

DOWN THE BACK STRETCH

Jolity 2.05 1/4, owned by Linus Mulligan, Kinkora, is a full brother of Gayety 2.10, the 16-year-old daughter of Calumet Adam 1.59 3/4 and Colleen Frisco 1.07 1/2 by San Francisco 2.07 3/4. Gayety recently sold as a brood mare to Castleon Farm, Lexington, Ky. for $6,000. She is the dam of three in 2.10 including Gay Law 3, 2.07 1/2.

A telephone message from George B. Gay, proprietor of Moncton Speedway, informs us that due to the continued delay in the arrival of the necessary poles, reflectors and other equipment it would not be possible to operate as a night racing plant until late in July, so night racing in Moncton will be out for this season. It is particularly disappointing to Mr. Gay who had gone to a lot of trouble securing wire and other necessary articles. However, he will have his usual program of Twilight Racing commencing on Wednesday evening, June 20th at 6.30, also other larger programs during the season.

Johnny Simpson, one of America's top drivers, has a new method of preparing a harness racing stable. The tremendous demand for race horses has prompted Simpson to turn out standard bred horses on a mass production basis. Simpson, who is only 31 years old, has 53 head at Roosevelt Raceway. That is far more than any other trainer in the country has under his command, probably more than any handler has ever brought to a race track before. He began the season with 60 horses at Orlando, Florida and although the mortality rate among trotters and pacers—particularly young ones—is very high, he only dropped seven of them when he moved to Roosevelt.

Simpson's system is one of absolute organization and split second timing. A public address system was installed at his Orlando barns the past winter. When he was ready for a horse a message went out to that particular groom. As he completed a warm up with one horse another was ready at track side. A report system is kept on every horse. Grooms check the horses before the workouts and a sheet provides a complete training history. Trainers, assistant trainers and grooms take note of the horse's gear, his every action on the track, his reaction to various items such as shadows on the track, harrows, tractors, etc. If the horse jumps the place is noted along with the type of break and the time consumed before the horse is straightened out. When Simpson picks up the chart of a horse he knows everything from A to Z concerning that particular horse.

The Charlottetown track is rapidly filling up with horses, the latest addition being the stable of Earle Semple, Kensington and George Thompson, Summerside, with Babe Britton and a 2 year old. Next week a number will move in from Nova Scotia and New Brunswick and when opening night, June 23rd, rolls around practically every stall will be occupied. The fastest mile stepped so far has been 2.16, with several running between that and 2.17, but most of the horses are being trained miles in 2.20 to 2.25 with young ones in slower time. All the horses at the track are considerably behind those trained in Sydney and Truro. For instance on Friday night, June 8th, at Sydney, Little Brown G. (Mauger) won the first heat of the Free For All in 2.12 with Vella La Vella second and the second heat in 2.11 2/5, Vella La Vella second.

Redwood Grattan (Turvis) won in 2.12 4/5 and 2.14 4/5 with Peter-at-Court second both trips. The trotter Cobblestone (W. Lewis) won his first mile in 2.13 1/5 with Rajah Hanover second, Prairie Pete third, and the second heat in 2.14 with Annie Scott second. This is certainly very fast time for so early in the season in the Maritimes—faster than we can ever remember of. Our prediction of 2.10 for the trotter Cobblestone seems to be a safe bet. Redwood Grattan in winning his first dash came within four-fifths of a second of his record and shows form like that he exhibited two years ago. He is a horse with tremendous speed and could easily take a record of 2.10.

Joe O'Brien has in his stable a very promising two-year-old pacer, Vonlan Chief by Chief Abbedale, dam, Silver Queen 2.09 1/4 by Mr. McElwain. Recently at Toledo he won with him in 2.06 1/5—very fast time for a two-year-old over a half-mile track, particularly this early in the season. It speaks volumes for Joe's ability to take an unbroken colt and develop him into such a performer. At the same meeting Joe won the $3,000 2.15 trot with Stewart Hanover.

Every once in a while we pick up a harness horse paper and note where some valuable horse has broken a leg or received other injuries that incapacitate him from racing. This is something that very rarely happens to a horse in this country, whether due to our tracks being safer or trainers more careful we cannot say. The latest one to be put out of business is the sensational Henry Volo p. 2.01, record taken over a half-mile track. His career came to an abrupt end two weeks ago at Rosecroft Raceway when he broke a bone in his right front ankle. It was the first start of the year for him and he had worked handily in 2.05 a few days previously. The accident occurred just after the star pacer had circled the field to take the lead from his outside post position. He was owned and driven by W. E. Miller who was leading race driver in the U. S. A. two years ago. It is expected that he can be saved for breeding purposes. He is a son of Volomite. Not so fortunate was the owner of the pacer Adam Cash 2.01 4/5 that suffered a broken leg recently at Yonkers Raceway and had to be destroyed. He was a seven-year-old stallion, the son of Calumet Adam 1.59 3/4, that started out this season with excellent prospects. Last year he won nearly $19,000.

L. G. Duffy, one of the editors of The Harness Horse, has compiled a list of aged 2.10 pacers that have won fifteen or more races.

