N. S. Studies School Costs

HALIFAX CP — A Royal commission will begin "as soon as possible" a study of school construction in Nova Scotia, Education Minister Leonard announced here Tuesday.

Dr. Ira P. Macnab of Halifax, retired general manager of the city's public service commission, heads the three-man commission. Other members are Dennis B. Wright of Middleton, former town supervisor of schools and Fred Musgrave of Ball's Creek, Cape Breton, an employee of Dominion Iron and Steel Ltd., Sydney.

Terms of reference allow the commission to investigate school construction costs, study economy, size and location of schools in relation to operational costs and transportation facilities, and the need for planned construction programs by cities, towns and municipalities.

Arrested For Coin Frauds

BURLINGTON, Ont. (CP—Police arrested two men Monday and charged them with 10 counts of fraud and attempted fraud in connection with the exchange of fake coin rolls for $525 at five banks between here and Toronto.

Charged are Harold J. Currie, 35, and Harry Wallace Currie, 44.

Police said two men dressed in service station uniforms drove from bank to bank, exchanging rolls of metal washers wrapped in bank coin wrappers.

Police said they seized about 300 pounds of washers and 2,000 coin wrappers, and enough equipment to make an estimated $150,000 worth of fake rolls, police estimate. The rolls were made up to look like rolls of 25-cent pieces.

May Fly M.P.'s Past 1,000 Miles

OTTAWA CP — Hope that Commons members residing 1,000 miles or more from Ottawa may receive passes on Trans-Canada Air Lines planes to travel to and from the capital was held out Tuesday by Transport Minister Hees.

James Byrne (L — Kootenay East) had reminded Mr. Hees that when the minister was sitting in opposition he had advocated TCA passes for members living 500 miles or more from Ottawa.

Mr. Hees replied that he had been discussing the matter with TCA President G. R. McGregor and had been "rather startled at the cost to the taxpayer that this would involve."

Passes for a 500-mile-or-more distance from Ottawa would exclude most Ontario members and all those from Quebec and part of the Maritimes, areas which together have most of the Commons' 265 members.

Prov. Tourist Men Blast C.N.R.

OTTAWA (CP)—Provincial delegates closed off a two-day federal-provincial tourist conference Tuesday with a scathing blast at Canadian National Exhibition display facilities.

Delegates appointed John Fisher, executive director of the Canadian Tourist Association, to represent all provinces in getting better display space for provincial promotion at the annual CNE in Toronto.

Mr. Fisher was told to tell the CNE that either all provinces get good display space "centrally located" on the exhibition grounds or none would take part in the fair.

O. L. Vardy, Newfoundland's director of tourist development who sparked the attack against the CNE, said display space allocated to the provinces was "most unsuitable."

"This year British Columbia was stuck in a corner; Quebec blocked off Ontario and we were behind Quebec," said Mr. Vardy.

He said the building allocated the provinces, the CNE administration building, was too far off the beaten track — "our people couldn't find it."

In previous years, facilities were even worse, he said. Three years ago the provincial display centre was "the same as ones used by pitch men across the street, whether they were selling hot dogs or what-all."

GIRLS WORE COATS

The next year the building was so drafty "the girls had to wear coats."

Delegates from transportation companies urged that the Canadian government travel bureau, which now centres its advertising campaign in the United States, go after the European tourist.

Alan Field, bureau director, asked company officials to suggest what countries it would be best to advertise in.

Mr. Field said that with travel restrictions lifted in the United Kingdom the "time was ripe" to go after this market.

W. Gordon Wood, president of the Canadian Tourist Association, and Mr. Fisher asked provincial and private delegates for additional funds for the CTA.

Mr. Wood, vice-president for traffic of Trans - Canada Air Lines, said the association needs an additional $22,000 this year to operate properly. Revenue was $41,000 in 1956.

Federal Resources Minister Alvin Hamilton, conference chairman, said the money should not be given the association through provincial or federal grants, but through membership fee increases.
