An enjoyable and instructive tour of Pictou and Truro farming areas was made by the thirty-five members of Junior Farmers organizations of the Province last week. Those making the tour were: Farmington, Mount Hope, St. George's, Tracadie, Milton, Bedeque, Pictou, Lot Sixteen, and Port Hill. They were accompanied by Messrs. David Peacock and I. L. Tuplin, fieldmen for the Provincial Department of Agriculture.

The party left by chartered bus on Thursday morning, proceeding via the Wood Islands ferry to Caribou, where they were met by Mr. Donald Gunn, assistant agricultural representative for Pictou County, Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture. Mr. Gunn conducted the visitors on their tour of points of interest in Pictou County. They proceeded to Truro on Thursday night, spending the night in club camps at the Nova Scotia Agricultural College farm. During the evening they were entertained by the Nova Scotia Colchester County Junior Farmers at a party in the College auditorium.

On Friday morning they were met by Mr. Donald Cox, agricultural representative at Truro and were shown around the various farms in the Truro area, and the Nova Scotia College of Agriculture at DeBert. They then proceeded to the Experimental Station at Napatan, and made a tour of the Experimental farm there. They visited Messrs. H. F. Carter and Sons, prominent short-horn breeders at Aulac, and also the Regional High School at Port Elgin, returning home via Borden on Friday night.

They speak in high terms of the hospitality extended them everywhere they went in Nova Scotia, and of course were particularly interested in farm activities in the sister Province. They were particularly interested in noting the number of farmers making grass silage, by means both of pit and upright silos.

New Zealand has particular ties with Canada on account of the fine manner in which Canadians treated New Zealand air men during the war, stated Mr. T. C. A. Hislop, C.M.G., High Commissioner of New Zealand to Canada, in an interview here on Saturday. He referred especially to the fact that New Zealand airmen trained at Charlottetown in the war years.

"It was a home away from home for those boys," he said. "We shall never forget the manner in which they were treated." He added that 8,000 New Zealand boys trained in Canada.

Mr. Hislop is visiting the Province as part of his tour of Eastern Canada. He has been in Canada for nine months and has covered the Prairie Provinces and British Columbia as well as Quebec, Ontario and New Brunswick.

He wishes to get to know Canadians as individuals and learn more about this country as well as tell Canadians about New Zealand. He stated that New Zealand bears a resemblance to this Province in that it is chiefly an agricultural area. It grows great areas of wonderful grass which are wonderful for the feeding of cattle and sheep.

New Zealand is the world's biggest exporter of dairy products, he said, and the world's second largest producer of wool. Its population is only 2,000,000. Mr. Hislop's wife and fourteen year old daughter Susan are accompanying him. They will stay at the Dalvay Hotel.

TUESDAY

An eight month's journey which included a visit to Rome for the closing ceremonies of Holy Week and a brief trip behind the Iron Curtain concluded recently when Mr. Leo J. McIsaac arrived back in Charlottetown.

They were the highlights of the visit to Europe which took him to all the Western European countries. His trip behind the Iron Curtain came when he was leaving Finland. There parts of the country were taken by Russia after the war and they include the Porkkala Peninsula which is down towards Lake Ladoga. In order to get from Turku to Helsinki by train, travellers must pass through this peninsula which is heavily guarded.

Mr. Rev. A. A. MacAulay, 88, longtime pastor at St. Peter's, and the oldest priest in the Roman Catholic diocese of Charlottetown died Saturday after a long illness. He had been a patient at the Charlottetown Hospital since last October.

A life which had extended through sixty-two years in the priesthood culminated a year ago when he celebrated his Diamond Jubilee. He was the second Island priest ever to celebrate that occasion while still active in the priesthood. At that time he was elevated to the rank of Domestic Prelate by Pope Pius.

Monsignor Alexander Andrew MacAulay was a native of St. Peter's where he was born on New Year's Day, 1862. He was a son of the late Ronald MacAulay, a native of Scotland, and his wife the former Ann MacIntyre, an Islander. The man who was destined to become one of the Province's outstanding scholars never knew how to speak English until he was 9 years old. In his home the language was Gaelic. Many years later he became widely known for his knowledge of Greek and Hebrew as well as his native Gaelic.

They survive two sisters, Miss Barbara MacAulay, Boston, Mass.

and Elvina, Mrs. William Lewis, of Cardigan. A brother and two sisters predeceased Monsignor MacAulay by several years.

The remains were taken from the funeral home of Frank Hennessey yesterday to St. Peter's where the funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. His Excellency Bishop Boyle will celebrate Pontifical Mass and a large number of the clergy will attend.

Miss Donald MacLeod, of Victoria, was crowned "Miss P.E.I." over sixteen contestants on Saturday evening by His Honour Lieutenant Governor Frouse at a largely attended open-air ceremony highlighting the conclusion of Charlottetown's first Festive Week.

The ceremony was held in front of the Market Building, Queen Square, and was witnessed by many hundreds of citizens, who tendered the newly crowned queen a warm ovation.

WEDNESDAY

Also making the annual trip were Officer Cadets C. J. McKenna and W. L. McKenna.

Miss Marion King, a highly valued employee of the Eastern Trust Company with whom she had served twenty-five years, died Sunday in the Charlottetown Hospital. Miss King had been taken ill June 30 and went to hospital at 11. She had a wide circle of friends throughout the Province and had the confidence of all her associates and acquaintances who had met her during her long term with the Trust Company.

