IN SEARCH OF A WIFE.

Cautious Sultor States His Requirements in a Letter of Inquiry.

A prominent attorney preserves the following document as one of the chief curios of his office. It bears a recent date and was written from one of the Missouri river towns. The young woman referred to is the presiding genius of the kitchen in the lawyer's home:

"DEAR SIR—I got acquainted with Miss — through our corresponding with each other. She wants to marry me. Should she suit I will not marry her for three or four months yet. Please find out through your wife and let me know by return mail if she is worthy of a good husband.

"Is her character good? How about her honesty and integrity? Does she seem to like children? Is she neat and clean? Is she tasty about her dress? Is she gay or frivolous, or what you call sullen? Is she wasteful in her cooking? Is she strong and healthy? Can she hear and talk good? Is she homely or pretty? Is she smart? To make it short, would she make a good man a good wife?"

"I am a cooper by trade, a widower with five children, and I need a woman that's a good cook and to look after my children. She has been working for your wife three weeks. You ought to know her pretty good by this time. Anything you may say she won't know if it isn't good, unless you tell her yourself.

"Is she stylish? Has she begun to break or show edge? Is she steady and does she know how to please? You can do me a great favor if you take five minutes of your valuable time to answer these few questions. Please write at once. I want to know quick. Your obedient servant."—St. Louis Republic.

History on a Watch

Almost the last work of the Belgian astronomer Houzeau, deceased, was an article in which, while arguing in favor of a decimal division of time, he pointed out the origin of the double set of 12 hours represented on our watch and clock faces. The ancient inhabitants of Mesopotamia chose the number 12 as an arithmetical base because it has four divisors—viz, 2, 3, 4 and 6, while 10 has only two divisors—viz, 2 and 5. They counted 12 hours in the day and 12 in the night, measuring the day by the progress of the sun and the night by the progress of the stars across the sky. This system, prevailing over all others, has come down to us, and so our watches bear on their faces a souvenir of those ancient days when the sun served for a clock hand half of the time and the stars the other half.—Youth's Companion.

Her Awful Ordeal.

"Mary had a dreadful experience on her trip to Painesville?"

"How was that?"

"Why, she got something in her eye, and it hurt her so that she asked a nice looking young man to look for it, and he was so dreadfully nearsighted that he got so close that his big mustache tickled her nose, so that in trying not to sneeze right in his face she burst four buttons off her new jacket."

"Dear me!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

MRS. HUFF'S STORY.

After Years of Suffering and Anxiety She Receives a New Lease of Life,

Her Rescuer and Deliverer Was Paine's Celery Compound,

It is the Medicine that Brings Health, Happiness and Good Looks to Every Ailing Woman.

Every sick and ailing woman in Canada will save many weeks and months of suffering and anxiety if Paine's Celery Compound is used at once to strengthen the nerves, purify the blood, and set the whole digestive machinery in perfect working condition. If you have not so been benefited and cured by medicines you are now using, it will be wisdom on your part to put your trust in Paine's Celery Compound which has wrought such miraculous cures in the past.

The case of Mrs. F. M. Huff, of Salmon Point, Ont., is strong proof that Paine's Celery Compound "makes people well." She says:

"After receiving so much benefit from Paine's Celery Compound I think it my duty to inform sufferers what this great medicine can for all who wish to regain health and strength. I have been a great sufferer for years from nervousness and weakness, and have had the advice and attendance of doctors with but little benefit. I was induced to use your Paine's Celery Compound some time ago, and I must confess it is the best medicine I ever used. Nothing else has ever done me so much good, and I now feel quite a different person. I trust sufferers will not be influenced to use any other medicine while they can procure yours which does such good work. I cannot speak strongly enough in favor of Paine's Celery Compound, and you may be assured I will always recommend it. You are at liberty to publish this letter in your work."

Men, Women and Hats.

A German professor has been studying that article of masculine apparel which the irreverent call a "stovepipe" and has found in it proof of man's superiority to woman. Time was, he says, when men, like women now, ornamented their hats with ribbons and feathers more or less beautiful and wore garments of the brightest colors they could find. This was all "plumage d'amour." It indicated no intellectual superiority and no moral worth. It merely represented the superiority of the peacock over the peahen. Now men have molted. Their headgear has become the unplumed "stovepipe," their habit the inexpressive frock coat. It is woman, the professor points out, who wears the "plumage d'amour" today, in her hat and elsewhere.

Nature, he explains, means something by every evolution or revolution she permits. What she means by this one is that fine feathers are best suited to the feather brained. The plumed hat of woman is symbolical of her fall, the plain "stovepipe" of man, of his rise in intellectuality. Man's moral worth, in short, has become such that he can lose plumage to the inferior animals. If this isn't "just like a man for all the world," nothing ever was.—New York Times.

All Wrong.

One of the boys brought home his arithmetic lesson, and his mother, after watching his struggles for a time in silence, offered to help him.

"Oh, no," said he, with a look of scorn, "you can't do it to save you." As the mother was a college graduate she naturally felt somewhat nettled at this and insisted upon her ability to solve the problem. She did so to her own satisfaction, but not to the boy's. He declared that she did not do it right, though he could not tell what was wrong.

"We'll leave it to papa," said she finally. The father, too, was a college graduate and had taken high honors in mathematics. The father said that the mother's method was the right one and, indeed, the only one. Unconvinced, the boy went off to school the next morning. At noon he came home triumphant.

"There, I told you so!" he shouted as he entered the house. "You did it wrong."

"What was the matter?" both parents asked.

"Well, you left out two 'sines' and a 'hence,'" was the convincing reply.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Baboon Guides.

It seems probable that travelers and explorers who are usually accompanied with dogs, who hunt with them and guard their camp from danger, would find a more reliable companion in a baboon.

So far as speed is concerned, the dog, of course, has the advantage, but for keenness of scent, for the instinct of finding edible plants and hidden water and as a sentinel against every kind of danger, the baboon is unequaled.

Le Vaillant, an African traveler, gives an account of a tame baboon, which accompanied him on some of his journeys. "By his cries," he says, "he always warned us of the approach of an enemy before my dogs discovered it. The dogs were so accustomed to his voice that they used to go to sleep, and I was at first vexed with them for deserting their duties. When he once had given the alarm, they would all stop to watch for his signal, and on the least motion of his eyes, or the shaking of his head, I have seen them all rush forward to the quarter where his looks were directed."—Pearson's Weekly.

PYNY-PECTORAL

Positively Cures COUGHS and COLDS

in a surprisingly short time. It's a scientific certainty, tried and true, soothing and healing in its effects.

W. C. McCUMBER & SON, Bouchette, Que., report in a letter that Pyny-Pectoral cured Mrs. C. Garman of chronic cold in chest and bronchial tubes, and also cured W. G. McCumber of a long-standing cold.

Mr. J. H. HURTY, Chemist, 528 Yonge St., Toronto, writes: "As a general cough and lung syrup Pyny-Pectoral is a most invaluable preparation. It has given the utmost satisfaction to all who have tried it, many having spoken to me of the benefits derived from its use in their families. It is suitable for old or young, being pleasant to the taste. Its sale with me has been wonderful, and I can always recommend it as a safe and reliable cough medicine."
