Art The 'Pro' Killer

It is an extraordinary thing, in any golf tournament, for an amateur player to beat a field of professionals. You might say it is one of those things that isn't supposed to happen, generally speaking, the pros are the best of the lot and their game is sharper because they spend a litle more time at it than the play-for-fun tyues.

But, somehow, Art MacKenzie has never subscribed to this line of thinking. The likable Charlottetown amateur has made the top play-for-pay figures in the Maritimes take a back seat on two occasions in the past three years by winning the big P.E.I. Open in 1960 and again last weekend. The 5-foot, 10-inch, 170-pound redhead, by the way, is the only amateur to win the Open in its nine year history.

Two years ago, MacKenzie shattered the record for the tournament and won it by a wopping six-stroke margin over Cec Dowling with rounds of 73, 72, and 70 for a 215 total - one under par. Dowling took top money in the pro section that year with 221, three strokes ahead of Errol Nicholson, who tied with amateur Bill Beer, his brother-in-law, at 224.

This year, the redhead won it in Saturday's first round with a sparkling 70 while some 225 others in the hunt for top honors battled the wind and lightning-fast greens in figures above par, like Jook Munroe's 81, Mousie Dowling's 87, and 74's by pros Cec Dowling and Ian Jackson.

Art's 70 in the first round included three birdies — on holes 5,6 and 18, and a bogey on No. 4, a tough, uphill par-4 test which defied him again in Sunday's round when he three-putted for another bogey. He canned a 25-foot putt on the 5th for his first birdie Saturday, "and that", said MacKenzie, "was' the only good putt I made in the whole tournament. Those greens were really fast, and they were as strange to the local fellows as they were to visitors.

He followed his birdie on No. 5 with another on the short, par-3 sixth hole with a short putt to go one under par, then reeled off 11 straight pars until the 18th, a par four, when he dunked a chip after landing back of the green with his second shot.

'On Sunday, I couldn't buy a birdie", the new champ recalled "They cut the greens again Saturday night, and they were just as fast, if not faster on Sunday". His 76 in the second round had four bogeys.

Headaches For 'R.J.'

One of the surprises in the tournament, which was almost too successful for director Reg Mahar, in that the entry list (around 230) proved too much to handle, was the decline of some of the leading amateurs in the field who figured to be in the thick of the battle for top honors.

Harry Simmonds was 10 strokes back of MacKenzie, Bill Beer trailed by 13, Had MacInnis and Don MacDonald were 15 away, and Jack Beaton was 16 off the pace. But a couple of other boys, Merlin MacKenzie and Gerald Burgoyne, checked in with creditable 152 scores.

There was a real race in the pro section for shares of the $500 purse. Ian Jackson, 24-year-old Shelburne pro, scored his first major triumph as he nipped Bubby Dowling, the pre-tournament favorite, by a single stroke, and Errol Nicholson and Jim Maxwell were just two blows back of the "little pro" from Charlottetown at 152. George Arnold, assistant pro at Belvedere, trailed Nicholson and Maxwell by one, and George Andrew, now at Summerside, was one stroke bhind Arnold.

A.C.'s Viking Seen 5-2 Race Favorite

DOQUOIN. Ill. (AP) The fillies are threatening to turn Wednesday's 37th Hambletonian, into a glamour show, but standing firmly in their path as the unofficial 5-2 favorite is a big bay colt, A.C.'s Viking, son of Hoot Mon, the 1947 winner.

However, the sentiment of many homespun fans, who flock to the Duquoin Fair for the pure love of horse flesh, since parimutuel betting is prohibited, think this may be the first filly year in the trotting classic for three - year - olds since Emily's Pride won in 1957.

It took Emily's Pride three heats to do it, and another three - heat affair for the field of 15 is predicted this time after the draw for post positions pushed three prime contenders into the second tier for the first mile start.

The trotter taking two heats is the champion, collecting $62,-854, fifth largest winning jackpot in the race's history.

SEES FIRST WIN

A.C.'s Viking, driven by the esteemed 62-year-old Sanders Russell, seeking his first Hambletonian triumph, drew the last post, No. 15. Along with him in the second bank of five trotters (10 start abreast in the first tier behind the mobile gate) are two highly - regarded fillies, Spry Rodney, with Del Miller at the reins, and Impish, piloted by Frank Ervine.

Both drivers are previous winners, Miller with Lusty Song in 1950 and Ervine with Diller Hanover in 1959.

In the front row in a perfect No. 5 spot is the third filly threat, Sprite Rodney, with 30-year-old Eddie Wheeler in the sulky.

Beside her in the No. 6 spot is Safe Mission, to be driven by Joe O'Brien of Alberton, P.E.I.

