Prison Tells Unique Story Of Silent Man

MCLESTER, Okla. (AP)—The story of Oklahoma state penitentiary's "silent man"—a prisoner who didn't talk for the first 18 years he was behind walls—was disclosed Thursday.

It was told by reporters of the Tulsa Tribune who were present three years ago when the convict, John A. Cane, broke his vow and spoke for the first time since he was imprisoned.

Cane had been known in the penitentiary for the 18 years as "The Dummy" and other prisoners spoke freely in his presence because he was deaf as well as unable to talk.

As a result, when Cane talked before a parole board in 1952, prison authorities decided to keep secret the fact that he had been able to hear and talk all the time. They feared if other prisoners learned Cane's hearing had been all right, they might kill him. Cane is still in prison serving a life term for murder.

QUIT TALKING IN '34

Arrested after his wife and three small children disappeared in 1934, Cane broke down and admitted killing and burying them. He showed police the graves, then refused to say another word.

In 1952 at the parole board hearing he began to talk again, but gave rational answers to only a few queries. He was taken to a state mental hospital for examination and returned as mentally well.

Back at the prison, "The Dummy" began to talk to fellow prisoners for the first time. Tribune reporter Nolen Bullock related Thursday from an interview with Cane the prisoner's own story of his silence.

Cane, 61, explained: "I made up my mind I'd never say another word. I decided I'd play I couldn't hear. I felt my life was a living hell and I had sworn to myself never to open my lips again."

Asked how he could control himself so well, Cane replied: "When a man makes up his mind, he can do anything. It's just like if one wants to quit smoking or chewing."

Cane said he was told at the mental hospital that "if I didn't start talking I would never get a parole—and also that I would reach a stage where I couldn't talk."

When he returned to the prison and talked to other inmates, the word to them was that he had undergone surgery to restore his speech and hearing.

Hillsboro District Re-organized

A largely attended meeting was held in Boyne L. O. L. room on August 23 for the purpose of re-organizing the Hillsboro District L. O. L. to comprise Hamilton L. O. L., Clyde River, Boyne L. O. The visiting brethren were welcomed to Boyne L. O. L. rooms by the Worshipful Master, Brother H. Bennett Carr, who also spoke briefly to the meeting which was followed by beneficial speeches by other persons. Brother Shaw then called upon the Grand Master of P. E. I., Brother P. G. MacEachern, to take the chair for the election and installation of district officers, which was as follows:—

W. M.—Brother Gordon Ross, D. M.—Brother Milton Furness, Chaplain—Brother J. L. Campbell, Recording Secretary—Brother K. B. Young, Financial Secretary—Brother Winston Drake, Treasurer—Brother C. D. After the installation appropriate remarks were made by the newly elected officers. The meeting also voiced its appreciation to Brother J. V.
