MARKETS.
OATS.
The most recent advices from Great Britain state that there has been no change in price or demand of oats, and the season may now be considered over.
POTATOES.
There continues to be a liberal supply of new potatoes in the United States market, and prices are the same as last quoted—$2 and $2.25 per barrel. In this city new potatoes are coming in slowly, while old stock is about run out. The first is selling at from 75 to 80 cents per bushel, while the latter range from 60 to 70 cents.
EGGS.
There has been a wide range in the prices of eggs in Boston, owing to the difficulty in getting fresh lots, and while 17 1/2 cents can be obtained for reliable marks, ordinary receipts are hard to sell at 16 1/2 cents per dozen. P. E. Island eggs are quoted in Boston at 15 1/2 to 16 1/2 cents.

MAKEREL.
A reliable Boston circular of the 6th says "since our last report on the 3rd inst., the receipts of Island makerel by this week's steamers have been sold on a basis of $6.00 to 6.50 for uncleaned.
This is about the views of dealers and fur-nishers, the only basis for prices that we are able at present to advance. We are writing to all our shippers now that it is best to cull them first. The shore catch this week, owing to the dense fog that has prevailed, is only about half of last week.
FLOUR.
The Galt, Ont., circular which we usually quote, this week says: "The weather, since my last, has been extremely dry, with late crops and pastures suffering severely.
Grave fears are entertained as to the corn crop in the west which is said to have suffered very much. Flour is steady with rather more enquiry for export. Some of our millars are showing samples from the new crop that look very well. Galt quotations are: Spring Extra, $5.20 to $5.25; Extra, $5.55 to $5.60; Superior Extra, $5.60 to $5.70, and Strong Bakers, $5.45 to $5.50.
The Montreal quotations are:— Superior Extra..... $5 95 @ 6 00 Extra Superfine..... 5 30 @ 6 00 Spring Extra..... 5 90 @ 6 00 Superfine..... 5 50 @ 5 60 Strong Bakers..... 5 85 @ 6 50 Fine..... 4 85 @ 5 10

Proof of Animal Life in Other Planets.
(From the London Telegraph.) Two interesting problems which have long perplexed the scientific world appear to have been definitely solved by the eminent geologist, Dr. Hahn. These questions are—first, whether or not celestial bodies, other than the earth, belonging to our solar system, are inhabited by animate beings; and secondly, whether the meteoric stones from time to time cast upon the surface of this globe emanate from incandescent comets or from volcanic planets. That they are of volcanic origin has been conclusively demonstrated.
Dr. Hahn has recently completed a series of investigations upon some of the huge meteoric stones that fell from the skies in Hungary during the summer of 1865.
This laminae of these mysterious bodies, subjected to examination under a powerful microscope, have been found to contain coralline-like spongy formations and to reveal unmistakable traces of the lower forms of vegetation. All the organisms, animal and vegetable, discovered by Dr.
Hahn in the delicate stone shavings he has thus dealt with indicate the condition of their parent world to be one of what is technically termed "primary formation." But the presence of water in that world is proved by the fact that the tiny petrified creatures revealed by the magic of the lens one and all belong to the so-called subaque-ous classes of animals. They could not have existed in comets—at least if the assumption be correct that these are in a state of active combustion.

A Remarkable Poem.
Cling to the Mighty One, Cling in thy grief,
Cling to the Holy One,
He gives relief,
Cling to the Gracious One, Cling in thy pain,
Cling to the Faithful One,
He will sustain.
Cling to the Living One,
Cling to the woe;
Cling to the Living One,
Through all below;
Cling to the Pardoning One,
He seeketh peace,
Cling to the Healing One, Anguish shall cease.
Cling to the Bleeding One,
Cling to His side,
Cling to the Risen One,
In him abide;
Cling to the Coming One,
Hope shall arise,
Cling to the Reigning One,
Joy lights thine eyes.

