Pirates Defeat Dodgers 6-3 As Giants Edge Phils 2-1 In Tight Pitchers Duel

BROOKLYN, (AP)—Bob Friend, the only Pittsburgh pitcher to hold a decision over Brooklyn this year, survived a rough fourth inning Tuesday night and the Pirates rallied for a 6-3 victory over the Dodgers at Ebbets Field.

The cellar-dwelling Bucs tied the score at 3-3 when Dick Groat slammed a two-run double and routed Brooklyn starter Clem Labine in the sixth inning.

Then George Freese singled home two runs with two out in the seventh inning, to put the Pirates ahead to stay. Jerry Lynch hit his second homer of the year over the scoreboard in right in the ninth inning.

Ed Roebuck, who relieved Labine in the sixth, was the loser. It was his second defeat against two victories, while Friend was notching his third win against one defeat.

A week ago Tuesday night at Pittsburgh Friend was credited with a victory over the Brooks although he wasn't around at the finish of a 15-1 massacre.

NEW YORK (AP)—Davey Williams bounced a long single off the right field wall in the ninth inning to score Don Mueller and enable the New York Giants to defeat the Philadelphia Phillies, 2-1 Tuesday night.

Until that point, ancient Sal Maglie and Philadelphia's Herman Wehmeier were locked in a tight pitching battle. In the end it was the 38-year-old Maglie who came out with his sixth straight victory, giving up but five hits.

Mueller opened the ninth with a walk and was sacrificed to second by Hank Thompson. Willie Mays popped out to Bobby Morgan and Wehmeier passed Dusty Rhodes intentionally to get at Williams.

That proved a strategic error. Williams connected with the first pitch and slashed it on a line to right.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Sam Dente doubled home the winning run Tuesday night as the Cleveland Indians defeated the Baltimore Orioles, 2-1, in 13 innings.

Dave Philley, who walked and scored the winning run, sent the game into extra innings by belting his second home run of the year with one out in the ninth.

Baltimore scored when Gene Woodling hit his third homer, over the right field wall in the second.

Until Philley connected in the ninth, Jim Wilson had given up only five hits.

Woodling's round trip was one of four hits given up by Bob Feller, who gave way to a pinch hitter in the seventh.

Don Mossi, a sophomore southpaw who started pitching in the eighth, held the Orioles to two hits and got credit for his first victory.

The win moved the second place Tribe to within 2½ games of the New York Yankees.

Make Minimum Revision In Current Hockey Rules

MONTREAL (CP) — The rules committee of the professional hockey leagues Tuesday rejected suggestions that a minor penalty expire when a goal is scored and did a minimum of tinkering with the rules now in effect.

Minor changes were made largely to speed up face-offs and deal with delaying tactics and abusive language.

The suggestion that a penalized team which is scored on should immediately get back the player serving a minor penalty will be considered further by the Western Hockey League. The WHL may try the rule as an experiment next season but as a universal rule it was rejected, said president Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League.

Abusive language from a team bench will bring an immediate minor penalty instead of a misconduct penalty as under the previous rules. The penalty will be served by anyone named by the team coach unless the referee has singled out the abusive player.

Added to misconduct penalties was a provision that anyone intentionally knocking the puck away from an official will be assessed a 10-minute misconduct.

In face-offs the referee will be empowered to drop the puck if one team is delaying resumption of play whether their face-off man is ready or not. Simlarly, regarding icing the puck if the defending side does not play it promptly there will be a face-off in the defending side's own end.

The referee was empowered to order the official between-period intermission if there is a stop in play within five minutes of the end of the period and if play is not or cannot be immediately resumed. The remaining time will be played after the intermission and the clubs will then change ends for the subsequent period.

Bobo Olson To Meet Don Cockell Likely In Sept.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson will meet England's Don Cockell in London "probably in September," manager Sid Flaherty said Tuesday.

"I have a man over there now making arrangements," Flaherty said.

Asked if he didn't think Cockell was a little too heavy for Olson, Flaherty laughed.

"What's the difference what he weighs?" he asked. "Olson will fight anybody, he doesn't care. I think if he weighs about 170 for Cockell, which means he'd be giving away something like 40 - 50 pounds, it'd be about even."

Olson and Flaherty leave here tonight for New York to start training for the light-heavyweight championship fight June 22 with Archie Moore.

