

A Few Words on Horses.

WHAT CONSTITUTES A GOOD HORSE.

It cannot be doubted that it requires more than speed to make a desirable road horse. Soundness, endurance, intelligence good disposition, as well as beauty in form and gracefulness in action, are as necessary as speed. For turf purposes, speed and endurance are indispensable, and the least unsoundness will prove fatal. In order to survive through the severe ordeal of training, and the effects of a long and arduous campaign, which calls for the utmost powers of the horse, there must be no soft, spongy bones and joints; no contracted feet; no tendency to cuts spavins or ringbones; no weak tendons or feeble lungs. No matter how much speed the horse may have shown, if they have proven in any way defective, he should be avoided. When trained for the track the least unsoundness will be speedily brought to the surface. Feet and legs, and bones and tendons, and joints and muscles, and heart and lungs and brain and eye must do its part thoroughly in a great horse, and there must be a firmness and a fineness of composition in the animal for him to withstand the tremendous strain that is placed upon him. It is this perfection which enables a horse to endure severe training year after year, profiting by experience and improving with age, that makes the valuable turf horse. It is a quality greater than speed, for whatever amount of speed the horse possesses, it can be depended upon and further improved. No blind devotion to a fashionable pedigree, nor mere promise of speed in youngsters, should induce any person who is an admirer of a good horse to overlook a prevailing tendency to any unsoundness or lack of endurance.

HOW TO CHOOSE A HORSE.

The purchasers of horses for the French army always endeavor to obtain a first look at the animal when he is in the stable, noticing if the animal supports himself equally well on all his legs, and if one seems to yield, especially examining it. Attention is then directed to the largeness of the pupil of the eye, which ought to be more dilated when in the stable, the eye ought to be again examined to see if the pupil has been contracted; if not the sight is feeble. Others, to test the power of vision, feign to strike the forehead with the hand. If the hollow over the eye be profound and the temple gray old age is to be concluded. Wounds about the temples suggest attacks of staggers, and when the end of the nose presents circular scars, it may be concluded the horse has been twitched with a cord to insure his quietness while being shod, or having had to submit to some painful operation.

WATERING HORSES.

Horses should be watered in the morning before they are fed. A full drink of water immediately after being fed is a sure way of producing indigestion, if not inflammation. When water is drunk by horses, the bulk of it goes directly to the large intestines, and little of it is retained in the stomach. Some old and worthless horses, by way of experiment, were fed with split peas, and then supplied with water immediately before being killed. It was found that the water had carried the peas from fifty to sixty feet into the intestines, where no digestion took place at all.

False Impression.

It is generally supposed by physicians and the people generally that Dyspepsia can not invariably be cured, but we are pleased to say that GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER has never, to our knowledge, failed to cure Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint in all its forms, such as Sour Stomach, Costiveness, Sick Headache, palpitation of the heart, Indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, &c. Out of the 50,000 dozen bottles sold last year, not a single failure was reported, but thousands of complimentary letters from Druggists of wonderful cures. Three doses will relieve any case. Try it. Sample Bottles 10 cents. Regular size 75 cents. For sale by all Druggists.

CATARRH.

Constitutional Catarrh Remedy CURES CATARRH.

Hear what a Reverend Gentleman says of the Constitutional Remedy.

T. J. B. HARDING, Esq., Brockville, Ont.:—
"DEAR SIR—It is now two years since your 'Constitutional Catarrh Remedy' was introduced to me. I have waited this long to see if the cure would remain permanent before doing this, my duty, to you, as at first the happy effects seemed to me to be 'too good to be true.'"

I was afflicted in my head for years before I suspected it to be Catarrh. In reading in your Circular I saw my case described in many particulars. The inward "drop" from the head had become very disagreeable, and a choking sensation often preventing me from lying long. I would feel like smothering and be compelled to sit up in the bed. My health and spirits were seriously affected. When your agent came to Walkertown in August, 1876, I secured three bottles. Before I had used a quarter of the contents of one bottle I found decided relief, and when I had used two bottles and a third, I quit taking it, feeling quite cured of that ailment, and have not used any since until of late I have taken some for a cold in my head. A sense of duty to sufferers from that loathsome disease, Catarrh, prompts me to send you this Certificate, unsolicited, with leave to make what use of it you may see proper. Yours truly,
