EXTENSION OF TRADE.

As a reply to a request of the Minister of Trade and Commerce for information concerning means of extending the trade of this Province, the Charlottetown Board of Trade have adopted the following:

Charlottetown, P. E. Island,
January 13th, 1897.

To the Minister of Trade and Commerce:

SIR,—I am directed by the Charlottetown Board of Trade to acknowledge receipt of your letter dated 26th August last, and to inform you that, in the opinion of this Board, the trade of Prince Edward Island would be benefited to an incalculable extent by having a direct steamship service between this Island and Great Britain, during the season of open navigation, to carry our lobsters, cheese, butter, hay, oats, live stock and canned meats to market in good condition, and with the least possible delay.

This Board is further of opinion that the existing trade can be very largely increased by the introduction of a system of cold storage at Charlottetown, suitable to the requiremetns of this Province and in connection with the proposed steamship service already referred to.

Some steps might also be taken with advantage towards the appointment of agents to visit the West India Islands, and other points, with a view to ascertain what class of goods could be profitably shipped from the different sections of Canada, also as to the style and weights of packages most desirable.

This is sufficiently clear and very much to the point. All that the Board of Trade state in the above communication is true; all that they ask can easily be supplied, if the Honorable Minister of Trade and Commerce will but lend his powerful aid. We shall see whether or not he will do so. If not, it will reasonably be concluded that he meant practically nothing by his communication; if so, we shall all give him the credit that is his due.

A RIGHT ANSWER.

THE Tariff Commissioners can find time to go from Ottawa to Winnipeg to receive the opinions of Manitoba's men of business. But they can't find time to come from Halifax to Charlottetown to hear what our men of business have to say. So they have sent to our Board of Trade for information as to our tariff wants; and our Board of Trade have appointed a committee to communicate with them. In our opinion the communication ought, under the circumstances, to be very short. We should say to the Hon. Mr. Fielding:

"SIR,—You have been placed in the "honorable and responsible position of "Finance Minister, and the country has "given you an ample support in Parlia"ment. Therefore, we look to you, Sir, "for a Reform Tariff under which, in "accordance with the pre-election pro"mises of your party, taxes will be materi"ally reduced and every vestige of Pro"tection to manufactures removed, while "sufficient revenue shall be raised. If "you desire further advice from us we "shall be happy to give it when you come "here to ask it. We are, as in duty "bound, your faithful servants," etc.

Such an answer as this would be sufficiently courteous and dignified; and, under the circumstances, such an answer would be reasonable and proper.

THE SHOWING FOR SIX MONTHS.

THOSE of our excellent farmer-friends who were led to believe that the Conservative Government, at Ottawa was honeycombed by corruption and wholly given up to extravagance, those who upon this consideration voted for the Laurier party, will be surprised, and must be pained, to learn that the government expenditures still increase, even though its revenues decrease. The total current government expenditure of the past six months is now shown to be $14,061,406 as compared with $13,535,031 for the same period of the present year. While thus spending, in six short months, upwards of half a million dollars more than their predecessors, the present government has been in the receipt of $170,000 less money. So that the account for the past six months is worse to the extent of $700,000 than it was for the same six months of the previous year under Conservative rule.

If the Conservatives were so very extravagant, what shall we say concerning the Liberals?

HAVE A CARE, GENTLEMEN!

THE Government candidate in the by-election contest now going on at Brantford has proclaimed that he is "against any change in the tariff that would embarrass existing industries." So the N. P. is not such a bad thing after all! The committee of our Board of Trade had better be careful when they make their suggestions to the Tariff Commission. It is possible they might prejudice the candidate of the Government nominee in Brantford!

A PARTY CONFERENCE.

WE understand that a conference of leading Conservatives from all the different parts of the Province will be held in Charlottetown on the 12th of February next, for the purpose of devising means for the promotion of organization within the Party. The conference will consist of members of Parliament (Federal and Local) and ex-members of the same; also, candidates in the interests of the party who may have been defeated, officers of the County Associations and members of the press. This is a good move; and we hope to see a large and representative meeting.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—The Grand Jury report finding a tub of butter that was not up to the standard among the provisions at the Hospital for the Insane. If we mistake not, a similar report was made by a former Grand Jury. Who supplies this inferior butter?

—The British Columbia papers seem to think that the Hon. Mr. Davies sometimes talks a good deal about things of which he knows little or nothing about. They have not been long in sizing up the minister of the Marines.

—We learn that notices of dismissal have been given to all the railway sectionmen east of Charlottetown, and to one section foreman. The reason for the wholesale dismissal has not transpired. But it has been made, doubtless, for political purposes, and without even the courtesy of a trial before the official headsman.

