

Kiwanis Red Cross Program Is Concluded

The Red Cross swimming water safety at Brighton stated yesterday that the grand total of 9,277 children enjoyed the facilities of the Kiwanis Pool and the Red Cross Bath House this summer.

The Kiwanis Club and the Red Cross planned to keep this activity in operation until after Labor Day. However, a breakdown in the pumping apparatus necessitated closing the pool on Thursday, September 2.

The bronze medallion Life Saving tests this afternoon at 2 p.m. will complete the summer's program at Brighton Beach.

The Sanitary Engineering Division of the Dept. of Health and Welfare was co-operated with the Red Cross and the Kiwanis throughout the summer by testing the water samples daily.

United Church Council Delegates Look Forward To Seeing The Island

Of the 575 commissioners and guests who have made application for reservations at the General Council of the United Church of Canada meeting in Sackville September 15 - 24, almost all have expressed their desire to come to Prince Edward Island when the Council recesses for a sight-seeing tour on Saturday, September 18.

It has always been the custom to provide some form of entertainment for the delegates while they are at the Council and having the meeting at Sackville posed quite a problem for the planning committee. However when it was proposed that the entire assembly take the afternoon off to visit the Garden Province, the suggestion met with the approval of the entire committee.

Plans now call for a special train to leave Sackville in time to catch the crossing of the M. V. Abegweit to Borden where they will arrive at 12:30 p.m., Standard Time. Over 125 private automobiles supplied by members of the various congregations throughout the Island will be on hand to take the delegates on a tour of the island which will include a stop at Cavendish where they will see first hand the scenes made famous by Lucy Maude Montgomery in her Anne Books.

During their stay at Cavendish the different churches in that area will be hosts to the visitors at an afternoon tea. The motorcade will then continue on to Charlottetown where a tour of the City will be followed by a lobster dinner at the Charlottetown Hotel. Owing to the number of applications received, the planning committee has had to put a limit of 500 on the number that can be entertained. Visitors from outside the Maritimes will therefore be given precedence over those living in close proximity.

Since the United Church of Canada came into being in 1925 the General Council has met every second year and this is the first time that the meeting has taken place in the Maritime Provinces. The Maritime Conference considers it a signal honour to have the parent body of the Church meeting within its confines and the visit of the delegates to this area represents one of the largest delegations to come to these shores in some time, of great significance to the Island Presbytery.

The moderator of the United Church at the present time is Rev. Dr. A. A. Scott who was chosen for his high position in recognition of outstanding work he had performed as a professor in one of the largest Colleges of India. His predecessor was the Rev. Dr. MacKinnon Nicholson, principal of Pine Hill Divinity Hall, Halifax. Dr. Scott will lead the Commissioners composed of ministers and laymen (equal in number) to the Council and his successor will be named shortly after the meeting gets underway.

SUCCESSFUL TEACHERS CONVENTION IS CONCLUDED AT HUNTER'S RIVER

The Friday morning session of the Teachers Convention at Hunter's River yesterday opened with roll call. The two-day convention opened Thursday.

Mr. Malcolm MacKenzie, Assistant Director of Education, discussed the Curriculum of Studies at some length, and stated that "in some of our books we are still behind the standards set in other provinces of Canada; particularly in our Science program."

The question box and discussion took place by fellow teachers. Mr. MacKenzie capably assisted teachers in answering questions.

A demonstration on arithmetic in the intermediate grades was conducted by Mr. Derrill MacGuigan. He reminded the teachers that they are the most influential people of Canada, and that they should have a philosophy of education of what, why and how they are teaching.

Miss Bowness, Director of Junior Red Cross, spoke briefly on ways and means of J.R.C. work, and distributed enrollment forms.

Concluding the morning session two new members were appointed to the Board of Governors, namely Mrs. Jennie Stevenson and Miss Uldine White.

AFTERNOON SESSION

Dr. Frank MacKinnon opening the afternoon session, delivered an inspirational address. He said it would be well for teachers to remember three things:

- 1. Why do children go to school?
- 2. What is the teacher supposed to do?
- 3. What improvements can be made?

A teacher has a double responsibility. During the ages from 12-18 are the student years for training their minds for the future. The teacher and the school merely help. Too many parents load all the responsibility on the teacher; but the home is where three quarters of this load rests. The obligation of the teacher is to guide and direct, not to teach too much, but rather direct pupils to work for themselves, helping them rid themselves of the basic bad habits of life such as inaccuracy, carelessness and slothfulness. A good teacher brings out the best in her pupils.

Mr. MacKinnon stressed the point that he wished to see entrance students come into P.W.C. with their highest marks in the basic subjects as Arithmetic, English and Mathematics.