Second heat posts are determined on the finish of the first heat. And the same process is used for a third heat, if required. If it is necessary for a fourth heat (the last such rarity was in 1960 when Blaze Hanover won), the three heat winners have a race-off.

Pistons Square Series; Whip Park All-Stars 6-1

Faced with elimination last evening in their best of five series for the City Softball League crown, Canadian Tire Pistons came up with a stellar performance to defeat their rivals, National Park All-Stars, by a 6-1 score and tie the series at 2-all.

The fifth and deciding game goes this evening and fans can be assured that both Danny McCormack, coach of the Pistons and former Piston player Mike Connolly, who now coaches the All-Stars, will be doing everything in their power to capture the clincher. The game will be going at the regular time, 6.30.

Moundsman Lloyd 'Teet' Gregory stopped the All-Stars on eight hits and his teammates, showing a complete change of form from their shoddy fielding Saturday, gave him solid backing. Gregory issued no free passes to first and struck out four.

Vince Bradley started for the losers and was charged with the loss. The rangy Bedford speedster, whose delivery is rated just about the fastest in the City Softball League, went five full innings before giving way to teammate John Hughes, another fastballer. Hughes allowed no hits, no runs and walked one in the last inning.

CHARGE WITH LOSS

All six runs were charged to Bradley who was tagged for a total of six hits over the five frames he worked. The longest hit of the game was a wrong field two-run circuit smash by Morris MacIntyre off Bradley in the third inning.

MacIntyre was also top sticker for the Pistons with a single to go along with his four-bagger in two official appearances. MacIntyre gave way to Jimmy Hughes in left field in the sixth inning.

The Pistons distributed their runs evenly over the first three innings, scoring two runs in each of the first, a second and third. In the initial frame the first two stickers, Morris MacIntyre and Apps Arsenault drew walks and then Paddy Shepherd stroked one into centrefield to drive in both runners.

MacIntyre's four-bagger accounted for both runs in the second and in the third Merle 'Kingfish' Longaphie led off with a single, then took second and third on wild pitches. Paddy Shepherd drew a walk and then Charlie Smith hit a popup into shallow territory to the left of third base. The Park third sacker hauled down the fly but was late on the play at the place in an attempt to catch Longaphie who was scooting home.

Cecil Ladner drove in Paddy Shepherd from third with a single for the final run.

The All-Stars counted their only run in the first inning, Joe Caswell banging a double to drive in teammate Kevin Hughes who had got hit a single.

Officials for last evening's contest were as follows: — plate — Frank Bell; bases — Lund, Blanchard, and Beagan.

WATERLOO, Ont. (CP)—The names of five young athletes were announced Monday as the best individual performers in the Canadian age-class track and field championships here Friday and Saturday.

Bob Fisher-Smith of Ottawa took the junior men's class honors and one of five lieutenant-governor's bronze medals with 10 points under International Amateur Athletic Federation calculations. He tied with three other juniors under a standard AAU place-point count.

Warren Hamill of West Vancouver's Burnaby Striders track club was named best juvenile athlete in Canada after he piled up 12 points.

Mike Dowty of Vancouver won the midget men's medal with 15 points.

Nancy McCready, 17-year-old Brampton, Ontario, girl who set a Canadian open women's discus record Saturday with a 151 foot, three inch effort, won juvenile women's honors with a point for each year of her age.

B.C. CLINCHES MEDAL

British Columbia clinched a third medal with Diane Pickering's win in the midget women's division. The Ottawa sprinter's two records—in the 100 and 200 metres—gave him the medal over Kidd—with a record in the 1,500 metres and a slow win in the 5,000-and the other two juniors.

Identical Miles Of 2.06-4 Feature Mon. Race Card

Armond's Buddy and Amos Frost shared the spotlight in last night's eight-dash racing card at the Charlottetown Driving Park. The two horses shared honors in the program's feature free-for-all and stepped identical miles of 2:06.4.

For Armond's Buddy this was a new record. The nine-year-old Island bred son of Calumat Budlong out of Hettie Hoosier had a lifetime mark of 2:07.2 going into this race.

The gelding, owned by Lee Taylor of Nine Mile Creek and reined by Don MacNeill, had the lead coming into the home lane of the second mile with the Buddy Campbell-reined Amos Frost right on his heels. Armond's Buddy went to a break in the final stretch and Amos Frost coasted home the winner.

In the initial dash of this feature the 6-year-old Adios offspring finished third with Stanley Mayhew's Sanitago emerging in runner-up spot. Amos Frost is owned by Bill Boyles of Charlottetown.

