Nervous Prostration

It is now a well established fact in medical science that nervousness is due to impure blood. Therefore the true way to cure nervousness is by purifying and enriching the blood. The great blood purifier is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read this letter:

"For the last two years I have been a great sufferer with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart. I was weak in my limbs and had smothered sensations. At last my physician advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla which I did, and I am happy to say that I am now strong and well. I am still using Hood's Sarsaparilla and would not be without it. I recommend it to all who are suffering with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart." MRS. DALTON, 56 Alice St., Toronto, Ontario. Get Hood's, because

NO HOME WITHOUT IT.

Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil should be emblazoned in letters of gold upon the altar of every household. It saves life when every other means for the cure of consumption or lung troubles fail. For many years Cod Liver Oil was held in disfavor on account of its unpleasant taste, and the inferior quality of the preparations. Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil revived its use because it is pleasant to take and gives immediate results in creating new blood, and thus giving sufferers the strength to overcome the dire enemy. It is the great life saver of the age. Miller's Emulsion is the great nerve strengthner and blood maker, and cures Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Scrofula and all Lung affections. In Big Bottles, 50c. and $1, at all drug Stores.

Hands and Ankles Raw.

For years I have been a great sufferer from itchy skin trouble and salt rheum. My hands and ankles were literally raw. The first application of Dr. Chase's Ointment allayed the burning, itching sensation. One box and a half entirely cured me. It is also instant relief for chilblains. Henry A. A Wide Range.

A preparation which enriches and purifies the blood and assists nature in repairing wasted tissue must have a wide range of usefulness.

Such a preparation is Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. The uses of Scott's Emulsion are not confined to wasting diseases, like consumption, scrofula or anæmia. They embrace nearly all those minor ailments associated with loss of flesh.

WOMAN IN BUSINESS.

What She May Expect If She Enters the Field.

The woman in business who succeeds in winning the good opinion of the men with whom she comes in contact is the one who is not continually on the lookout for evil and who understands thoroughly the difference that exists between social and business life. The girl who starts out expecting men to fall down and worship her will have a very rude shock some day when her employer gives her an order without the preface "please," and her whole soul will revolt when she finds that there are men so thoroughly calloused to the claims of womanhood that they can keep their hats on when they ride with her on the elevator and have no scruples about taking their coats off if the day is inclined to be sultry.

The young missionary who enters an office expecting to revolutionize the moral tone of it will probably occupy her position about a week. She is too much of a mental disturbance to be endured longer, but the girl who buckles down to the duties of the day with no question in her clear eyes regarding what other people are doing, will be pretty sure to win her way into the good graces of those about her and without any fussing or frowning on her part the minor courtesies to which she is accustomed will little by little be given to her naturally until the missionary work is really accomplished without so much as the elevation of an eyebrow on her part to indicate her wishes in the matter.

No practical business is run on the basis of charity; therefore, the woman who aspires to a prolonged stay in one place with the assurance of an increase of salary some day must prove that she can give an edequate return in good work for the money paid her. A pretty, winsome creature in an office is not the power she is in a drawing-room unless she proves herself capable. Mere prettiness will not bring a salary to her if she is employed to accomplish anything of consequence. Even the pretty typewriter has had her day, and now the plain one who attends strictly to business scorrals the best positions.

If you start out in the broad field of labor with men as competitors, you must lay aside the idea that you were born to be adored by the opposite sex, and replace it with a determination to do the best you know how, working fairly for the money paid, but never, even in the hardest strife, laying aside the garment of pure womanliness which is the most winning factor in both business and social relations.—Philadelphia Times.

A PLEA FOR THE BLOOMER.

A Woman Gives Voice to a Little Common Sense Regarding the New Style.