How Switch In Managers Made

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Baseball fans around town were telling this story Tuesday about the way Harry Walker found out he was to be the new manager of the St. Louis Cardinals:

Walker, the manager of the International League Rochester Red Wings, and George Sisler, Jr., the Wings' general manager, were sitting around last Thursday in the hotel suite of Dick Meyer, Cardinal general manager.

"Rochester needs pitching," said Walker to Meyer "I need a pitcher real bad. Is Stankey going to keep 11 pitchers up there all season?"

Meyer thought a minute then replied:

"I can't answer that question, Harry, because on Saturday night the matter will be in your hands—you'll be managing the Cardinals."

Sisler swears the story is true. Walker's promotion to succeed Eddie Stanky was announced late Saturday.

Wants Perez To Defend Title In Britain

LONDON, (AP) — Promoter Jack Solomons said Tuesday he has made "a tremendous offer" to world flyweight champion Pascuel Perez of Argentina to defend his title against Welshman Dai Dower in Britain.

A reply is on the way, he added.

Perez successfully defended his title Monday night with a fifth-round knockout of former champion Yoshio Shirai in Tokyo.

After the fight, Perez said he would be prepared to meet Dower the British Empire and European champion, in Britain "if the price is right."

Yogi Berra Voted Award

NEW YORK (AP) — Lawrence (Yogi) Berra, the New York Yankees' clouting catcher, has been voted the "Gold Shoe Award" as baseball's man of the year.

The award, given yearly on the basis of achievement and contribution to the sport, was announced Tuesday by the awards committee of the shoe industry. Presentation will be made at Hotel Roosevelt June 16.

Roy Campanella, Brooklyn catcher, was last year's winner.

Race In Fog

BOSTON, (AP) — No official time was recorded for the first race at Suffolk Downs Tuesday because the fog was so thick no one could see the start.

Not until the horses hit the home stretch in the six furlong test could the customers—or the timer—get a glimpse.

British Oppose Spain In NATO

LONDON (AP)—Britain remains opposed to the entry of Spain into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, the foreign office said Tuesday.

A spokesman made the comment when asked about reports that the United States might seek NATO membership for Spain within the next 12 months. There are U.S. naval and air bases in Spain under a recent agreement between the two countries.

"Our position on Spain joining NATO is just as it has always been. We have never favored it and the suggestion has not been made to us," the spokesman said.

Britain has taken this stand in the past as a protest against the Franco dictatorship and its support of Nazi Germany.

Opposes Eskimos At C. N. Exhibition

TORONTO (CP) — Rt. Rev. D. B. Marsh, Bishop of the Arctic, said Tuesday the Canadian National Exhibition plan to bring a family of Eskimos to the fair this year is nothing more than an attempt to set up a "freak show."

Elas Jenkins, women's director of the CNE, said last week she planned to "live like an Eskimo" for two weeks 500 miles north of Aklavik examining their handicrafts and selecting a family to bring samples of Eskimo work to the fair.

The bishop scoffed at the CNE plan to build an igloo. He said that in the area from which "they propose to get these people, few of them have seen an igloo. They live in log huts."

Suspect Black Hand Group

TORONTO (CP)—Detectives investigating the mysterious slaying last week of Italian immigrant Natale Brigante, 30, who staggered to his death on a west end street after being struck by two bullets, said Tuesday they are up against what may be the notorious Italian "Black Hand" group operating against Italian immigrants.

They said they hope to crack a wall of silence, apparent conspiracy of lies and deliberate fabrication which has met inquiries among persons who knew the slain man and Paolo Violi, 25, held on a manslaughter charge in the case.

Police said most Italian immigrants questioned shrug their shoulders and say nothing. Police added they believe money is being extorted from some new arrivals from Italy.

New Suits For Athletics Team

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Wealthy president Arnold Johnson made another splash with his cash Tuesday for the benefit of his Kansas City Athletics.

Just what it'll run to in dollars and cents wasn't totalled but each player gets a cut.

It all happened because the As (1) got some of their street clothing pretty well ruined when a torrential downpour flooded their dressing room at Municipal Stadium one night last week and (2) because they whipped the tough Detroit Tigers in both ends of a doubleheader at Detroit on Monday.

The team was flying home from that memorable Memorial Day triumph. Johnson, accompanying the club, made a brief speech, congratulating his collection of young, old and ofttimes hapless ballplayers on their performance in the field and commiserating with them for the damage suffered in the rain storm.

