Mr. MacNaught Re-opens His Law Office

Mr. J. Watson MacNaught, Q.C., re-opened his law office in Summerside yesterday. But there were many familiar objects missing from the rooms he has rented in the Willard MacDonald building on First Street.

Lost in the Thursday morning fire that destroyed his office in the McArthur building were the former Liberal M.P.'s law library, legal files, correspondence, and other irreplaceable items accumulated in 25-years of law practice in the Prince County capital.

Lost also, was all his personal correspondence, including memorable communications with Louis St. Laurent, and the late MacKenzie King.

Mr. MacNaught also mentioned with regret, the loss of personally autographed pictures of these two liberal leaders, and many others dating back to his college days. Gone too, are souvenirs and mementoes of his visits to New Zealand, Australia, Fiji Islands, Honolulu, Japan, and many parts of Canada, and U.S.A., which he acquired on official visits while serving on the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association, and as parliamentary assistant to the minister of Fisheries.

Mr. MacNaught began the practice of law in Kensington in 1932, moving to Summerside in 1935 to the office destroyed in Thursday's fire.

Even while firemen were pouring water on the debris within the burned out buildings Thursday morning, Mr. MacNaught was busy establishing new law office facilities in the second storey office area of the Willard MacDonald Building.

Will Employ 280 Men On N. B. Project

OTTAWA (Special)—In a press release issued late Friday, the Department of Public Works confirmed the report published in the Guardian last Monday that a contract for construction of 213 housing units at Camp Gagetown had been awarded to the Summerside firm of M. F. Schurman Company Limited.

The houses are for the use of married personnel stationed at Gagetown. Amount of the contract is $2,192,125. Work on the new Gagetown housing development is scheduled to start on February 14 and a minimum of 38 units must be above ground by March 31 As the work proceeds the labor force required will be about 280 men. At present 659 housing units have been completed at Camp Gagetown and 741 additional units are under construction. Two elementary schools have been built for children at the immense military camp and two more are under construction, along with a high school.

Y's Men Vote Carnival Share To P. C. Hospital

A recommendation from the executive was accepted by a meeting of the Summerside Y's Men's Club Thursday to donate the club's share of the net proceeds from the 1958 Summerside Lobster Carnival to the Prince County Hospital.

District Governor Frank Cameron was the guest speaker at the supper meeting in the Y Centre. Mr. Cameron spoke on the aims and principles of Y's Men's International.

President Ken Walker acted as chairman with H. old Rodd as song leader and Morley Bell and Clarence Mercer as finesmaster.

Eric Sheen reported the Nativity scene had to be moved to new quarters and suggested a letter of thanks be sent to Edward Silliker of Wellington for loaning a truck in this connection.

Ivan Vaughan reported on the success of the newly-formed So-Ed group with some 80 members in attendance each Thursday at the Y Centre. President Ken reported on the success of the recent Christian Youth work program ending in a service last Sunday at the Church of Christ plus a hymn sing at the Y.

Firemen On Duty Last Night; Brace McKay Co. Ltd. Back In Business Again Yesterday

Two Summerside firemen remained on duty throughout last night with a line of hose ready to drench the still smouldering ruins of the Brace McKay building where fire flared up a couple of times yesterday in the ice covered basement wreckage which had been the merchandise of the recently modernized hardware and furniture store.

This building, along with one of their warehouse buildings, and the MacArthur estate building housing two stores, five offices, and two clubs, were destroyed in a $500,000.00 fire early Thursday morning.

Yesterday Brace McKay Co. Ltd., who suffered a $300,000 loss in the fire, were back in business in a limited way in an office beside the I.M.T. bus terminal on Water Street, a few doors east of their former location.

Mr. Lloyd Gorrill, president of Brace McKay Co. Ltd., and Mr. Claude Ives, secretary-treasurer of this company, said yesterday afternoon that they hope to return to business as before, with a more modern store, but while presently unable to give a definite announcement on the matter, expect to be able to do so within a couple of weeks.

They said that in their present office they are able to handle orders of any description in the lines of merchandise which they had stocked. They said that all of their building materials had been saved by having been stored in warehouses on the north side of First Street behind the former store. These materials, which were not damaged, include nails, shingles, cement, brick, insul board barb wire and fencing materials, rope, iron and plastic pipe, pump fittings, etc. Merchandise and furniture ordered previous to the fire is, and will continue to arrive daily, and special orders of any description can be handled as usual, they said.

They reported that no pilfering had taken place from the wreckage, and said that two watchmen are being retained in the area to keep spectators outside the roped off area to protect them from possible injury in the event that the brick walls of the fire-devastated building should fall.

Clothing Firm Plans To Resume
Mr. and Mrs. G. Frank Cameron, whose J and S Clothing Store and merchandise was lost in the Thursday morning fire, said last evening it is their intention to resume business if a location can be obtained.

They said that, in this respect, they hoped to find suitable facilities before Monday. In the meantime, and until this is possible, they are conducting office business in temporary quarters in the office of optometrist E. E. Parkman on Summer Street.

Spring merchandise previously ordered is arriving daily at Summerside, but about 12 unopened cartons of this clothing which was lost in the fire, will be repurchased as quickly as possible.

ley Bell expressed willingness to provide treats for the classroom at the high school which collects the most stamps in a forthcoming contest.

Don Adams reported the merchandise was arriving for the annual auction to be held on March 11th, and 12th; over CJRW.
