86 MILLION PHONES

NEW YORK, (CP) - The number of telephones in the world has climbed to 86,000,000 from 84,000,000 in the last year, an American Telephone and Telegraph Co. survey shows. The U. S. now has more than 50,000,000. Britain is second with 5,915,000 and Canada third with 3,352,000.

QUAKE SHAKES CITY

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, (AP) - A strong earth shock was felt here about noon Saturday. Building corners were shaken loose by the shock.

Plan 35 Million Trans-Atlantic Telephone Cable

MONTREAL, (CP) - A $35,000,000 transatlantic telephone cable system, capable of making overseas calls as audible as local calls, will be installed within the next three years by Canada, Britain and the United States.

The system will replace the transatlantic radio-telephone circuits linking the three countries. The change was designed to improve overseas telephone service now subject to interference by changing atmospheric conditions. An agreement providing for the construction and installation of the new submarine cable system was signed Nov. 27 and was announced Tuesday in Montreal, London and New York. The agreement was signed by the crown-owned Canadian Overseas Telecommunication Corporation, the British Post Office and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. The three operate the existing service.

Cable Repeater The cable, with intermediate cable repeaters spaced at intervals of 40 miles, will connect Oban, Scotland, with Sydney Mines, N.S. The cable will pass via Clarenville, Nfld.

At Sydney Mines, micro-wave relay systems will connect the cable with Canadian and American telephone systems.

Cable circuits will be divided into two groups - one for service between Canada and the United Kingdom and the other between the United States and the United Kingdom.

Douglas F. Bowie, president and general manager of Canadian Overseas Telecommunications Corporation, said in commenting on the new agreement:

"The new submarine telephone cable with its great potentialities, will give to overseas telephone service a quality similar to that now enjoyed on local calls."

Unlike the wireless transmission which is vulnerable to atmospheric conditions, he said, "the installation of this new type of submarine cable for transatlantic telephony will enable the companies to render service which ensure both freedom from transmission difficulties and greater privacy."

"The cable system will also provide a number of telegraph channels for use between Canada and the United Kingdom."

Canadian Cottons To Close Mill

MONTREAL, (CP) - Canadian Cottons Ltd., will stop operations at one of its three mills in Cornwall, Ont., it was announced Sunday.

Irving Roy, president of the company, said a decision to close Stormont mill, where 385 workers are employed, was taken "with the greatest regret."

"For some months past all the company's mills have operated at a very low rate of production resulting in unsatisfactory operating conditions and abnormally high costs of production," Mr. Roy said. "In an effort to minimize the resulting losses it has been decided to close the Stormont mill, one of the oldest mills of the company."

U.S. Steel Report

CLEVELAND, (AP) - United States steel mills have set a one-year production record despite a decline in output that started last June, Steel magazine reported Sunday.

The metal-working weekly says the year's output last week reached 107,353,000 net tons, breaking the old record of 105,199,848 tons set in 1951. Last year's production was cut considerably by an eight-week steel strike.

Last week's output slid down another two points to 85 per cent of rated capacity or 1,916,000 tons. Steel says the continued decline is intensifying competition among steel sellers and increasing freight absorption.

Prices on finished steel declined, too, going from $114.95 a ton to $114.64.

London Paper Very Critical Over Color Bar

LONDON, (Reuters) - The London Star Thursday assailed Colonial Secretary Oliver Lyttelton for accepting racial segregation in certain Bermuda hotels as "essential to the tourist trade."

"Essential" in the minds of some dollar-earning incorrigibles, maybe," The Star commented.

"But what on earth is the British colonial secretary doing accepting anyone's assurance that it is 'essential' anywhere in the British territory?"

Lyttelton should have used "his famous strong-arm tactics" to have the ban on non-whites lifted, the Liberal newspaper declared.

Because of the ban, the paper said, a distinguished Negro, Sir Frank McDavid, president of the British Guiana State Council, and Lady McDavid had to sleep on rugs in an airport waiting room when flying home after he was knighted by Queen Elizabeth.

"Yet," The Star added, "in a written parliamentary reply on the incident in which he mentioned the 'essential' ruling Wednesday, Lyttelton also declared that the colonial secretary doing accepting anyone's assurance that it is 'essential' anywhere in the British territory?"
