

LOSES HAND IN 'CHICKEN' GAME

Terry Suluga, 16, of San Francisco lies dazed and restless in a General Hospital bed after losing his left hand and all but the thumb and index finger of his right Thursday in a challenge with a companion over which boy would first pull his hands off a San Francisco waterfront railroad track where a switch engine was operating. Terry has pillow-size bandages on both arms and the doctors have not yet told the lad of his loss.

First Aid For Ailing Houses

By ROGER C. WHITMAN
DARKEN IVORY?

QUESTION: Is there any way to darken or tint ivory? I recently bought a small ivory figure which is practically white because it is new. I prefer it darker.

ANSWER: As you are aware ivory discolors and darkens gradually with age. To tint a cream color, use tea; use coffee for a quite dark color.

QUESTION: I have a small tool shack covered with an asphalt-impregnated roofing paper. I have tried several times to fasten down one piece with roofing cement where it loosens, but without success. What can I use?

ANSWER: Some roofing papers require special adhesives, recommended by the roofing paper manufacturer. Check with your roofer or dealer. Or try the kind called lap cement, which is a liquid asphalt. Neeling down with a batten should anchor the piece securely. Use rustproof nails.

QUESTION: My house is equipped with galvanized rain-sprouts which are leaking at the joints. How can these joints be repaired?

ANSWER: Spread asphalt roofing cement over the leaky joint areas. Embed freezer grade aluminum foil in the cement, then spread more cement over the foil. This "sandwich" repair should give long satisfactory service. Handy patch repair kits containing fiberglass patching, and epoxy-like cement, available at most hardware stores, also excellent for this type of repair.

QUESTION: We have a bronze plaque that has become badly tarnished and very dark and dull. How can the metal be cleaned and brightened?

ANSWER: To brighten bronze surfaces, rub with dry whiting or rottenstone. Then rinse the powder off with clear water and wipe dry with a clean soft cloth. To protect the metal surface and retard tarnishing, apply a very thin coat of good quality paste wax, or spray on clear plastic or lacquer.

QUESTION: We would like to fix up a front-basement room partly for recreation and also for appearance. The ceiling has the original joists and flooring unpainted. Instead of covering with ceiling tile, we would like to consider only painting the ceiling and joists, and tiling the floor instead. Could this be done preferably in an Early American paint or stain.

ANSWER: Certainly can be done, and should look very nice, too! If you wish to cover the wood grain, use a top quality vinyl plastic latex paint, or any top quality wax stain. Paint dealers have a wide assortment of ready-to-use colors and shades available. Remember that the lighter color you select, the brighter and lighter the room will be. Whichever product you use, be sure to follow manufacturers label directions carefully. Surfaces must be absolutely clean and free of any trace of soot, grease, grime, wax, etc., before applying any finish.

LACQUER FINISH

QUESTION: I am converting a small wood chest, with drawers, into a silver cabinet. I am removing the present finish down to bare wood and would like to refinish the chest in that Oriental lacquered, shiny finish, with a deep red color underneath. How is this applied?

ANSWER: Be sure the wood surface is sanded satin-smooth and all dust is wiped off, before applying the lacquer. Easiest method is to put on smooth, even, thin coats with an aerosol spray. An almost mirror-like finish, if you have patience can be obtained by the following procedure (used by old cabinet makers): After the red, or any other color you desire, has thoroughly dried, apply eight to 10 thin coats of clear lacquer, sanding lightly between coats. The more coats, the richer and deeper the lustre.

MOSS ON SHINGLES

QUESTION: Our small tool shack has a composition shingled roof. This develops a moss-like growth or coating on the surface. A stiff brush and scrubbing with a detergent solution removes the moss for a short time, then it reappears. How can this be remedied?

ANSWER: After scrubbing the roof as you are doing, rinse thoroughly and apply a solution of one cup household chlorine bleach to two quarts of water and allow to remain about five minutes to kill mildew spores. Rinse thoroughly to remove all trace of the bleach (garden hose good for this job.) Then apply a mildewproofing preparation available at some large hardware stores and marine supplies stores. Are there trees cutting off air circulation and sun from the roof? If so, these should be trimmed.

CRACKS IN STUCCO

QUESTION: Our home is six years old and the exterior is stucco. There are numerous cracks in the stucco. What can be done about them?

ANSWER: Use a latex patching concrete to fill the cracks in QUESTION: Our home is six years old and the exterior is stucco. There are numerous cracks in the stucco. What can be done about them?

ANSWER: Use a latex patching concrete to fill the cracks in the stucco. Available at masonry supply dealers and large hardware stores. If the patched areas need color touch-up to match rest of house color, or to repaint entire stucco coating, use a good quality vinyl plastic latex paint; follow manufacturer's directions on the paint container carefully.

DYEING SISAL RUG

QUESTION: We have a large sisal rug on our enclosed porch. The color is somewhat faded and we would like to dye it a different color. What kind of dye or paint can be used?

