

VIEW FROM THE TOP

THE

ENGINEER'S

BI-WEEKLY

One man explaining to another why he fired his secretary:

"Two weeks ago" he said, "was my 45th birthday and I wasn't feeling too hot that morning anyway. I went into breakfast knowing that my wife would be pleasant to me. And she didn't even say "Good morning" let alone say "Happy Birthday". I said, well, that's wives for you. The children will remember.

"They came into breakfast, and didn't say a word. When I started for the office, I was feeling pretty low. As I walked into my office, Janet said "Good morning Boss - Happy Birthday". I felt a little bit better - someone had remembered. I worked until noon. About noon, she knocked on my door and said "You know, it's such a beautiful day outside and it is your birthday - lets go to lunch, just you and I."

We went to lunch. We didn't go where we normally go; we went out into the country to a little private place. We had two drinks. I enjoyed the lunch tremendously. On the way back to the office, she said, "You know, it's such a beautiful day, we don't really need to go back to the office, do we?"

She said lets go by my apartment and I will fix you another drink. We went to her apartment and had the drink and she said, "Boss, if you don't mind, I think I'll go and change into something more comfortable". I allowed her to do so, as I didn't mind at all. She went into the bedroom and in a few minutes came out of the bedroom carrying a big birthday cake followed by my wife and children. All were singing "Happy Birthday" and there I sat with nothing on but my socks.

As for the announcements, there is a taffy pulling contest at St. Peter's, not a pete pulling contest at St. Taffy's.

Once there was a sparrow who decided to fly south for the winter; however, soon its wings were coated with ice and it crashed to the ground in a farmyard.

As it lay there half-frozen, a cow walked by and crapped on the poor sparrow. "Surely this must be the end" thought the sparrow.

However, laying there all covered with the warm shit, it soon revived and started singing. Just then, a big cat came by, heard the sparrow, dug it out and promptly ate the sparrow.

THE MORAL OF THE STORY:

1. Not everyone who shits on you is your enemy.
2. Not everyone that digs you out is your friend.
3. If you ever find yourself covered with shit, keep your mouth shut.

A newly ordained priest was nervous about his first mass so he went to a friend for advice. The answer he received was to put a few drops of vodka into his holy water. So he did and the priest went through mass with no sign of nervousness whatsoever. After mass he went to his superior for his opinion. The superior's answer was, "you did all right, but there are a few points that I want to make clear."

1. There are 10 commandments, not 12.
2. There were 12 apostles, not 10.
3. You do not refer to Jesus Christ and the apostles as J.C. and the boys.
4. You do not refer to the cross as the Big 'T'.
5. It's Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, not Big Daddy, Junior, and the Spook.
6. Jesus's mother is referred to as the Virgin Mary, not Mary with the cherry.
7. David slew Goliath; he did not kick the shit out of him.

Rumour Hath It

- that Katherine Ross has a hickey which she's not afraid to hide and what she's trying to find out is which of the three placed it on her personals.
- that Moans and groans have been heard coming out of Bernadine 313.
- that Sgt. Preston is going west and his dog King is staying home.
- That Barbara Frumm would like to thank her two most devoted Fans (P.B. & N.M.) for all their loyal support and kind wishes!!!
- That even a poor lefted handed boy from NEFD can make it big in the city!
- that D.D. and J.B. have been on the bottle lately.
- that apathy was not present at UPEI on March 31 as many students participated in "The Protest".
- that UPEI's oldest graduate, Jim Costello, will be leaving for home shortly.
- that Cynthia and Larry are back together (who gives a damn?).
- that beer bottles have legs. If you happen to see any (about 20 cases) walk by, contact 1st floor Bernadine.
- that applications for UPEISU jobs are now available.
- that the new executive takes office May 1st.
- that Maureen has done a terrific job as editor of the SUN. Don't you think so?
- that Peter Wilson is campus renowned for "Hot Parties".
- that the 20% off sale is at the Bookstore NOW!
- that you'd be drunk too if you curled from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. and spent $43.00, right, Neil?
- Don't eat the Chinese food at the cafe when Bio. 310 students finish with their cats.

- For the cost of residence next fall, there better be shoe shine boys in every bathroom.
- that Pak has been seen buying a bra at Kmart.
- that Darlene and John H. are engaged but to whom is the question.
- that Kevin is known as the mad rapist.
- that Kevin R. thinks there is a pizza joint on campus when he is in the moonlight with Kim.
- that the Whimp thinks incest is best because it's a game the whole family can play.
- that Titdiddle-bum has "Save the 10 Fever".
- that a Freudian slip makes everyone's name start with K even if it isn't Kim. Right Kheather?
- that a certain MR. K. Walker gets off peeping into women's washrooms.
- that Miss R of 313 Bernadine turned down James Bond and pizza, because "her man" was coming to 'study' with her.
- that some civic minded person/s delivered a whole years supply of toilet paper ON Pak's door.
- that Carson has to protect his kidneys because he is getting old.
- that after seeing Monty Python's Holy Grail, B.M. of 101 Marian fears killer-rabbits lurking in his room.
- that Marcel has a twin sister!
- that the ski trip's regal party was a wild one. Started Friday, went all weekend, right Ernie.
- that one of the key participants of the ski trip missed out on the party. I wonder why N. ?
- that Burt is being considered for a role as Clyde #2 in Clint E.'s new movie.