—Montreal Gazette: If the utterances of some western Liberal papers, and the resolutions of some Quebec Liberal clubs are to be believed, the coming campaign in this province will be run on a platform of hostility to the Roman Catholic church. If the wobbling utterances of Mr. Laurier in his Quebec speech are an indication, the party managers will not be such fools.

—How much better would it be, says a writer in The Princess, if girls realized the importance of having thorough domestic knowledge. Whatever her position in life, it behoves every woman to know how things ought to be done, as otherwise she will be unable to tell if they are correct, or to instruct others. Then, if the reverses of fortune which come to often the most unlikely, touch her, she is incapable of meeting the trouble, and the battle is a hard fought one. A housekeeping branch would be a valuable addition to every school, and in nine cases out of ten be of more benefit in after life than the few accomplishments of which most girls get a little smattering and few become proficient in.

ADDRESS TO FATHER GAUTHIER.

During the Christmas holidays, P. C. Gauthier, Eccl., one of the teachers of St. Dunstan's College, was ordained to the priesthood by his Lordship Bishop McDonald, in St. Augustine's church, Rustico. On Monday evening last when all the students and professors had reassembled after the holidays, he was presented with the following address:—

To REV. P. C. GAUTHIER:—

Great events should always be suitably recognized. In this our predecessors in St. Dunstan's College have left us many and praiseworthy examples, which the present occasion bids us follow.

While we disbanded and went forth from Old St. Dunstan's to enjoy the Christmas holidays in our respective homes, you, having finished a lengthy retreat, left her walls to enlist in the service of Him, the anniversary of Whose birth were about to commemorate. As co-laborers and students we would be thoughtless, indeed, if we permitted this occasion to pass without congratulating you upon your elevation to the holy priesthood, and expressing our sincere wishes that you may long be spared performto the arduous duties of your sacred calling. What nobler duties can be conceived? To guide, counsel and instruct the erring; to encourage the virtuous to persevere; to exhort the sinner to forsake his evil ways; to bring peace and consolation to the dying; in fine to direct all those who come within the influence of your word and example to look beyond the transient things of earth and seek the happiness of eternal bliss. These are some of the responsibilities you have willingly assumed in selecting so noble a vocation. And we feel assured that in you the Holy Ministry has acquired a zealous and faithful laborer,—one who is ever ready to devote time, talent and energy in the service of Him to whom you have pledged eternal fealty.

We sincerely trust that whatever portion of the Lord's vineyard may be committed to your care, you may always entertain a kindly regard for your associates in St. Dunstan's.

Please accept the accompanying gift as a feeble expression of our earnest esteem for you.

PROFESSORS AND STUDENTS.

Father Gauthier was deeply moved by this expression of good will on the part of the students and teachers, and in a few feeling and well chosen words returned thanks for the gift and for the kind sentiments contained in the address.

That man will die before he is a year older, and all the strength of Spain cannot save him; not if he takes refuge in the palace at Madrid."

The situation at Roland Village II. coal mine was practically unchanged up to noon on Monday. Crowds of miners gathered on the principal street in the forenoon and after being addressed by an agitator who advised bloodshed advanced upon the mine. Troops under Lieut. Miners were parading the streets almost constantly and nearly everyone had a weapon concealed upon his person. Miners were partly quieted at noon by a promise from Manager Hakes, of the coal company, that he would probably settle the question of their wages and grievances Monday.

MR. DAVIES' SENSATION.

(Rossland Weekly Miner.)

The Hon. Louis Henry Davies, minister of marine and fisheries in the Dominion cabinet, has sprung a sensation on the people of Canada. An Associated Press dispatch in another column says he is "most outspoken against the present methods of floating mining schemes in British Columbia." Now this note of warning, as we suppose Mr. Davies calls it, would come from him with a great deal better grace if he had visited the mining districts, like his colleague, the Hon. Mr. Blair, and taken some pains to post himself on the question. Any information which he may have on the subject must necessarily be at second-hand, and as it was probably acquired in Vancouver or Victoria it is not probable that it is either well founded or accurate.

Mr. Davies warns eastern people that "if any rich finds are struck the people on the spot can sell their holdings out and then buy them in again." This is very funny. Seeing that a rich strike means an advance in price it is a trifle beyond us to figure out just how the westerner is going to make money in that way.

Mr. Davies evidently has all his experience of stocks yet to get. Has he warned people not to buy C. P. R. shares because those on the inside, the directors in this case, know in advance when a dividend is going to be paid and when it is going to be passed? Everybody, except perhaps Mr. Davies knows that directors of railroad companies and their friends often take advantage of this knowledge and buy or sell stocks as the case may be, reaping a goodly harvest from the advance or decline when the news becomes public.

Mr. Davies is out of his element. He should confine his attention to fish.