"I want you to know that what you did was appreciated," he concluded. "And when we get back to Kansas City I want you all to have a new suit of clothes."

Sports Jacket Considered Clue In Murder Case

WINNIPEG (CP) — A blood-spattered sports jacket which police said may have been worn by the slayer of a Winnipeg caretaker has been turned in to police headquarters.

Harold Wolrich, 66, was found Sunday bludgeoned to death in a downtown warehouse where he lived and was employed. The slayer, believed to have been a prowler, has eluded more than 500 city and suburban police in a two-day manhunt.

Inspector of detectives James Mulholland said the jacket was found near the building and turned in to police early Sunday, before the discovery of the murder.

Analysis showed the stains were human blood.

The jacket will be placed on display under guard in a main street clothing store with the hope that someone can identify it.

The killing, described by detectives as the most brutal in their experience, apparently followed robbery of some offices which netted only $12.50.

T.L.C. Urging National Health Insurance Plan

WINDSOR, Ont., (CP) — Enactment of the federal government of a broad scheme of contributory national health insurance was urged today by the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

The congress adopted a resolution declaring that Canada lags behind many countries in this field of social legislation.

The plan, the TLC said at its annual convention, must be put into effect "not in the future but during the life of the present government." The scheme should be compulsory.

Monday health Minister Martin told the convention the initiative on health insurance should come from "the people and the provinces."

Doug Hamilton, Toronto organizer for AFL unions, described Mr. Martin's speech as "another act in the game of political football" on health insurance.

L. H. Rosen, Toronto garment worker delegate, disagreed. He said that constitutionally it was up to the provinces.

The resolution came up at the convention Monday, just before the health minister appeared, but the TLC leadership put off action on it until after Mr. Martin had left the convention.

U.S. Boxer In Sensational Upset Victory Over Kid Howard In Halifax Bout

HALIFAX (CP)—Kenny Lane of Muskegon, Mich., scored a sensational upset win over Richard (Kid) Howard of Halifax, with an unanimous 10-round decision Tuesday.

Howard, Canadian lightweight champion and world's eighth ranking lightweight, looked hopelessly outclassed as the speedy Lane, ranked No. 10, hammered him unmercifully with a two-fisted attack that had the Halifax boxer reeling from the opening round.

Howard weighed 138½, Lane 136½.

Judge Hard Johnson gave the non-title fight to Lane, 7-1-2, while judge Walker and Referee Jack Delaney scored it 6-2-2 for Lane.

Lane dropped Howard for an eight count in the fourth but Howard gamely kept coming. At the end of the fight Howard's face was puffed and his eyes almost swollen shut from the terrific pounding he took from his taller opponent. But neither boxer was cut.

Gordon (Gramps) Kiley of Sydney and Keith Paris of Halifax battled to a 10-round draw in a bout for the vacated Maritime welterweight title.

One judge favored Paris but the other judge and referee called the bout a draw. Kiley weighed 142, Paris 140.

Twice the Halifax fighter came close to knocking out Kiley but each time the blond Sydney fighter managed to hang on.

In a six-round semi-final Buddy Daye of Halifax floored Johnny Davison of Glace Bay at 1:40 of the first round. Daye at 125½ knocked Davison flat with a hard left to the stomach and the Glace Bay boxer was unable to make his feet at the count of 10. Davison weighed 121.

In a four rounder Benny Randall, 120½ of Sydney, decisioned Larry Spencer, 125, New Waterford, N.S. and in the curtain raiser Scotty Graham, 136, Halifax, kayoed Gordon Walsh, Armdale, N.S. at 48 seconds of the second of a four rounder.

Disqualified For Butting

SYDNEY (AP)—British Empire and Australian lightweight champion Pat Ford was disqualified for butting in the eighth round of a non-title fight with Algerian Lahouari Godih Monday night. Godih had a clear lead in points when the bout ended.

It was Godih's second win over Ford. Ford claimed his right eyebrow was opened early in the eighth by a head butt. Soon afterwards he deliberately butted Godih but missed.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati Redlegs Tuesday optioned pitcher Corky Valentine to Havana of the International League on a 24-hour recall basis. Valentine, this year, has been unable to hit a winning stride and has a 2-1 record.