ANSWER: A plastic rubber fabric paint available at some large paint and housewares dealers can be used. You can also use an awning paint, following manufacturer's directions carefully. Or paint the rug with benzine tinted with color-in-oil, available in tubes at paint stores; this penetrates quickly into the fibers and dries rapidly. With the latter material, be sure to take every precaution against fire. Before using any of the paints, protect the floor under the rug with several layers of newspaper or building paper, or plastic sheeting.

REPAIR NO GOOD

QUESTION: I repaired several deep cracks in the plaster walls in our foyer, before repainting. But the repair seems to have been no good; the patching plaster (I bought the ready-prepared type) fell out. What is the proper method for filling plaster cracks?

ANSWER: To get the patching material to stay in the crack the crack should first be widened and opened down to the lath. All loose particles must then be brushed out and the inner surfaces moistened with water. Then the patching material is forced into the groove.

THIS WEEK AT SDU

SDU's Winter Carnival Is Well On Way To Reality

By WINSTON MacGREGOR

The Saint Dunstan's Winter Carnival '66 is well on its way to reality. The chairman, Charley McMillan, called a meeting on Thursday evening to outline the major events in the carnival schedule.

Our theme for this year is: You'll never guess! Remember that song way back when — "Walkin' In A Winter Wonderland." Well, the theme is very appropriate and all-embracing: It's a Winter Wonderland.

The Carnival will begin on Thursday and continues through Sunday on January 27-30 inclusive. It will present four, big, fun-packed days with basketball games, hockey games, snow sculpture and other class competitions, and of course the crowning of the carnival queen for 1966.

Thursday's events are presented as a "warm-up" to the carnival. The next day brings the major entertainment of the whole sky ride. Sh! Sh! Rumor whispers at my shoulder that we're getting the Clancy Brothers. Yes! They're coming in person!

Saturday gives a send-off with the gracious carnival ball and the crowning of the even more gracious carnival queen chosen from among six candidates. Saint Dunstan's Day pops along then as the darkness unfolds on Sunday. The major attraction this day will be the variety show in the evening with all its ardent and talented presentations.

I may sound like a bugle blaring out a victory, but success depends on you and me and all of us together. We have to accept our responsibility, each in our own way, to contribute all we are able for a glorious success.

FRUITION

The November issue of the Red and White, that product of student literary inspiration, has produced reactions as easily as an acid and a base. The hope is that the result will be a salt — that is some crystallized action taken on the situations presented for review.

The paper as a whole was a critical analysis of everything from athletics to the religious art displayed in the chapel. The paper was not meant to criticize just for the sake of criticism.

The first test for the varsity hockey team was a shut-out for them, a fine display of strength on the part of an organized and vigorous team. The Dalhousie team was heavy, slow, and their goalie played a tremendous game.

For the Saint it meant also to win, and they won the first of many to come this season. The game was one where both team and fans got down to business and let the school spirit absorb everyone present.

The man who stepped into Billy McMillan's shoes for St. Dunstan's, Rick O'Donnell, played very fine game with two goals and two assists to his credit. Rick seems quite at home there, and his addition to the club will prove to be a great asset.

This afternoon the Saints are the hosts of the Mount Allison

However, most of it implies this in that it gives few, if any, constructive ideas about rectifying the situations under fire.

The November issue has been a success for it seems to be getting some concrete reaction from many quarters on campus. Now it is possible that there will be more active participation in the newspaper.

quest to have "de Gaulle" dropped from the name if it had been made during the 1963 Lobster War—a fishing-rights dispute between Brazil and France—but not now, since the president of France is a hero and a statesman who deserves every respect.

The student asked the court Friday for permission to change his name, dropping the de Gaulle, because his friends made fun of him.

He said later he would appeal the decision. "It is not fair that I should have to go on carrying this ridiculous name and have to pay for the excessive admiration my father had for Second World War leaders."

'66 Acadian makes six eye-catching, fun-loving, gas-saving models...

Eye-catching Acadian provides family-size economy cars can be good-looking, roomy and exciting. You can have it both ways: economical motoring—and a car with slim, graceful lines that will look great in your driveway or on the road. And the luxurious interiors belie Acadian's low price. They're all color-keyed and appointed with the comforts that make driving and riding a pleasure.

Fun-loving, Acadian comes in three series, six models: two 4-door sedans, a 2-door sedan, a 4-door station wagon, and two new-look sport coupes. Shown below, Acadian's luxury-bargain hardtop, the Canso Sport Deluxe Coupe, which features a pair of hip-hugging Strato bucket seats and color-keyed, long-lasting wall-to-wall carpeting. Gas-saving standard power team for the '66 Acadian matches a peppery 120-horsepower thrift six to a new transmission fully synchronized on all three forward speeds. The engine has seven main bearings for long wear, and thrives on a restricted diet of regular-grade gasoline. For high-speed highway driving, trailer-toting, or just plain high spirits, two V8's are available. The standard V8 develops 195 horsepower; then there's a no-kidding-around 327 cubic inch, 350 horsepower V8. Also available: four-speed fully-synchronized or automatic transmission. Get in on the fun today. See and drive an Acadian.
