

THE DAILY EXAMINER,
AUGUST 20, 1881.

The Two Speeches.

THEIR EFFECTS.

Mr. BLAKE'S speech called attention to the National Policy; and provoked enquiry respecting its operation. Sir Leonard Tilley's speech produced conviction that the National Policy is the right policy to pursue.

The Irish Land Bill.

By this time the Irish Land Bill has probably received the Royal assent. The Bill, it appears, passed through the House of Lords as it finally left the Commons. Mr. Gladstone accepting only the amendment giving the landlord an appeal to the Court in case he and the tenant could not agree as to the rent. The Lords withdrew from the position they previously took, with regard to all other amendments.

I will ally unjust suspicion to know that Lord Salisbury has confirmed Mr. Gladstone's statement that the amendments as finally settled were not the result of a private arrangement.

Mr. Blake in Nova Scotia.

The Halifax Herald says Mr. Blake's meetings so far in Nova Scotia "have certainly not been such as to inspire him with much hope. Having passed through Eastern Nova Scotia, Hants and the Annapolis Valley, and having held six public meetings, the total number of auditors, men, women, and children, who have gathered to hear him has been under five thousand! This, with his reception in Halifax, does not show very much enthusiasm in Nova Scotia over the proposed repeal of the National Policy."

Garfield's Condition.

Advices as to the condition of the President continue unsatisfactory. The physicians are hopeful but indefinite.

A correspondent at Washington says the importance of a continuous channel through Garfield's body to insure the freest and fullest discharge of pus by the removal of the ball is no longer questioned by the surgeons. Whether there are pieces of clothing surrounding the ball or in its vicinity; whether the ball is misshapen so as to present a ragged edge or not, it is ceded that between the ball and the middle of the wound there are irritating causes which can only be removed with certainty by a further operation. The skill of the surgeons will be directed to the accomplishment of this result at the very earliest moment the President's condition warrant it.

The following telegraphic correspondence is published:

To MRS GARFIELD.—WASHINGTON, D. C.—I am most anxious to know how the President is to-day, and to express my deep sympathy with you both. (Signed) THE QUEEN. Osborne.

To HER MAJESTY, QUEEN VICTORIA.—OSBORNE, ENGLAND.—Your Majesty's kind enquiry finds the President's condition changed for the better, in the judgment of his medical advisers. There is strong hopes of his recovery. His mind is entirely clear, and Your Majesty's kind expressions of sympathy are most grateful to him, as they are gratefully acknowledged by us. (Signed) LUCRETIA A. GARFIELD.

The Crops in Nova Scotia.

The Halifax Herald thus summarizes:—"Dull wet weather is causing luxuriant leaf growth of all crops. Potatoes are very abundant and healthy, a little rot in places. Wheat is so completely eaten with weevil in Onslow what the farmers are cutting it for fodder. Grain is rusting badly in many localities on account of the wet season. Hay is abundant but badly made. There will be much bad hay next winter. The dykes in several instances have been partially flooded, and the grass silted with mud, rendering it difficult to eat and cure. Root crop are swelling well. Since the last warm weather Indian Corn, previously backward, has improved and may ripen in most places. After grass growing amazingly. Lambs are poor, as they always are in wet season when grass is long. Pasturage has never been so abundant before as this year. Fruit not good in Annapolis, but better in Kings."

Personal.

Rev. George B. Kenny, S. J., has left Halifax for New York, in route for Europe.

The late Dean Stanley's will has been sworn to as being under £90,000.

Garfield positively refuses to take the brandy offered by his physicians.

Mr. Herbert Gladstone, son of the Premier, has been appointed Junior Lord of the Treasury, without salary.

The universal sympathy felt for Mrs. Garfield in her present affliction will be greatly heightened by the knowledge of the fact that she again expects to become a mother about the end of November.

It is generally understood at Ottawa that Donald McInnes, the well-known lumber merchant of Hamilton and chairman of the Civil Service Commission, will be summoned to the Senate in place of the late Senator Bull.

The Belfast "Journal" publishes the will of Chas. Elliot, of Knox, Me., whose bequests to his son, three daughters and two grandsons, are subject to forfeiture by the legatees, if they use tobacco or alcoholic liquors, or gamble, their shares in such case being divided among the heirs who have not broken the conditions of the will.

