WASHINGTON (AP) — J. The director of the FBI issued the following statement: "The statement of Governor Orval Faubus last (Thursday) night that FBI agents held ten agents incommunicado for hours of questioning is as false as his recent statement that the FBI tapped his telephone. NONE HELD. "No teen-ager or anyone else has been held incommunicado by the FBI for hours of questioning. "We of course have talked to students, including those whose names have been furnished to us by Governor Faubus' counsel for the purpose of securing information with respect to possible violence. "Had Governor Faubus been interested in securing the truth rather than disseminating falsehoods, a telephone call to the Little Rock office of the FBI or to me would have provided him with the facts."

Russia, Britain, the United States, France and Nationalist China are permanent members of the six-member council. 3-Alarm Fire In Toronto, Heavy Loss

TORONTO (CP) — A fire which broke out in a restaurant broiler spread through a block containing nine stores and was still burning out of control late Friday. Three alarms brought 14 fire trucks to the scene, at Yonge and Alexander Sts. just north of the downtown area. The two-story block also contained offices and apartments. Firemen risked death or injury to remove cases of live ammunition from a sporting goods store in the block. They searched the premises for anyone who might be trapped. Several hours were expected to elapse before the blaze was brought under control. One insurance official estimated that damage may reach $1,500,000. Owner J. Adams of the Guide Restaurant said it started as "a little fire" in a broiler. "We called the fire brigade and asked the customers to leave. Then suddenly the place was full of smoke and we had to run out."

Detective Nails Bank Bandit During Holdup

MONTREAL (CP) — Two Montreal detectives, entering a bank to cash pay cheques Friday, walked into the midst of a $5,000 holdup and immediately became gunfire targets. Smoke billowed to a height of 250 feet. No flames were visible more than an hour after the outbreak. Detective-Sgt. Albert Dauphin, 49, was felled with a bullet lodged in his left hip. Before lapsing into unconsciousness he drew his revolver and fired as the three holdup men broke for the door. First reports said Dauphin's condition was grave but hospital reports late Friday said his condition is "not serious." Dauphin's partner, Det. - Sgt. Jeremie Manzerolle, dropped to the floor without being hit, then nailed one of the bandits with a flying tackle. The two others escaped in a car, Manzerolle taking quick note of the licence number. Police set up road blocks at all bridges leading from Montreal Island. Just before the detectives entered the branch of La Banque Canadienne Nationale the gunman herded 14 members of the bank staff and three customers into the vault, then rifled cash drawers and tellers' cages of the estimated $5,000. Bank authorities said the bandits left $9,000 in a paper bag on counter. The captured man is about 30 years old and weighs around 230 pounds. He told police he came from Quebec City.

Gives Opinion After Mock Battle In The North Sea

LONDON (AP) — A British admiral said Friday night NATO air-sea manoeuvres winding up today show the Western allies would be in trouble in the event of a sudden attack by Russia. Admiral Sir John Eccles told a press conference: "We have not got anything like enough forces with which to carry out our primary task, either in the air, under the sea or on the sea." The idea behind the manoeuvres was to study how to hit back in the event of enemy attack—presumably by the Russians. Sir John, summing up what the allies found out in the mock battle in the North Sea, said: "We were desperately short of all the hardware needed to fight this battle. I am not in a position to criticize political decisions but I say this as a professional man with over 40 years experience—I cannot carry out my task as given to me at the moment without more forces." GRAVE RISK The admiral, joint commander of the NATO sea exercise called Sea Watch, said: "To enter a war with the forces I have at my disposal at the moment—and I do not want to put it too strongly—we are running a very, very grave risk." Allied commanders have admitted concern about the strength of the Soviet submarine force. Sir John said: "The underwater threat has increased to a much greater extent than our defence capability. In recent years the submarine has, without any doubt at all, gone a very long way ahead of the devices with which we are at present equipped to sound and destroy it. The need is for a great campaign for a NATO scientific effort to improve the means of detecting and destroying the modern submarines." Fatal accidents, Asian flu and bad weather combined to bring another current NATO manoeuvre — Strikeback — in the North Atlantic to a virtual standstill. Fourteen American fliers have been killed in a series of crashes and the high command ordered all but precautionary anti-submarine patrols suspended.

French Premier Demands Vote

PARIS (Reuters) — Premier Maurice Bourges-Maunory is staking the life of his government on a vote of confidence Monday over his Algerian reform bill. Most forecasts are that the National Assembly will approve the bill but that the government, formed three months ago, could fall early next month over its financial and agricultural policies. The 42-year-old premier cut off all further debate on his bill to give Algeria a measure of self-government and demanded the vote. Under provisions of the bill, all Algerians would, for the first time since French soldiers marched into the North African territory in 1830, vote on a basis of equality. Suffrage would go equally to Europeans, Jews, Kabyls, Berbers, Arabs and other ethnic groups. There would be six local assemblies with local governments and a central executive for all Algeria presided over by a French cabinet minister. Despite the watered-down terms of the bill, its passage would reflect a victory for the Liberal viewpoint in France. After months of controversy between Conservatives and Liberals Bourges-Maunory succeeded in getting agreement at an all-party conference last week. WON TEST VOTE Early Friday, the Mouvement Republicain Populaire (Catholic) party leaders expressed disgust over changes in the bill's text.

Federal Surplus 120 Million Below Figures Of Year Ago

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal budgetary surplus at the end of five months of the fiscal year was about $120,000,000 below what it was a year ago, Finance Minister Fleming said Friday night. Figures in his monthly financial statement for August showed that since the start of the fiscal year a rise in revenues of $81,800,000 has been more than offset by a jump in expenditures of $201,700,000. Mr. Fleming said that while the budgetary surplus at the end of five months was $224,800,000, compared with $344,700,000 at the corresponding time in the 1956-57 fiscal year expenditures this year included $100,000,000 in April for the Canada Council and additional payments of $50,000,000 to the provinces. Revenues in the April-August period amounted to $2,999,400,000, compared with $2,017,600,000 a year ago. Expenditures increased to $1,874,600,000 from $1,672,000,000 last year. Payments to the provinces made this year on a monthly basis instead of quarterly as was done last year, totalled $144,300,000 in the first five months. Last year's five-month statement—reflecting only the first quarterly payment—gave them as $94,500,000. Personal income tax collections continued in August and in the first five months of the year to be the largest single source of revenue, followed by corporation income taxes. Income taxes in August were $125,000,000, boosting the year's total to $637,300,000. The collections were $106,600,000 in August 1956 and $370,800,000 in the April-August period. Corporation taxes were up to $14,800,000 from $102,700,000 during August, an increase to $572,000,000 from $548,400,000 in the first five months. National defence costs including defence production and civil defence, accounted for the biggest chunk of government spending. They were down slightly in August, to $14,500,000 from $142,900,000 but the cumulative total was higher at $534,900,000 up from $625,000,000.