CRITICS TAKE CHANCE

LONDON (Reuters) — Leading art critics of Britain's national newspapers Tuesday put themselves at the mercy of the painters they usually criticize. For the first time critics placed their own works on show. The consensus was that the standard of the exhibit was good.

BALLET ON TOUR

LONDON (Reuters)—The famed Sadler's Wells Ballet will open its fourth American tour Sept. 11 with a four-week season at the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, it was announced Tuesday. The company later will make three appearances in Toronto.

CBC Governors To Consider Sports Events

OTTAWA (CP)—The CBC board of governors will consider further representations June 24 on the question of simulated actuality broadcasts of sports events.

The board has said that it considers there are "abuses" in the use of such broadcasting methods and may pass a regulation to restrict simulated broadcasts.

On Tuesday, it asked for further representations to consider the matter further, and added in an announcement:

"It may wish to establish a regulation restricting simulated broadcasts in order to prevent such practices unless there is full assurance otherwise that there will be no abusive use by other stations of information taken from direct actuality broadcasts."

The question of reconstructed broadcasts came up last April when three top football and hockey organizations asked the CBC to prohibit reconstructed play-by-play broadcasts of sports events without the promoters' consent.

At present, CBC regulations forbid reconstructed broadcasts in areas served by live broadcasts until after the event is ended.

Clubs Spend $80,000 For 9 Hockey Players In Draft

MONTREAL (CP)—Clubs in professional hockey spent $80,000 for nine players in the inter-league draft Tuesday but only two National Hockey League clubs dipped into the minors for new talent.

New York Rangers drafted forward Ross Lowe from Springfield of the American Hockey League and defenceman Jim Bartlett from Montreal Royals of the Quebec Hockey League.

Boston Bruins picked one player—forward Orval Tessier from Montreal Royals.

GRAB SIX

Clubs in the AHL, which have [illegible] from the QHL and the Western Hockey League, Springfield came up with three—defenceman Ernie Roche from Montreal Royals and forwards Ivan Tennant and Gerry Ehman from Edmonton, both of whom belonged to Detroit Red Wings and were on Edmnton's list but played with Quebec Aces last season.

Hershey Bears, AHL farm club of Boston Bruins, picked goalie Gilles Boisvert from Montreal Royals and defenceman Hugh Cofline from Edmonton.

Cleveland Barons drafted centre Ray Powell from Quebec Aces.

STUDY DRAFT EVASION

Following the draft sessions, joint meetings also decided to:

1. Study, at request of the AHL, the question of draft evasion;
2. Curb extra-curricular schools, training camps and exhibition jaunts for young aspiring players;
3. Take up with the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association the question of further reimbursement for sponsored junior clubs;
5. Accept the NHL proposal for TV restrictions as a means of helping the minors through blackouts.

TOP PRICE

New York Rangers paid the only top draft price—$15,000—in getting Ross Lowe from Springfield. Lowe, a former NHL player, was second leading scorer in the AHL last season and was voted the league's most valuable player.

The rangers got Jim Bartlett for $10,000, the same draft price Boston Bruins paid for Orval Tessier, a hard shooting forward.

NHL clubs pay $15,000 for a player drafted from the AHL and $10,000 for those drafted from the QHL and WHL.

The question of draft evasion by NHL clubs was raised by representatives of the AHL. They claimed that under the present set-up an NHL club can recall a player in advance of the draft, put him on its non-draft reserve list, later get waivers on the player from other NHL clubs and then send him back to the minor club.

It was agreed these conditions will be looked into, with the possibility of tighter regulations before next year's draft meeting.

Yanks Still Strong In U.K. Golf Tourney

ST. ANNES, England (AP) — Captain Bill Campbell, a voluntary bench warmer during the 1955 Walker Cup Matches, was returned abruptly to that role Tuesday, but the United States retained a strong hand in the British amateur golf championship with 22 survivors.

Playing his first match in Britain over the tricky Royal Lytham and St. Annes course, the tall West Virginian lost 2 and 1 to an unknown Briton, Reginald Pattinson.

Before the day was over eight other Americans, including two Walker Cup team members, had reached the third round and four won their first-round matches. In addition, seven who won their opening matches Monday and three who received first-round defaults Tuesday weren't called upon to play.

The second round will be completed this morning and the entire third round this afternoon.

Heading the match into the third round were the oldest and youngest members of the American Walker Cup team, Dale Morey, 34, of Indianapolis, and Bruce Cudd, 21, of Portland, Ore.
