss McNeill—A pair gloves, slippers, cup and saucer and other gifts.

Miss Mitchell—Silk handkerchief, pen and booklet.

Miss Scott—Inks.

Miss Wyatt—Silk handkerchief and bottle perfume.

Miss Gregor—China plate and silk handkerchief.

Miss Brown—Silk handkerchief and bottle perfume.

Miss McMurray—Pictures and cards.

QUEEN SQUARE SCHOOL.

closed to-day for the Christmas holidays at the usual hour. Any special exercises for the occasion took place in the class rooms, as the hall would not be sufficiently comfortable on so cold a day.

Miss Finnessey received some presents of brackets and vases, Mr. Hewlett a cane, and Mr. Smith a lamp, a china plate, cup and saucer.

In the other departments the pupils were requested to devote any money intended for presents to their teachers, to the fund which they are now collecting to obtain a drum for the school.

Personal.

Mr. Walter Lowe and his two daughters have returned from Boston.

I. O. O. F.—Wildy Lodge meets to-night. Nomination of officers and general business.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER.

Clark Wallace's Election Favorably Discussed.

What He Says.

TORONTO, Dec. 23.

The remarks of Grand Master Clarke Wallace after being returned by acclamation are being freely and favorably discussed. He said: "I have accepted the office of Comptroller of Customs, and now I have come to the people of West York to ask approval of my action. Some people object to Sir John Thompson as premier of Canada, not on account of his integrity or devotion to his country and party, but because he is a Roman Catholic. I do not consider that makes any difference at all. There is nothing to prevent a Roman Catholic from being Premier. Again, it is said that I am an Orangeman and cannot consistently take part in the Government presided over by a Roman Catholic. I have been an Orangeman for almost a quarter of a century, and I consider that I am more in accord with the principles of the order than ever before. I have been elevated to the highest position in the gift of the order throughout the world, and yet the advancements I have received have always been political. If Orangemen were so bigoted as people say, I ought not to be and would not be a member of the order. But the principles of the society do not call for any such position."

I. W. N. Baker, M. D., Bristol, says of Malto Peptonized Porter: "Having occasion to test your porter and extract of malt and taraxacum I can highly recommend it, supplying a long felt want to the medical profession, as it combines the fat-producing qualities of malt with the alternative principles of taraxacum and from its composition will easily be retained by the most delicate stomach and consequently prove invaluable in protracted convalescence and all wasting diseases." Dinner and Presentation.

The officers and men of No. 2 Battery entertained Capt. J. A. Longworth (who is retiring from the command of the Battery) at Messrs. A. & C. Quirk's dining-rooms last night.

After full justice had been done to the good things so plentifully provided and so well served by these enterprising caterers, Lieut. Dover, who was in the chair, rose and read a letter of apology from Lieut. Moore, who, though unavoidably absent in body, said that he was present in spirit. He wished to join with the men in the purpose for which they were now met together, and in the feeling of respect and regard which he knew they, every one of them, held towards their retiring captain under whom he had served as gunner, corporal, sergeant and lieutenant for the past ten years; who never broke their heads when they made mistakes, though, no doubt, they often deserved it; and than whom, they knew as well as he did, they would never have a kinder or more painstaking officer,—a friend, a soldier and a man.

The chairman then called on Sergt. Wheat, who read an address to the retiring captain, and presented him, on behalf of the Battery, with an elegant gold-headed cane.

Capt. Longworth responded suitably, expressing his appreciation of this mark of their regard, and his regret at giving up the command, which he only did on account of the pressure of other duties preventing him from giving it the attention it required; and his hope that they would in the future reach the mark that they set before them, and which they had so often touched, both under his predecessor, Capt. (now Colonel) Moore, and under himself—to win and hold the proud position of "the premier battery of Canada."

The following toasts were then drunk and responded to with a right good-will, unalloyed with a jolly good song or two, and some side-splitting comic readings by Capt. Weeks of the Engineers, who was present as a guest:—

The Queen—God Bless Her.

The Naval and Military Forces of the Empire. Responded to by J. H. Bell, Esq. (late Lieut).

The Island Militia.—Responded to by Capt. Weeks.

Song.—Corporal A. Paske.

Our Guest.—Responded to by Capt. Longworth.

Song.—Gunner A. Bruce.

The Brigade Staff.—Responded to by Gunner J. A. McLaren.

Song.—Sergt. Wheat.

Reading.—Capt. Weeks.

The Ladies.—Responded to by Gunner P. Carver.

Volunteer toasts and songs followed.

Mr. (late Sergt.) A. Alley responded on behalf of "former members of the Battery."

The Messrs. Quirk had to account, in reply to "Our Hosts," for the eminently satisfactory and substantial way in which they had performed their important part.

The company broke up in the "next merry meeting," fortified by good cheer and good fellowship against the storm without.

We regret that we are unable to find room to-day for the address presented Captain Longworth.