It is reported that many of the Russian nobility have recently joined the Nihilists and have furnished funds to murder the Czar and his brother Vladimir.

Tryon Notes.

W. D. Stewart's "Reid Letter" has caused light to shine on the N. P. Do you suppose Sir Leonard anticipated the wonderful success of his N. P.? The hand of Providence surely directed him. It has raised the country from a low degraded condition to one of prosperity. Confidence is restored throughout, consequent on the thriving state of things. Would it not be a pity if ever the Grigs should return to power? We farmers dread the appearance of the potato-bug and the reappearance of the Grigs.

The gloomy weather and dull appearance of everything was a good deal enhanced by the ceremony of laying the corner stone of the new church here last week. Owing to the unfavorable state of the weather the performance preparatory to laying the stone was held in the Hall. Quite a number of ministers were present—all Wesleyans, except Mr. Corey, Baptist. Mr. Corey is highly esteemed here, and is said to be a good preacher. When it came to his turn to speak he broke in on the sanctity of the occasion by giving one or two pleasing little jokes. Among those present from Charlottetown were Hon. W. W. Lord, Mrs. Lord, Mrs. B. Davies, Mr. and Mrs. Aitken, Lord, for whom reserved seats were prepared. The corner stone was laid by Mrs. Lord with due ceremony. This is the second corner stone. Mrs. Lord laid on the same spot. Mrs. Arden's Lord was noticeable for her very amiable and lady-like appearance, as also was Miss Gray, daughter of Col. Gray, and grand-daughter of Gen. Penfield.

After the ministers had all spoken, the President, Mr. Phinney, in a very complimentary manner, asked the Hon. W. W. Lord to address the assembly. The venerable gentleman rose, firm and erect, and delivered a speech which was very much appreciated, in a clear and distinct tone, except when touching on some tender point, his voice trembled a little. His friends, many of whom came from a distance to see him, were pleased to find him so hale and hearty.

Tryon, Aug. 16.

Many German newspapers have reached a ripe old age. Of the 4,413 that are now in existence, 98 were born in the last century, and a few in the century before. One at Frankfurt is 261 years old, one at Magesburg 253, and one at Leisic 207. Of papers whose ages average 50 to 50 years, there are 266, while those that average from 50 to 21 number 1,127. Permanence in newspaper existence in Germany is not, however, the general rule. Of the papers that were in circulation during the year 1830, 20 per cent came into existence in that same year, and their average life was not more than three months.

A late judge was a noted wag. A young lawyer once making his first effort before him, and had thrown himself on the wings of his imagination far up into the upper regions, and was seemingly preparing for a high ascent, when the judge exclaimed, "Hold on, hold on, my dear sir! Don't go any higher, for you are already out of the jurisdiction of the Court."

The latest advices from Marseilles are that seventeen persons were killed and 230 injured by the disaster at the bull fight there on Sunday last. The manager of the entertainment and the carpenter who constructed the seats which collapsed, have been arrested.

The flag was hoisted at Pretoria, in the Transvaal, on the 8th inst.

The Juvenile Opera.

CHIMES OF NORMANDY.

A full house greeted the Juvenile Company last evening. Planquette's Comic Opera was performed in first-class manner, and was received by the audience with great applause. The duet between Henri and Germaine was, perhaps, the prettiest part of the performance, and the Ghost and Miser scene of Gaspard was a strong and effective effort. The splashing, rippling tones of "Der Wassercratt" were effective and elicited a hearty encore. We cannot speak too highly of the performance of Miss Florence. Story, on the violin. The "Sweet Home" with variations, was splendidly executed. The whispering vibrations of the last movement made us wish to hear, from the same hand, some of the sombre arias of Haydn, Beethoven, or of Schubert. The tuning of the violin, before its appearance, is a proper proceeding on the part of the performer. The despair on the face of the insatiable tuner, together with the calm distraction of the accompanist, striking the inevitable A, are not apt to appear graceful in the eyes of the audience. Handel's sensitive ear could never stand the preparatory tuning. His orchestra turned below before appearing before the conductor. Alas! one night a wag crept into the room, and loosened the strings of every instrument. At the first beat of Handel's baton, the effect was terrific. The unhappy maestro rushes wildly from his place, tears his wig off, kicks the double bass out of the way, and throws a kettle-drum at the leader of his band. Nor did the performance go on until the then Prince of Wales, who was present, went down and besought the irate composer to come forward. We hope that no wag will act this way with Miss Story's instrument.

