

Furniture - CH'TOWN

It's a safe bet that more homes have been furnished by Holman's than by any other firm in Prince Edward Island. In fact, Holman's could supply the material from the basement to the attic of a new home. They could also build the house out of their regular stock of merchandise. All a prospective home builder would need before going to Holman's would be the building lot.

The fourth generation of many families are coming to Holman's to buy the items they need for setting up house-keeping.

The rows of modern bed furnishings on display in Holman's Summerside and Charlottetown stores is a far cry from the old days when rope and slat beds were standard equipment in most homes. Holman's was the first store in Prince Edward Island to sell bed springs. This was considered quite a revolutionary idea at the time. But since then the spring filled mattress and other comforts have been added and, as usual, Holman's have pioneer sales of these items.

Many people are still not too young to remember the old horse hair sofa which occupied such a prominent place in the old fashioned parlor. Possession of the horse hair sofa was the supreme sign of elegance. It was the seat of honor to which the clergymen, who came to officiate at weddings or funerals, was escorted.

For the most part the old parlor has disappeared. It is a long way from today's modern living room with its stylish and comfortable chestfield, lounge chairs, rugs and other items—all of which are supplied by Holman's.