She is survived by one brother, William King of Michigan, who came to the City upon learning of his sister's illness.

High Commissioner said New Zealand consisted of two islands located 1200 miles south east of Australia. The population of two million includes 100,000 Maoris. Grass is the foundation of the economy. The magnificent stock grazing on year round pasture gives New Zealand a distinct advantage in all dairy products, and she has become the world's leading exporter of these products.

Six Charlottetown men will leave this morning to attend the annual meetings of the Nova Scotia Co-operative Union and the Nova Scotia Credit Union League at Antigonish. The co-operative meeting will be held today and the Credit Union meeting tomorrow.

Attending from here will be Messrs. Jerome O'Brien, Eugene Gorman, Leo Corcoran, Leo McIsaac, Richard Hennessey and Joseph McIsaac. The guest speaker at the Co-operative Union meeting tonight will be Premier Joseph Smallwood of Newfoundland.

Women's Institutes of this Province were strongly urged to encourage and support cultural activities by Miss Mary H. Roblin, Supervisor of Women's Institutes, as she spoke to approximately four hundred women gathered at the P. W. C. auditorium yesterday at the thirtieth annual Provincial convention.

"The Musical Festival Association is bringing good music to your schools and into the everyday lives of the people of your community," she said. The Drama Festival Association is taking an active part and interest in good dramatic entertainment, and the Rural Beautification Society is working to beautify our everyday surroundings.

Mrs. Malcolm MacLeod, Lorne Valley, President of the P. E. I. W. C., presided at the morning session of the two-day conference and Mrs. Harold Laird, Kelvin Grove, Vice President, presided during the afternoon. In the evening the chairman was Mrs. Alan Stewart, Strathgartney, Honorary President of the P. E. I. W. C.

Almost two hundred and seventy official delegates registered during the morning and afternoon, and many more members of Institutes were in attendance.

Mrs. Davis has visited every Province in Canada with the exception of the three other Maritime Provinces and her itinerary has been prepared by the Women's Institutes of the various Provinces she has been visiting.

Ruth Enman, Gussie Bryant, Agnes Dickson. Miss Mabel Worth, Noble Grand, and Mrs. Matilda Frizzell, P.N.G., were also presented with certificates of Perfection in the unwritten work of the Order.

Refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

Folk Schools for this Province was one of the projects stressed by Mrs. Jack Foley, Bloomfield, convener of arts and literature, as she reported for her committee at the annual meeting of the P. E. I. Women's Institutes yesterday.

Although only in the planning stage as yet, Mrs. Foley expressed hope that it would not be too far distant when adults from eighteen years of age might take a two-weeks course in their own communities in neighbouring living.

She outlined the system used in Nova Scotia which provides residential living for 20-30 people for two weeks during the autumn or early winter.

The course has four general aspects: (1) The farmer and his technical problems. (2) The farmer in relation to his community organizations. (3) The farmer and his province; its history, traditions, its position in relation to the rest of Canada. (4) Neighbourly living; dramatics, music, dancing, and other recreations.

ration last month in St. John. Mrs. Edwin Cook gave a general report on the entire convention. Mrs. Steel dealt chiefly with the manner in which the different festivals administer their scholarships. Mrs. Preston Beck then outlined the benefits to be derived from affiliation with the Canadian Federation.

It was stated that one of the aims of the Federation is for standard syllabus for all festivals. During the evening a committee was appointed to meet with the Department of Education to discuss the feasibility of supervision and promotional work for school music.

It was announced the next annual convention of the Federation will be held in Nelson, B. C., in July, 1952.

All field crops in the Province are making extraordinary progress under ideal growing conditions. Mr. W. R. Shaw, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, told "The Guardian" yesterday. Pastures are particularly favorable and so thick is the mat of hay in old meadows that great difficulty is being experienced with hay mowers in getting it cut, he stated.

"The farm labor situation is acute and many farmers are seriously handicapped in view of the heavy hay yields and shortage of available help. 'I consider the farm producer is facing the most serious farm labor situation in the history of this Province and some special measures should be undertaken to induce young men from both town and country to render assistance in saving of important farm crops,' Mr. Shaw declared.

He said that a very disappointing situation existed with regard to fruit production. The strawberry crop has been very much below anticipated yields and many consumers will be minus their usual quantity for jam and canning purposes.

"Plums and cherries are almost at the zero mark in yields and while apples show good promise in some sectors the crop in general will be exceedingly poor. There is no doubt but that frost and cold weather have been contributing factors," he stated.

"Livestock prices continue to soar and hog prices have reached an all-time peak of 41 cents at Moncton and 40 cents at Charlottetown. Where this will end and what will be the net result I am not prepared at the moment to state, but I think these prices have reached a danger point.

"Profits from meats should be favorable, particularly in view of the receding costs of feed supplies," Mr. Shaw added. He pointed out that barley and oats had been reduced in price from $18 to $12 a ton and that some Island grain is being offered for as low as 70 cents a bushel.

"It is difficult under present conditions to adjust either one's thinking or spending. The whole level has been elevated to a difficult height. More money is being earned and greater expenditures are necessary in cost and services. The final result is not quite the same as when prices and costs were very much lower, for greater dangers exist under these new and unusual conditions.

"It is indeed a time of great change in our thinking, our spending and our agricultural program. These changes are now quite evident and will possibly bring about a drastic realignment in our efforts of farm production and economy," Mr. Shaw concluded.