"Judging from the way some would-be critics talk you would suppose that women and men had dressed differently from the beginning of the world," said a prominent dress reformer and literary woman. "As a matter of fact, the opposite is just the case. In Rome and Greece the two sexes wore the same style of long garment, of which the toga is the best known representative. The Arab men and women alike wear the same hood and clinging robes. The Turkish trousers of Turkish women have been famous for years. They are the same as the men's—the same as Zouave trousers. In Japan the Hakono is worn by male and female alike. In China and Corea the women wear coats and trousers the same as their husbands. The Malay people use the sarang irrespective of sex. The suit of the vivandiere is almost that of her regiment. Joan of Arc and the fighting ladies of the age of chivalry wore the same armor as the knights. The uniforms of the religious orders of the past and of many to-day are the same for monk and nun, brother and sister. The robe of the churchman is a survival from the period preceding King Henry VIII., when all 'religious people,' so-called, wore a similar uniform. The prettiest bathing suits worn by belles differ little or nothing from those of their brothers or husbands. Everybody knows this who has ever been outside of a small town or read the first book on travel or costume. Why, therefore, should there be a growl against the bicycle bloomer for the reason that it is mannish? Such a procedure usually indicates the ignorance of perversity of the growler."—New York Mail and Express.

A Hint in Sewing.

If you are troubled by the buttonholes in children's clothing tearing out, when making a garment, put a strip of the goods where the buttonholes come, making two or four extra thicknesses, then work with a little coarser thread than usual, putting the stitches in closely, and there will be no further trouble.

If the buttons come off or tear out, put from four to six extra thicknesses of the material underneath the facing where each button is to be sewed on, with a good-sized pin between the button and the cloth, and use good linen thread, filling the eyes of the button full after which withdraw the pin and the buttons will neither come off nor tear out.

Dont's and Do's for Baby.

Do keep your baby clean.

Don give him pure air at all times.

Do let him have a few spoonfuls of water several times a day.

Do not let everyon kiss him.

Do not let everyone jostle and shake and tickle him.

Do not keep him so warm that he cannot sleep. Babies, as a rule, are bundled up too much.

Do not neglect him, and then when he cries for some needed attention, say that he is a "cross, bad-tempered little nuisance." A healthy baby seldom cries when his wants are properly filled, and a sickly one certainly has a perfect right to make life a burden to those who allowed it to become so.

Do not act as if you expected your child to grow up a healthy being, every way, look hopefully into the future and therefore,

Do not worry needlessly.—Babyhood.

A whole village of well-to-do Italians, speaking English with an accent, is one of the most astonishing things that Italy offers to the tourist. They are retired organ-grinders, who have acquired comfortable fortunes in this country.

Remedy for the Horn Fly.

O B WADMAN, of Crapaud, writes: "After trying many experiments this summer on my own cow, I have at last discovered a cheap and substantial remedy. Cod oil, petroleum, coal oil, etc, should not be used, as they are injurious to the cattle, and I am persuaded that farmers who have used those remedies will, after examination, find a great many sores." He will supply the remedy for 40 cts per gallon, which will be sufficient quantity for twenty cows. One application will last for ten or twelve days. Will mail receipt free by enclosing three-cent stamp for reply.

The Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association of New York

Did a larger business in Canada in 1894 than any other Company.

Since its organization in 1881 has paid its policy holder for death claims over a twenty-two million dollars.

Is now paying at the rate of over a quarter of a million each month.

98,000 policies, and $300,000,000 of Insurance in force, attest the popularity of the Company, its system and the confidence of the public.

IT IS THE PEOPLE'S INSURANCE, and is sold at about half the rates charged by old system companies. During the first three months of 1895 it was thoroughly examined by the Insurance Departments of New York, Illinois, Ohio, Texas and South Dakota, and pronounced to be sound to the core.

Painless Dentistry!

This is addressed to all those who are suffering from TOOTHACHE, or who may require treatment of any kind at the hands of a Dentist. I make the very best Teeth, guaranteed, for $15 00 a set. If not satisfactory money refunded. Gold and Silver Fillings a specialty.

The following letter from Dr Robertson of Crapaud, as regards the Painless Extraction of Teeth, speaks for itself:—

To J E McDonald, D D S, Summerside, P E I.

Dear Doctor,—I am so well pleased with the work you have done for me that I will take it as a special favor if you will give publicity to this letter. I positively assert that after an experience extending over twenty-two years, under the hands of many dentists, you are the only one who ever extracted a tooth for me Absolutely Without Pain. The TEN teeth you removed for me at one sitting did not hurt a particle, as Mr James Dawson of Pownal, who was present at the operation, heard me testify. The man who invented your method should be knighted.

I am yours, gratefully,
H W ROBERTSON, M D
