AUGUST 8, 1885.

Funeral of General Grant.

GENERAL GRANT was buried to-day, amid a nation's lamentations, in which all civil peoples sympathized.

Character in Representative Men.

THE action of the Conservative election agent with respect to Sir Charles Dilke, as reported in another column, will be variously criticized.

"An Eye to Business"

After four months the "Liberals" of St. John have, in view of the coming election, passed a resolution of condolence with the relatives of the Hon. Isaac Burpee, and conclude with the following paragraph:—

"As an earnest and best tribute to his memory, and a mark of the respect in which he was so justly held, the convention urge upon the Liberal party of this city and county, whom he so faithfully served, to unite in maintaining successfully those political principles for which, under his leadership and guidance, they contended, as representing the true policy of prosperity and advancement to the Dominion."

On which the Montreal Gazette remarks:—"Now, four months after the event, when an election is approaching, and it is necessary to secure the support of the friends of the late member, the Liberal party has gone through the form of passing resolutions of condolence, winding them up with a political suggestion, after manner of the disconsolate widow who had inscribed upon the tombstone of her late husband the fact that the business would be carried on at the old stand."

In reply to a representative of the Gazette, of Montreal, Alderman Grenier stated that it was the intention of the French people (the Rouge element) to prepare a petition to the Governor General asking that the capital sentence on the half-breed rebel should be commuted to one of penal servitude for life.

Parliamentary Sessions.

The extraordinary length of the recent session of parliament has stimulated interest in the duration of previous Dominion parliaments. The following table, which has been carefully prepared, shows this at a glance:—

Table with columns: Year, Opening, Prorogation, Days. Rows list sessions from 1867 to 1885.

THE steamer Humboldt, of Bilbao, Spain, 1,650 tons, bound to St. John to load coal, went ashore on Wallace Rock, N. B. She will probably be a total wreck.

General Grant.

CANON FARRAR'S TRIBUTE—"WRITE HIS VIRTUES ON BRASS, FOR MEN'S EXAMPLE, HIS FAULTS IN WATER."

LONDON, Aug. 4.—The great memorial service in Westminster Abbey this afternoon was an imposing event added to the history of England.

CANON FARRAR'S MEMORIAL ADDRESS. "Eight years have not passed since the late Dean Stanley, whom Americans so loved and honored, was walking around this abbey with General Grant, explaining the wealth of great memorials."

"To-day we assemble at the obsequies of the great soldier, whose sun set while it was yet day, and at whose funeral services in America tens of thousands are assembled at this moment to mourn with the weeping family and friends. I desire to speak simply and directly, with generous appreciation, but without idle flattery, of him whose death has made a nation mourn."

THE DEVELOPMENT OF MANHOOD.

"If the men who knew him in Galena, obscure, silent, unprosperous, unambitious, had said—if any one had predicted that he would become twice President and one of the foremost men of the day, the prophecy would have seemed extravagantly ridiculous."

"America has had two martyred Presidents, both sons of the people. One a homely man, who was a farm lad at the age of 7, a railsplitter at 19, a Mississippi boatman at 28, and who in manhood proved one of the strongest, most honest and God-fearing of modern rulers. The other grew from a shoeless child to be an humble teacher in the Hiram Institute."

KINGS OF MEN.

"With those Presidents America need not blush to name the leather seller of Galena. Every true man derives a patent of nobleness direct from God. Was not the Lord for thirty years a carpenter in Nazareth? Lincoln's and Garfield's and Grant's early conscientious attention to humble duties fitted them to become kings of men. The year 1861 saw the outbreak of the most terrible of modern wars. The hour came and the man was needed. Within four years Grant commanded an army vaster than had ever before been handled by man. It was not luck, but the result of inflexible faithfulness, indomitable resolution, sleepless energy, iron purpose, persistent tenacity. He rose by the upward gravitation of natural fitness. The very soldiers became impregnated with his spirit. Gen. Grant has been grossly and unjustly called a butcher. He loved peace and hated bloodshed. But it was his duty at all costs to save the country. The struggle was not for victory, but for existence; not for glory, but for life or death. In his silence, determination and clearness of insight Grant resembled Washington and Wellington. In the hottest of battle his speech never exceeded 'Yea, yea' and 'Nay, nay.'"

THE FUTURE OF THE NATION.

"God's light has shown for the future destinies of a mighty nation that the war of 1861 was a necessary, a blessed work. The Church has never refused to honor the faithful soldier fighting for the cause of his country and his God. The cause for which Grant fought—the unity of a great people, the freedom of a whole race—was as great and noble as when at Lexington the embattled farmers fired the shot which resounded around the world. The South accepted a bloody arbitrament, but the cancer and fury of the past are buried in oblivion. The names of Lee and Jackson will be a common heritage with those of Garfield and Grant. Americans are no longer Northerners and Southerners, but Americans. What verdict history will pronounce upon Grant as a politician and a man I know not, but here and now the voice of censure, deserved or undeserved, is silent. We leave his faults to the mercy of the merciful."

AN EXAMPLE FOR GENERATIONS.

"Let us write his virtues on brass for men's example. Let his faults, whatever they may have been, be written on water. Who can tell if his closing hours of torture and misery were not blessings in disguise—God purging the gold from dross until the strong man was utterly purified by his strong agony? Could we be gathered in the most fitting place to honor General Grant? There is no lack of American memorials here. We add another to-day. Whatever there be between the two nations to forget and forgive is forgotten and forgiven. If the two peoples which are one be true to their duty, who can doubt that the destinies of the world are in their hands? Let America and England march in the van of freedom and progress, showing the world not only a magnificent spectacle of human happiness, but a still more magnificent spectacle of two peoples united, leaving righteousness and hating iniquity, inflexibly faithful to the principles of eternal justice, which are the unchanging law of God."

