IN MEMORIAM

PERCY EDWARD DOWNE

With a suddenness that shocked all who knew and loved him, the death occurred in his sleep in the early hours of February 2, of Percy Edward Downe in his 64th year.

In good health and active up to the time of his passing, the late Mr. Downe marked the milestones of his life by the large number of friends he made in all walks of life. To his contemporaries he was a true and understanding friend, while to the younger people, he was ever ready to ease their burdens on to his strong shoulders and lead them over the obstacles to a happier life.

Never happier than when surrounded by his family, his home was always the centre of his activities and his hospitality was renowned. The late Mr. Downe will be sadly missed for his cheerfulness and kindness to all who needed help, by his own efforts or through his association with the Salvation Army, of which he was a faithful servant.

A very large congregation attested to the esteem in which the late Mr. Downe was held in Charlottetown and all parts of the Island, as they filled the Salvation Army Citadel to capacity while scores remained outside in the inclement weather.

Senior Captain Leslie Titcombe, assisted by the Reverend A. F. MacLean of Trinity United Church, conducted the service, during which two favourite hymns of the deceased were sung, "The Lord's My Shepherd" and "There's A Land Fairer Than Day."

The Reverend A. F. MacLean read suitable portions of scripture from the Book of Revelations and the Gospel acording to St. John.

Following the Prayer of Victory over Death and Consolation, Captain Titcombe based the Scripture Lesson and Tribute on the words of Paul found in 1 Corinthians 2nd Chapter, verse 9: "Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither hath entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love Him."

Rich in graces that money cannot buy, the earthly home so recently left was illustrated, in part, as that heavenly home which the Son of God has promised to all that love Him.

The closing prayer of Obedience in Life that men might conquer Death brought the service to its close. It was estimated that almost 400 people then filed past in silent respect, paying their farewell to a man amongst men. The pallbearers were Messrs. Albert Younker, Harold Stead, Harold Cudmore, Roland Wood, D. K. MacLeod and Hon. B. Earle MacDonald.

The late Mr. Downe was born in the City, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Downe, and leaves to mourn his sudden passing, his wife, the former Catharine Cameron of this city and Springton, three sons and five daughters. The sons are Edward and City Police Constables Robert Downe and Russell Downe. The daughters are Florence, Mrs. Hawley Crockett; Kathryn, Mrs. John Hermann; Minnie, Mrs. Sydney Clay; Roma, Mrs. Joseph Dunning; all of this city; and Olive, Mrs. Peter Hawkes, Longueuil, Quebec.

Also surviving are two brothers, Walter, Charlottetown, and Jack, Charlton, Ontario; a half-brother, William, Charlottetown, and a half-sister, Bertha, residing in Western Canada, and 16 grandchildren.

"God saw the road was getting rough,
The hills were hard to climb.
He gently closed the weary eyes,
And whispers 'Peace be Thine'".

Tour of United Kingdom Agricultural Areas

By William C. Cairns

Government Aid of Agriculture

As far as Canadian farmers go, it is difficult for them to decide what to produce with ever-changing markets and prices. This financial uncertainty in Canadian Agriculture has always throttled production. Farmers have not got the money to plow back into their business and in many cases they would be foolish to plow it back if they did have it. They do not have the finances or opportunity to turn to modern scientific methods that they have in Britain. British farmers take good care of their soil and it is right that they should. In a country like Canada where our problems are mostly surpluses and where our agricultural production is so large that we don't know what to do with it, the sinking of money into our soils to further increase production is of doubtful value. It is all very well for government officials and others to talk about a farmer's responsibility to posterity in improving his soil fertility but a farmer's first responsibility is to himself in Canada as in Britain.

If our Canadian governments that are spending millions of dollars on unemployment insurance claims, and putting civil servants on a forty-hour week, can't do something to stabilize our agricultural returns, then sooner or later the situation will automatically right itself. People will leave the farms, production will fall even in a world that cries for food and the poor down-trodden Canadian tax-payers will pay more in one year for high priced food than for twenty-five years of some kind of agricultural stability.

Conclusion

In concluding this report, I should like to pay tribute to the Nuffield Foudation of Great Britain by whose generosity my trip in 1963 was made possible. During the summer I associated while in London with Nuffield scholars from the other British Dominions and I firmly believe that the Nuffield Foundation through its scholarships is doing much to draw together the various parts of the Commonwealth with bonds of understanding and good-will. I am sure that I personally, as a result of my summer in Britain and as a result of my Scottish ancestry, will always do all in my power to maintain and improve the good relations that now exist between Canada and the other countries of the Commonwealth.

This was a particularly good year to go to Britain because it was coronation year and I feel sure that anybody who had a seat along the route will not soon forget the ancient color and pageantry that was so well displayed on June 2nd. I think that most visitors to Britain this summer were agreeably surprised by the truly wonderful economic recovery being made by the British people. We were glad to join with them in the spirit of celebration that everyone felt at the gradual disappearance of rationing after fourteen years of shortages. Finally, I should like to thank most sincerely the British farmers, whom we visited, those who spent time showing us around and everybody who in any way contributed to our discussions about agricultural and other questions of the day.

To the Canadian Federation of Agriculture Ottawa, that was instrumental in making selections for the trip, I wish to say "thank you" and to say also that "during the summer we conscientiously attempted to do what was required of us in studying British agriculture and policies generally."

IN MEMORIAM

WILLIAM D. MacKENZIE

It was an unexpected call which came to William D. MacKenzie in the late evening of January 29th. His passing is deeply regretted by the whole Belfast district, particularly the Flat River Community where he lived all his 75 years in the old home of his father and grandfather.

He will be missed by many for his friendliness, his kindliness, his concern for their interests: he will be remembered as a good neighbour, as one who did not spare himself in helping others. Many too will remember him for his love for horses.

A member of the Belle River United Church, no layman was more faithful; later as an elder, none was more respected and trusted. He leaves a memory of a life well lived in the service of his follow men. The hearts of those near and dear to him will be comforted and sustained in their loss by that knowledge.

Left to mourn are his wife, the close companion for 43 years, the former Margaret MacWilliams of Eldon; one daughter Jean, (Mrs. Hector Morrison, Mt. Buchanan); two sons, Donald and Robert in Flat River; four sisters, Grace, Mary, Mabel and Belle in Vancouver; also 11 grandchildren.

The largely attended funeral was conducted at the home and cemetery by his pastor, the Rev. Wallace MacPherson, assisted by the Rev. E. C. Evans of Charlottetown. Interment was in the Belfast Cemetery. Pall-bearers were: Messrs. R. A. MacKenzie, John Nicholson, Simon Stewart, Alex McLean, Damon Ross and David Ross.

The floral tributes were:—
Pillow—The Family.
Sprays:—