LITTLE SPORT

The City Baseball League, which so far has only been seen in action in three scheduled tilts, is already shaping up into what looks like a promising league of close, smart action for fans here this summer. In the latest contest, played at Memorial Field on Thursday night, the Falcons and Stars gave fans in attendance a plenty of good, snappy ball that ended in a narrow 1-0 verdict for the Falcons after seven innings of play.

Making their appearances on the mound for the first time this season, Wendell "Gump" Gillis and Ev. Beagan came up with creditable showings, the two hurlers giving up only a total of nine hits between them and striking out 12 batters. Although the loser, Beagan of Stars pitched three-hit ball and whiffed seven batters, while Gillis allowed six hits but bore down in the critical moments to avert pending rallies and keep the Stars scoreless. Gillis' strikeouts, five in all, came when he needed them most.

For the first three innings, Beagan was definite master of Falcons batting power to hold them down to no run, no hit ball that saw nothing get past the infield during that time. Getting to Beagan's offerings a bit in the next three innings, Falcons tagged him for a single in each frame, two of them being nipped in the bud by sharp plays on bases by the infield, but the final one by Buck Whitlock in the sixth paying off in the winning run. It was of the unearned variety scored by Lorne Hennessey. Lorne got to first yard second on a double error, made third on Whitlock's single and came home on the throw.

Lanky "Gump" Gillis had his tightest moment in the second frame, but came out of it unscathed. Giving up the only triple of the game to Gus Flynn, Gillis loaded the bases with a walk to Maurice Williams and hitting Billy Leonard. Putting them in close and hard to handle, Gillis forced Charlie Ready into a pop foul that was gathered in neatly by catcher Arnold McCallum and struck-out his rival moundman Beagan. Another nice catch by McCallum on Kenny MacKenzie's foul pop-up retired the side to take Gillis out of the deep hole he had dug for himself early in the frame.

While still on the subject of baseball, local sporting officials stated yesterday that they have a small request to make of the players for the next week or two and on their behalf this column passes it on to you, the player. It appears the various teams have been pretty well monopolizing Memorial Field during the past few weeks for practice sessions, games, etc., and many of the local track and field athletes have been unable to use the field for training purposes in preparation for the Festive Week Invitation Track and Field Meet to be held on July 2nd.

For that reason local authorities have set aside Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday evenings at Memorial Field during the next two weeks for the use of those training for the big meet, and officials request all ball players to please refrain from using the field on those nights in favor of those training for the track meet. As one official put it yesterday, "The ball players have been given free use of the field to get their teams organized and ready for league play uninterrupted, and now that the baseball is rolling, we hope that they will co-operate with the track and field boys for the next two weeks so that they can get in condition for the big meet. Those nights will in no way interfere with their baseball schedule," he concluded, "and will only be for a matter of a couple of weeks anyway."

In announcing their opening date for night racing, Saturday, June 23rd, the Charlottetown Driving Park and Provincial Exhibition Association have also made known many new features and improvements to their new plant to make it even more attractive and convenient than ever to both spectator and horseman alike. In addition to the regular clean-up program that has everything sparkling clean, all new buildings have been erected to replace the old ones and many of the more added, the grandstand itself being the only exception. The entire field has been levelled and re-seeded to make it a carpet of green that adds greatly to the scenic beauty of the site and the completion of a training track inside centre field is an added convenience for the horsemen in working their horses.

Other added features include five new steel entrance and exit gates to do away with the congestion of previous years for the patronizing public, which in itself is a big improvement, while a new, eight-foot wire fence now encircles the entire 36 acres of land and adds much to the general appearance of the whole plant. A new horsemen's canteen has been opened, new toilet facilities for the horsemen and stable accommodations now provide for over two hundred horses. It is also reported that over one hundred and fifty horses are already stabled there awaiting the signal to go to the wire. It is truly one of Canada's finest race tracks.

Harry "Kid" Poulton of Charlottetown will defend his Maritime welterweight boxing crown at the Forum on Tuesday night when he meets Howard Leslie of Saint John, N. B. in a 12-round title go, it was announced here last night by Forum manager Bill Brown.

It will be the main event of a four-bout card featuring a six-rounder between Johnny Russell and Louis Lafferty, a four-round affair between Bud Ramsay of Summerside and Lloyd Carr, City, and a four-round curtain raiser bringing together Texas George Steele of Bedford, the latter event will be a return engagement to a thrilling bout here about two weeks ago when Steele scored a close decision over the Bedford boy.

Poulton, one of the smartest boxers to come out of the local crop of fighters in recent years, will be in tip-top shape for the coming bout as two recent victories for him against mainland opponents points out in no uncertain terms.

As recently as Thursday night at Moncton, Harry scored an eight-round technical knockout over Ernie Durrelle of Bale Ste. Anne, N. B., while here at the Forum on June 5th, he took a unanimous decision from Harold Schultz of Dartmouth, N. S.

Leslie has challenged Poulton to the title match, and is expected to be a worthy opponent for the local boxer.