Every year the Judges of Assize in England send to Queen Victoria the written names of three men in each county from whom to choose his sheriffs. She indicates her selection by sticking a pin through the names. But this is an empty ceremony, for the choices are really made beforehand by the Prime Minister.

The Dilke Scandal.

THE STORY OF THE SCANDALOUS AFFAIR PUBLISHED IN PAMPHLET FORM.

The scandal in which Sir Charles Dilke is involved will not stand at his bidding, and even his lavish payment of $125,000 to the aggrieved but purchasable husband has not been potent enough to secure him peace. His political enemies have now taken up the story in earnest, and deliberately propose to use it as campaign ammunition against him in the canvass for the general elections in every way in which it can be made effective. The Tory election agent for Chelsea, the borough which Sir Charles represents, has collected what is believed to be the true story of the scandalous adventure, and has published it in pamphlet form. The pamphlet has been mailed to every one of Sir Charles' registered constituents, and copies have been scattered broadcast upon the streets of Chelsea. This is the first actual publication of the scandal in England, and this does not mince matters in the least; publishes names, dates and localities without reserve. If the allegations were untrue, either Sir Charles Dilke, Mrs. Crawford, or her husband, would have ample grounds for proceeding, both criminally and civilly, against the publishers. The election agent who has published the pamphlet pleads "truth and justification." He says that, firstly, the charges are true, and secondly, it is right and desirable that they should be made known, for the culprit is seeking the suffrages of his fellow men to secure his return to a public post of honor and importance, and the electors have a right to know the kind of men for whom they are to be asked to vote. It is probable, however, that the agent relies more upon the probable unwillingness of Sir Charles to add publicity to the scandal than upon this technical defence. In Chelsea the great majority of the population had hitherto been in total ignorance of the scandal, and its revelation has caused a sensation of the most painful kind.

Boston Markets.

BOSTON, Aug. 5.

Eggs—There has been a good demand for fresh Eastern, which command 15 and 15½. The best Northern and Island are taken at 14 and 14½. Very few Western are worth over 13 and 13½. At the close 16c is asked for fresh Eastern, which are scarce. We quote P. E. Island at 14 and 14½.

Fish—There has been an immense catch of Mackerel the past three days. Receipts at outports and here since Friday foot up some 20,000 barrels, including Shore and Bay trips. Barnstable Bay is swarming with Mackerel, and large schools are seen in other places. The fish are of fine quality and size, and a good part of each fare will inspect ones and twos. Prices continue low. Sales of Shore have been made at $3 per barrel, with barrel, and Bay at $2.25 to $2.75 per bbl, as to quality. The Bays run smaller than Shore. Cargo lots of inspected Shore have been sold at $2.50 for No. 3; $5 for No. 2; and $10 for No. 1. A few lots of Block Island Mackerel sold at $6.50 for No. 2; $12.50 for No. 1; and $17 for extras. Trade has improved a little and at low prices now ruling dealers expect liberal orders. No Mackerel were brought up by the Halifax steamer on Monday. Nova Scotia Mackerel are not wanted, and have no regular selling price. Receivers who cleaned out a month ago were fortunate. Codfish continue quiet and steady. The weather is still unfavorable for curing and only small lots are offered. Choice large dry Bank command $3.50 to $3.75 per q'l. Hake, Haddock and Pollock are without movements of importance. Nothing of consequence doing in pickled Herring.

Windows Fifty Dollars Each.

ENTERPRISING PEOPLE WHO EXPECT TO REAP BIG HARVEST.

The burial of General Grant will be in the nature of a harvest for a large number of enterprising people in this city. As soon as it became known that he was to be interred here, and the route of the funeral procession was learned, a small army of speculators began to canvass the proprietors of empty rooms on Broadway, from which a good view of the procession could be had. A Herald reporter who called upon a number of people who had advertised accommodations found that they had an abiding faith in the willingness of New Yorkers to pay big prices for the privilege of witnessing the last honors paid to Gen. Grant. A balcony is to be built around the second floor of a corner building on Broadway. Seats on this balcony can be had for $5 each, except at one point which is considered specially desirable, where the tariff will be $10. Then the second floor rooms are all to be let out. One small room the speculator considers worth $50. About a dozen people can squeeze into positions where they can see the procession. But another speculator further up Broadway beats this all hollow. He has no seats for less than $10 each. He has three or four little arrangements that he calls "balconies," but which are really diminutive fire escape landings. Three people would take up all the room there is in them, but he calculates that seven people will gladly pay $10 each for this "accommodation." He is willing to let each of them to a party, however, at $50 apiece.

Cholera in Paris.

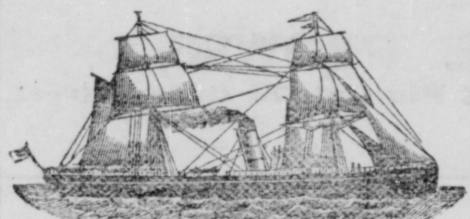

It is reported that there are several cases of cholera in Paris hospital, and a number of other patients with the disease are undergoing private treatment in that city. The authorities of the city and all the newspapers, except the Ori du Peuple and the radical organs, refrain from mentioning the appearance of the disease in Paris, fearing the announcement would frighten away the English and American tourists, who are thronging to the city. The Americans who have been warned are going either to England or Switzerland. The hospitals are actively preparing to combat the epidemic.