A co-feature was an A and B pace which saw The Sheik and Stalag Hanover emerging with identical summaries. Cepeda On Hitting Spree; Frank Robinson Heads NL

NEW YORK (AP) — Orlando Cepeda is back in a hitting mood. But the usually smoking bat of his slugging San Francisco teammate, Willie Mays, has been virtually silent.

Mays will have to get back on the beam soon if the Giants are to gain further ground in their bid to overtake Los Angeles Dodgers, National League pace-setters by two and a half games.

In six games last week, Mays had three hits in 22 tries (A .136 pace). He drove in only one run, giving him 109 for the campaign, and failed to hit a homer, leaving his league-leading total at 38. Willie is batting .299.

Cepeda, meanwhile, collected 13 hits in 26 at bats (.500), hammered six homers and drove in 11 runs. The surge gave the hard-hitting first baseman 30 home runs, 96 RBI and lifted him into fifth place deadlock in the batting race with Felipe Alou of the Giants. Each is hitting .322.

Cepeda, who had only six hits in 29 attempts two weeks ago, still has a long way to go to catch batting leader Frank Robinson of Cincinnati. Robinson took over the No. 1 position despite a one point drop to .342 in last week's games. He had 10 hits in 31 attempts.

Tommy Davis of the Dodgers fell to second place at .340. He managed only six hits in 25 times at bat and dropped five points. However, he drove in three runs and lifted his leading figure to 124.

AARON THIRD

Hank Aaron of Milwaukee remained in third place although he lost four points to .338. The braves' star had his 25-game hitting streak snapped Sunday. Stan Musial of St. Louis continued in fourth place. The veteran outfielder gained one point to .336 with six safeties in 17 trips.

In the American League, Pete Runnels opened a 26-point lead in the batting competition. He increased his average eight points to .338 with a 13-for-29 performance. The figures include Sunday's games.

Eagles Sideline Morell Meteors

Georgetown Eagles sidelined Morell Meteors from further Intermediate B playoff competition Sunday afternoon when they split a doubleheader at Georgetown.

The Morell crew captured the opener by an 8-5 score but suffered elimination when they bowed to the Eagles 6-5 in the third and deciding contest.

The opener of the twin bill was featured by six homers, five of them by Morell. Stroking the four-baggers for Morell were Donald MacDonald, Cliff Keefe, Joseph McGuire, Jerry Connolly and Gary McGuire. Charlie Fitgerald poled one for Georgetown.

Louis McGuire tossed a 7-hitter for the Meteors and walked three while fanning seven. Buddy McCullough started for the Eagles and went five innings before being relieved by Joseph Martel. They gave up a combined total of 14 hits and walked three while striking out 13.

Buddy McCullough returned to the mound in the second game and went the full distance, being touched for nine hits and three walks while striking out 12.

Louis Murphy tossed an eight-hitter in a losing cause. He also smashed a homer to no avail.

Georgetown catcher John Walsh smashed a grand slam homer and narrowly missed another one, being robbed by the Morell centrefielder who had to lean well over the fence to glove the ball.

Also slashing homers in this contest were Mike Kelly and Joseph McGuire of Morell.

The Eagles now meet the winner of the Mt. Stewart-Peakes-Vernon River series.

Fashionmen Defeat Airforce Rivals 14-1

SUMMERSIDE —MacKenzie's House of Fashion team, after taking a 14-1 trouncing from the RCAF in the first game of the Prince County Softball League finals swept back into contention last night by defeating the airforce boys 8-4.

The RCAF squad outhit MacKenzies, but shaky defensive play and a bit of "ring-around-rosy base - running in the second and third innings spoiled chances of victory.

Jerry Kempster went all the way for the winners, giving up ten hits and walking four. John Sandilands pitched three frames for RCAF, allowed 4 hits, one a three-run homer in the first inning. Grabowski finished the game and was tagged for three additional bingles bunched in the fifth inning, when with the help of three bobbles in the field, MacKenzies scored three runs.

Dunc Wheeler hit one to the road back of right field to chase two runners across the plate in the first frame. Bob McCallum hit 2 for 3. Legendre swung the big stick for airforce, getting 2 singles and a double in 4 trips.

Moore, after making a fine leaping catch in centrefield in the bottom of the sixth inning, came to bat in the seventh and blasted a fly to the slope of the grass in deep left field where Doug Allen had poor footing and missed the catch. It went for the circuit. Allen made four nice catches in left field for MacKenzies, and Legendre in the same garden for RCAF pulled two good ones down.

Bill Smith who divided second base and catching duties for RCAF, hit 2 for 3. The third game of this best of five series will be played in Summerside on Wednesday evening.

Kensington pitcher M. MacLean was bombed for fifteen hits including a triple by Wayne MacDonald in the seventh, the longest hit of the game. MacLean also walked three and sent four down via the strikeout route.