This evening the Company will perform H. S. Pinfare, and we hope that they will receive a full house.

Mr. James McBain, 33 years of age, for several years a resident of West Somerville, died Saturday evening last, after an illness of less than two weeks. The circumstances attending his sickness and death were particularly sad, and have awakened the deep interest and sympathy of acquaintances and friends throughout the community. His wife was absent in the Provinces, whither she had gone a few weeks before with great reluctance, knowing that he had not been feeling well, but at his earnest request, and with his promise to follow and return with her later on. Despatches were sent, summoning her to his bedside, when he was thought to be dangerously ill, but she was unable to reach home until Monday two days after his death. Meanwhile kind neighbors and his church friends ministered tenderly to his needs, and did all that loving sympathy could do for his comfort and relief. Mr. McBain was a member of the Congregational Church, and of its choir. His simple earnestness and deep humility were strong features of his Christian life and will keep his memory fragrant to those who have been associated with him. The funeral services were held at the house and Church Wednesday's forenoon, conducted by Rev. Mr. Sumner. The floral tributes consisted of a beautiful broken column and a profusion of bouquets. Appropriate singing was rendered by a double quartette, under the direction of Mr. H. E. Valentine. The remains were interred in the Cambridge Cemetery. Mr. McBain leaves a wife and three little children.

The Mr. McBain above referred to was a native of Pictou County. (Pictou, Nova Scotia papers please copy.)

Turf Notes.

Almost has now fifteen sons and daughters, one grandson, and two granddaughters in the 2,30 list.

Mr. W. H. Vanderbilt is reported to have said that Maud S. will not only beat the record, but will trot in 2:05 when she feels like herself. Maud S. is also reported, trotted half a mile in one minute.

Of the six fastest stallion records four have been made at Chicago, viz: Piedmont, 2:17; Santa Claus, 2:17; Robert M. Iregor, 2:18; and Monroe Chief, 2:18. Smaragler trotted his 2:14 at Hartford, as did Hannis his 2:17.

In these days of close decisions we hear of races being won by "heads" and "half-necks," often "by a nose," but never until a daily paper recorded the fact (?) this week had we heard of a horse having "won by the skin of his teeth." A "close and exciting finish," that.—Spirit of the Times.

The death of Nancy Aiful, dam of Rarus, took place recently. She was twenty-four years of age.

DIED.

At French Village, on Sunday, August 14th, 1881, after an illness of about twelve months which he bore with patience and resignation to the Divine Will, Kimble John, eldest and dearly beloved son of Cornelius and Eunice McInyre, aged 23 years and 4 months. He was a young man highly beloved and respected by all who knew him. He was very temperate and steady. As a son and brother he was kind and loving. He leaves his sorrowing parents, one brother and two sisters to mourn their irreparable loss. He was followed to his grave by a large concourse of relatives and friends of every denomination. He did trusting in his Redeemer.

AT AUCTION.

Lobster Factory, Plant, Boats, Gear, &c., &c., Situate at Tracadie Harbor.

The above-named Factory, with all Gear in running order, will be sold without reserve, on Tuesday, 6th of Sept.,

AT ELEVEN O'CLOCK, at the Subscribers' Store, corner Queen and Water Street, Charlottetown.

This is a chance seldom offered to those who wish to engage in the leading industry of the Island.

Among the advantages connected with this Factory are a plentiful supply of good sized lobsters, and always a sufficient quantity of codfish heads for bait can be had at a trifling cost, which is very important.

The canning of mackerel is a growing business, and there is no better place on this Island to prosecute this branch. Intending purchasers can examine the Factory any day previous to sale. An inventory of Plant, Traps, Boats, &c., can be seen the day of sale.

Everything will be delivered up to the purchaser at the close of the present season, which will end about the last of September.

Terms liberal and made known at sale.