Manager Bill Brown stated last night that "Leslie will wind up his training at the Forum on Monday night, and any wishing to see him go through his routine are welcome."

The Montague Tennis Club held its regular weekly meeting last night at the High School, with the president, Mr. James MacDonald, presiding. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Miss Shirley Annear, and approved. The membership committee reported that 33 had signed their intention of joining the Tennis Club.

The courts committee reported that part of the fence had been fixed, the courts had been harrowed, raked, and rolled, and that a few more days would put the courts in readiness for play.

It was proposed that men be hired to complete the work, owing to the fact that the High School students will be writing examinations in the near future. It was moved that the finance committee contact the prospective members and collect fifty per cent of the dues so that the work could be completed.

It was also moved that a committee including Douglas Johnson, Cecil Mosher, Bloyce Beck, and Stephen Hessian determine ways and means of raising finance to carry out the proposed plans of the tennis club. There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

Cubs, Dodgers in Player Trade

CHICAGO, June 15 —(AP)—Chicago Cubs today traded outfielder Andy Pafko and three other players to Brooklyn Dodgers for four players, including pitcher Joe Hatten.

In addition to Pafko, the Cubs sent the following players to Brooklyn: Johnny Schmitz, left-handed pitcher, Al Walker, catcher, and Wayne Terwilliger, second baseman.

HUNTERS' CORNER

Heavy catches of sea trout, creels filled to overflowing with silvery beauties averaging a pound and better, have been landed by lucky anglers this past few weeks but the trout have not been consistent. Take North Lake for instance. A large school of sea trout, some allegedly in the five and six pound bracket, hover between the bridge and the harbour mouth. Once or twice a week someone there at the right time will hook into trout that will test the best of tackle.

The trout appears to drift in and out and not always with the tide. Heavy blobs of residue from a starch factory on its headwaters is suspected to be the cause of the fish not venturing above the highway bridge. Some heavy trout, up to four pounds, have been landed below the bridge and several others in a heavier class have been played and lost.

I sometimes wonder how it is we have any large trout left. The number that go out by the net, jig and 'set line' route is truly amazing. There are places where a big trout doesn't stand a chance. One evening last week I stopped with a companion on a rise overlooking a north shore pond to which sea trout have access. With the aid of field glasses one could spot a line of corks, spaced at regular intervals, bobbing on the breeze rippled water. A teen age lad was anchored in a homemade boat a short distance from the line of corks busily swinging a long bamboo pole.

I found myself wondering what would happen if the corks bobbed under. I didn't get the chance to find out as they continued to bob serenely on the slight ripple. Finally the boat was rowed ashore where it was met by three other teenagers. My companion and I parked the car nearby, donned waders, and proceeded to do a spot of fly casting. Before commencing operations I strolled over and had a chat with the young fry who were carrying bamboo poles and bait cans.

"Any trout in there?" I queried. "Lots of them, some over two pounds" was the reply. Suddenly I placed my hand over my eyes, to shield them from the slanting rays of the westerly sun, and after gazing steadily for several minutes at the spot where I knew the set line was located, although I couldn't see it, asked the question: "What are those corks doing out on the water?" All four exchanged furtive glances and then the smallest of the lot, a pint sized French laddie, spoke up: "Probably someone lost their corks when they were fishing". A sharp answer by a sharp youngster.

Louis Shows Old Form In Sixth Round Kayo Victory Over Savold

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK, June 15 — (AP)—The old Joe Louis dynamite exploded on ring-rusty Lee Savold at 2:29 of the sixth round tonight for a sensational knockout victory over the blood-smeared veteran recognized as world champion in Britain.

Looking his best since he trailed on the long comeback start toward a promised September date with champion Ezzard Charles, the 37-year-old bomber received an ovation as he strode from the ring.

A power-laden left hook out of a flurry of punches dumped 35-year-old Savold on the deck for the only knockdown of the scrap. Lee struggled to get up and was just about to make it when referee Ruby Goldstein enfolded his bloody hulk in his arms.

Spouting blood from a battered nose, Savold was cut down methodically by Louis who made good his pre-fight prediction to the exact round.

"I think I'll knock him out in the sixth," he said at his training camp 10 days ago. The old Louis left jab was at its best. Seldom did he miss his mark. Time after time he followed it with a crunching short right uppercut as part of a three punch combination that wound up with another hook.

Only in the fifth, when a long right hand lead nailed Louis on the jaw, did Savold damage the Bomber. Joe wavered as if hurt but he shook it off and another right that followed. Trim and sharp at 21 1/4 to Savold's 190, Louis lived up to the 19-5 odds favoring him. The Associated Press card gave Savold only one round, the fifth. This "Battle of the Aged" as it had been called, turned out to be quite a show of Louis', determination to cap his comeback with another Charles fight.

Joe is obsessed by a desire to become the first heavyweight champion to win back the title. Douglas, with 34-36, was one of two men to equal the rugged 35-70 par of this treacherously-trapped 6,927-yard layout. Big John Bulla of Verona, Pa., was the other with a pair of steady 35s, but his total was 150.

office packed the Garden with 15,179. The official receipts were $94,684.