Prohibition in Kansas.
The following from a late Kansas paper, shows that prohibition is by no means popular in that state:— An immense outdoor mass meeting was held at Topeka, on the 18th, to discuss the action of the City Council in licensing the sale of mineral water and other drinks. Colonel C. K. Holiday, presided with a long array of Vice-Presidents. Speeches were made by Colonel Holiday, ex-Governor Robinson and others, and a series of resolutions adopted setting forth that the prohibitory amendment and consequent legislation have proved most detrimental to the best interests of Kansas, that both foreign and native immigration has been stopped and the growth of the state checked, that municipal corporations are threatened with empty treasuries; that the expenses of courts are being greatly increased instead of diminished, as was claimed by the friends of prohibition; that a further attempt to enforce the law will be detrimental to the moral as well as to the material welfare of the people; therefore we heartily endorse the sensible course of the Mayor and City Council of Topeka in their endeavor to save their constituency from ruin; that we demand the repeal of the iniquitous law so that Kansas may again secure her share of immigrants, and that peace, good order and prosperity may return to our state; that we demand the enforcement of the law by fair and constitutional means only; that we deplore bull-dozing in law as well as in politics; and that we recommend a little moderation and temperance in all things to our prohibition friends.

A FRESH WATER SPRING IN THE AT-LANTIC.—One of the most remarkable displays of Nature may be seen on the Atlantic coast, 18 miles south of St.
Augustine. Off Matanzas Inlet, and three miles from shore, a mammoth fresh water spring gurgles up from the depth of the ocean with such force and volume as to attract the attention of all who come to its immediate vicinity. The fountain is large, bold and turbulent. It is noticeable to fishermen and others passing in small boats along near the shore. For many years this wonderful and mysterious freak of Nature has been known to the people of St. Augustine and those living along the shore, and some of the superstitious ones have been taught to regard it with a kind of reverential awe, or holy horror as the abode of supernatural influences.
When the waters of the ocean in its vicinity are otherwise calm and tranquil, the upheaving and troubled appearance of the waters shows unmistakable evidences of internal commotion. An area of about half an acre shows this troubled appearance—something similar to the boiling of a washerwoman's kettle.
Six or eight years ago, Commodore Hitchcock, of the United States Coast Survey, was passing this place, and his attention was directed to the spring by the upheaving of the water, which threw his ship from her course as she entered the spring. His curiosity becoming excited by this circumstance, he set to work to examine its surroundings, and found six fathoms of water everywhere in the vicinity, while the spring itself was fathomless.

No truer lines were ever written than these of Horace Greeley:—"Fame is a vapor; popularity an accident; riches takes wings; the only earthly certainty is oblivion." Five years ago the name of Gortschakoff was a familiar and brilliant one in history. To-day a decrepit, childish old man totters about the streets of some dull Italian or South of France city, scarcely noticed, and quite unknown to most of the curious folks among whom he vegetates. A slow summer at Baden-Baden, a slower winter as we have written it, so perishes the career of a diplomat than whom there have been few, if any, shrewder or more successful. Forgotten in his own country, unknown in those to which his usefulness and his infirmities have expelled him the great ex-Imperial Chancellor of all the Russias awaits the common fate of man in an obscurity as utter as he ever relegated any unfortunate conspirator against whose name he set the black marks to. Fate has its vengeance more complete than those of man.

The next boating event of interest will be the sculling race between Trickett, the Australian oarsman, and Wallace Ross.
The former, who has gone to Saratoga to prepare for the encounter, expects to make a better showing with Ross than he did with Hanlan in England, and as the latter is likely to contest the championship honors with Ross before the season is over, the result of this struggle will be watched with interest.—Turf, Field and Farm. We rather think our contemporary is off its base this time.
It may be that Trickett and Ross are matched, but if they are the arrangements must have been made in a wonderful hurry, for the Australian certainly knew nothing about them when he left here on Wednesday last.—Mail.

A tramp with his arm in a sling called on Gilhooly for a quarter, alleging that his arm had been injured in the recent railroad accident near San Antonio. "But yesterday you had the other arm in a sling," replied Gilhooly. "Well, supposin' I had.
Don't you think a feller's arm gets tired of being tied up all day? Besides, I have got contusion of the brain and can't remember half the time which arm was broken."
