Palace Cars for Horses.

A CONTRAST TO THE OLD DAYS OF SUFFERING ON THE RAILWAY.

Says the Montreal Witness:—Some ten years ago when railway communication was first opened to Manitoba, the horses sent there by rail suffered severely during the journey, and not a few of them never recovered fully from the hardships endured by the way. Things are wonderfully changed now, and horses shipped to the Northwest in Kimball's palace horse cars, arrive at their destination in as good condition as when shipped, and in about half the time formerly spent on the road. These palace horse cars are very long, about fifty feet, and are divided into two compartments, each having eight narrow but comfortable stalls (four on each side) in which the horses stand facing the centre of the compartment, which contains the feed, while the water is kept in a large tank on top of the centre of the car, and by means of pipes is readily let into the feeding troughs in front of the horses. Should any of the horses be sick, or require extra attention, or even need to be removed from the car, this can readily be done without disturbtng the others. There is an adjustable bar placed across the car above the hind quarters of the horses, which effectually prevents any attempts at kicking should a nag feel so disposed. The fastening for the horse's head is so arranged that while the horse has all the liberty required for feeding or drinking, he is not able to bite his neighbor. Should any of the horses show excessive timorousness, the person in charge standing in the centre of the compartment can readily soothe his equine forebodings with a little patting on the nose. There are over thirty horses to be shipped from the stock yards at Hochelaga in these palace cars, bound for the Northwest.

May It Prove a Warning.

(From the Pictou News.)

The case of Angus Matheson should serve as a warning to those persons who think it a very clever thing to impose on newspaper publishers by sending bogus items for publication. A few weeks since a number of items were sent us from Plainfield which we supposed genuine. They were seemingly of a most innocent character in so far as anyone not intimately acquainted with that neighborhood could determine. Subsequent revelations, however, proved those items to be false and quite offensive to many of the worthy citizens of Plainfield. The matter was investigated and the discovery made that the author of the bogus correspondence was the individual above named. Information was at once laid against him and he was summoned to appear in court on Tuesday of this week. Fortunately for Mr. Matheson the prosecution was willing to exercise clemency, and on his confessing his fault and apologizing for the same, he was let off after paying the entire costs of the proceedings (about $25.) In dismissing the case His Worship, Justice Narraway, spoke in an eloquent and impressive manner. He stated that the publisher of a newspaper, especially when a comparative stranger to many sections throughout which his paper circulates, was largely at the mercy of any unprincipal character, who might seek to impose upon him in such a manner as the present. He assured the defendant that the penalty for such an offence was no slight one, being imprisonment in the penitentiary for from two years to life. Mr. Matheson may congratulate himself on being let off so easily but we hope the lesson will prove a salutary one to him and a warning to any others who may be inclined to imitate his smartness.

Free Rum or Cider—Which?

Whether the proposed constitutional amendment in Massachusetts against rum is also against cider, is being, as it ought to be well agitated. We believe fruit-growers feel about manufacturing a home beverage somewhat like the woman whom the learned Dr. Abernethy once remonstrated with for mutilating her husband's face and head with her fingernails in a family jar. Said the worthy doctor,—Madam, are you not ashamed, treating the head of this family thus?—in fact, your head, madam." The virago retorted fiercely, "Well, doctor, if that be true, haven't I a right to scratch my own head?" It seems to us, prohibition advocates should reflect that, so long as humanity is unfitted to its surroundings and conditions of life, so long evil will exist, and human beings foolishly try to "drown misery" with strong drink. But increase human happiness by every possible means; lessen that mother's burden that she may bear more healthy children; then ameliorate their hunger, disease, and pain by better physical as well as moral training, and you will have plucked out the most deadly fang of the monster—intemperance, while farmers and fruit-growers are left to pursue an honest calling. Acting upon this precept, we would go farther and proclaim that thousands of families are now suffering with troubles that scores of persons have tried to relieve with strong drink. "Hot lemonade with a stick," "rock and rye" are familiar recipes. Temperance people should teach others to find some better remedy for hacking coughs, bronchial irritations, catarrhal inflammation, rheumatism, and neuralgia than whiskey. Said a well known Boston merchant, recently, to a perty of friends: "I used to resort to whiskey when attacked with rheumatism and neuralgia. But I know a remedy—Johnson's Anodyne Liniment—that will fix it for me every time Truly, it is the most certain remedy known for any pain or inflammation. It is used internally as much as externally. Many people do not know this. The manufacturers, I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass., will send free to any one a pamphlet telling how to use it. A teaspoonful, properly used, will accomplish wonders. dy 6i w li

