Rise To Occasion

MacKenzie's House of Fashion softball players certainly have a flair for rising to an occasion. First they saved the day when Gaudet's side two players, Doug Tucker and pitcher and left wack as left-fielder. It looked as if these two might be just what the doctor ordered, and Save-Easies defeated MacKenzie's 5-3. But the green-shirts came right back and trounced Save-Easies 14-2 and 11-0 in the two games they gave some of the best examples of power-hitting and fancy fielding that we have seen down in this Prince County Isthmus.

ball league, the team which seemed certain to play the role of the "proud step-sisters" look now as if they might be the Cinderella team of the circuit for all. The Pontiacs ran a poor third in this year's baseball race before the playoffs. They were the last team to be on the RCAF overtook and passed them in the new game. Then the white Pontiacs lifted up their heads and their bats and climbed into the top two games to which. Who knows?—if the Pontiacs retain this new found fire and vigor and are able to field nine players all at the same evening, they might even beat the RCAF.

Juniors Much Improved

Our Juniors are undoubtedly a much improved team over last year's edition, but they face a rough road on the trail to Maritime honors. The fact that they drew out of 14 of them in a recent game in Charlottetown would make it seem that the Legionaires are not exactly "weekend warriors" when it comes to playing that old wiffo. If they do get by Charlottetown, reports have it that ten very powerful themselves well both in the field and at bat.

What Is Wrong?

Twice recently winners in our softball league were called out after the fielding was plainly dropped the ball immediately after making the

and Liverpool, N.S. stand in their way. Those Juniors seem particularly allergic to Midgets. A Summerside Midget team beat them earlier in the season, with Paul MacWilliams pitching for the Midgets, and according to reports all players on the team were Midgets. Of course, Dunn, with 14 strikeouts, could be reckoned as just about half that Charlottetown team, but the Midgets proved themselves well both in the field and at bat.

tag. Is it that the arbiters think they can't change their decision or what is wrong. We've never seen that type of call before that we can remember.

MacKenzies Cop Semi-Final Set

SUMMERSIDE — MacKenzies won the semi-final series of the Prince County Softball League at Summerside last evening, defeating Gaudet's Save-Easies 14-2. MacKenzies' three games out of four, and it will meet the RCAF in the final. It is the first game taking place next Monday evening.

cut outs, triple, a single and a home run. The game was tied 2-2 and got the last two outs of that frame. He allowed only one run in the sixth, and then he scattered, but a walk and a home run scored two runs in the fifth, and a triple and an infield out scored another in the sixth.