Miss Uldine White gave an interesting talk on her trip to the Ontario Leadership Camp which she had attended during the month of July.

The following resolutions were submitted:

- 11. Be it resolved that the Brunswick and Nova Scotia. While in Nova Scotia they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Clarke, Amherst.

Mrs. J. J. Trainor of Riverside Apartments, City, entered the Charlottetown Hospital on Tuesday and on Friday underwent an operation. Her condition last night was reported satisfactory.

Officer Cadet Jim Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wood, who has been stationed at H. M. C. S. Stadacona, Halifax, during the summer, is leaving this week-end for Royal Roads Naval College, Esquimalt, B. C.

Ivan Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Robinson is visiting relatives and friends after spending several weeks at Cleveland Y.M.C.A. home camp at Lake Tomagame, Ont., prior to returning to Geo. Williams College, Chicago.

SINCERE THANKS
Mr. Ambrose Duffy and Family and Sisters and Brothers of the late Mrs. Ambrose Duffy, wish to thank their many friends who sent Flowers, Mass Cards, Sympathy Cards and telegrams, and all those, who in any way helped them during their recent sad bereavement.

Local Student Enjoys Interlude

A pleasant and profitable interlude in his work as doorman at the Algonquin Hotel, Saint Andrews came to David Hurst 23-year-old Quebec University medical student whose home is in this City. The N. B. Medical society checked in this week at the Algonquin Hotel for its annual meeting and David was able to sit in on some of the lectures. At the conference were four leading figures in four leading fields of medicine and the young student found that he was quite welcome at these lectures.

David, while helping to straddle the economic gap which separates a doorman from a physician has a measure of re-assurance when he learns that his predecessor, was another medical student, John Chisne of Toronto, a dental undergraduate, David Stewart from Toronto is working with David in the same capacity.

Two more years including a year of interning and then a year's interning on his own will be required before David expects to hang out his shingle which he says may be back home or maybe in Ontario. Described as a cheerful courteous attendant in his summertime job this former graduate of Prince of Wales College will have a few days to visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Hurst.

Opening Sessions Yesterday of Annual Convention of P. E. I. Medical Society

"Within 25 years, for every able-bodied worker, there will be one physically handicapped, one chronically ill and one over the age of 65 years," was the prediction made by Dr. G. F. Strong, President of the Canadian Medical Association at a luncheon yesterday.

Dr. Strong was speaking before the P. E. I. Island Division of the Association at a luncheon given in honor of the members by the Board of Trustees at the Charlottetown Hospital. "It is not sufficient that the medical profession limit the scope of its efforts to the prevention of disease and injury," Dr. Strong declared. "The profession must recognize its responsibilities in the restoration of disabled to fullest physical, mental, social, vocational and economic usefulness. Rehabilitation is the third phase of medicine ranking equally in importance with the other two - preventive and curative medicine," he said.

Describing the effect of a comprehensive program of an institution with 130 disabled war veterans, some of whom had been in bed for ten years, Dr. Strong said that after nine months of rehabilitation effort, 25 left hospital and took gainful employment, 40 returned to their homes, 30 were ambulatory, 25 capable of self care and only ten showed no improvement. The estimated saving on hospitalization was over one million dollars.

64,000 rehabilitations were reported in the United States in 1952, the Doctor said. "This group was costing the taxpayers over eight million dollars. They were returned to jobs at a cost of six million and will now pay about ten million in income taxes."

"However," Dr. Strong stressed, "the economic gain was not the only one. The benefit in morale and self-respect greatly overweighed the economic aspects." He said that more people must be attracted and trained for field rehabilitation and that more doctors must take up the specialty of physical medicine and rehabilitation. He urged the provincial Division to set up a Committee on rehabilitation, as has already been done by the Canadian Medical Association.

The morning session of the Association was devoted entirely to routine business. In the afternoon, the assembly was addressed by Dr. Alexander S. MacMillan, Clinical Associate in Radiology at the Harvard School of Medicine and Radiologist, Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary. His talk dealt with clinical aspects relating to sinuses, mastoids, oesophagus and bronchi, all of which was highly technical.

A brief was discussed and adopted for presentation later to the Federal Government pressing for a greater share in the tax dollar to be granted the municipalities.

Two senior cabinet ministers, Hon. Paul Martin and Hon. Lester Pearson, addressed the meetings and took part in the discussions and deliberations. "Hon. Mr. Martin went out of his way to give P. E. Island a plug," said Mayor Stewart, when he declared, "The Island has the best beaches of any place in the world I have visited."