Figures, nevertheless, are very potent factors in any argument, and for that reason are very often distorted and abused. The Empire's Parliamentary correspondent records the fact that in one of the election campaigns a few years ago the late Mr. James Fahey was going from place to place with Hon. James Young representing rival candidates; but at these meetings the latter was constantly producing an enormous array of figures to offset every argument which Fahey could adduce. After a few meetings of that kind Fahey resolved to try strategy. Happening into a village where there was a newspaper office he went in and got a large armful of blue books on Indian affairs, ensilage, immigration and such subjects. As he walked into the meeting he remarked, "Young, we'll have those figures out to-night." The Hon. James dropped his statistics and did not produce them again during the campaign.

A Diphtheria Scare.

There is no doubt but that diphtheria in its worst form is very prevalent in many cities and small towns. At the same time; that fact is no reason for frightening people out of their wits, with every new case of sore throat. Even ulcerated sore throat is bad enough, and no person would have that for fun. Yet hundreds of persons are said to have had diphtheria who only had a severe sore throat. The form of sore throat which often passes for diphtheretic is what old people call quinsy.

"Putrid sore throat," known long before diphtheria, was probably a form of diphtheria, and very dangerous. An old hospital nurse in Boston says: "It ain't the clear cold of winter that lays people up with colds, catarrh, and sore throats, and lays the children low with diphtheria; its the soft, pleasant, alternating with the wet slushy days." This is very true, and explains why those troubles are so prevalent this unusually soft rainy winter; the air, in fact, is laden with poisonous vapors. The first symptoms of true diphtheria are much like those of a heavy cold on the lungs. There is fever, some stupor, and difficulty in breathing. Very sharp pains are often felt in the neck glands, just below the ear. The tongue is coated, the throat and tonsils inflamed, little white spots, which increase and turn to a dirty yellow or brown color next appear, and a peculiar odor totally unlike ulcerated sore throat is noticeable. If the disease is of the black or malignant type nothing but a miracle can restore the patients to their former good health. Very many reliable people claim to have cured severe cases of diphtheria with Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. Be that as it may, it is worth trying, because so easily used internally, dropped on sugar or as a gargle, and bathing for external use. We know from experience that it will cure a common sore throat in one night, and thousands of people claim that no remedy known will relieve colds, catarrh, bronchitis, croup, etc,, as promptly as the good old Johnson's Liniment. If it cures them, why not diphtheria? It was an old family physician's prescription, I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, will sent free to any person an illustrated pamphlet about its use. Send them your name. dw. 6i is offered by the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, for a case of Chronic Nasal Catarrh which they cannot cure.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.—Dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; the eyes are weak, watery, and inflamed; there is ringing in the ears, deafness, hacking or coughing to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from ulcers; the voice is changed and has a nasal twang; the breath is offensive; smell and taste are impaired; there is a sensation of dizziness, with mental depression, a hacking cough and general debility. Only a few of the above-named symptoms are likely to be present in any one case. Thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption, and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive and dangerous, or less understood by physicians.

By its mild, soothing, and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases of Catarrh, "cold in the head," Coryza, and Catarrhal Headache. Sold by druggists everywhere; 50 cents.

"Untold Agony from Catarrh."

Prof. W. HAUSNER, the famous mesmerist, of Ithaca, N. Y., writes: "Some ten years ago I suffered untold agony from chronic nasal catarrh. My family physician gave me up as incurable, and said I must die. My case was such a bad one, that every day, towards sunset, my voice would become so hoarse I could barely speak above a whisper. In the morning my coughing and clearing of my throat would almost strangle me. By the use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, in three months, I was a well man, and the cure has been permanent."

"Constantly Hawking and Spitting."

THOMAS J. RUSHING, Esq., 2302 Pine Street, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I was a great sufferer from catarrh for three years. At times I could hardly breathe, and was constantly hawking and spitting, and for the last eight months could not breathe through the nostrils. I thought nothing could be done for me. Luckily, I was advised to try Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and I am now a well man. I believe it to be the only sure remedy for catarrh now manufactured, and one has only to give it a fair trial to experience astounding results and a permanent cure."

Three Bottles Cure Catarrh.

ELI ROBBINS, Runyan P. O., Columbia Co., Pa., says: "My daughter had catarrh when she was five years old, very badly. I saw Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy advertised, and procured a bottle for her, and, soon saw that it helped her; a third bottle effected a permanent cure. She is now eighteen years old and sound and hearty."
