Open Markets To Dollar Goods

GENEVA (Reuters)—Five West European countries Monday announced steps to relax restrictions on imports, particularly from the dollar area.

The move was announced in a communique issued after consultations among Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Italy, Greece, The Netherlands, Austria and West Germany held within the framework of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

Sweden announced that the import of 12 important items including wheat, flour and certain vegetables from the dollar area will be exempt for licencing control as from today.

Italy announced steps to extend the range of goods which may be freely imported from the dollar area. Austria said a big new dollar-free list is likely to come into force this month, and Norway indicated further measures of liberalization to be taken soon.

West Germany expressed its "firm intention" to consider the measures to be adopted in the light of this situation and announced that further liberlization steps would be taken in the near future.

Huge Auger Employed In Rescue Of Trapped Miners

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Five grimy miners, trapped for more than 14 hours by a cave-in, scrambled to safety Wednesday night through a hole which a monstrous mechanical auger had bored 230 feet into a hillside.

When the 42-inch auger was pulled from the hole, the miners followed it out one by one. They blinked at the floodlights which garnishly lit the desolate strip-mine pit.

A great cheer rose from rescue workers, relatives, spectators and reporters as the miners rushed to their families who had waited all day in the hot sun and far into the night.

Doctors examined the men quickly at a shack nearby and said they were not harmed by their ordeal.

"My God, it was cold in there," said Fred Sabol, 33, one of the first out. The others were Hank Horvath, 35, Martin Kovalski, 40, Joseph Supinski, 47, and Kenny Hamilton, 38.

TRAPPED 14½ HOURS

They were trapped at 8:15 a.m. in a small chamber 300 feet back in a horizontal mine shaft about 150 feet below the crest of a hill. Their rescue came at 10:50 p.m.

The shaft was an end one among seven, about 50 feet apart, dug into the hillside at the base of a 50-foot-deep pit. The mine, Betsy No. 3 of the Powhatan Mining Co., is a small operation producing about 600 tons of coal a day.

The seven horizontal "punch mining" shafts were connected by an air passage, but the cave-in blocked it with hundreds of tons of loose rock, coal and dirt.

However, air from the other shafts could seep through the porous debris, and rescue workers mounted huge fans in the other tunnels.

DIG THREE HOLES

Late in the day, after other methods proved unpromising, rescuers started using the huge mining auger — a machine which added nine 21-foot-long bits in through a vein of coal.

The first two attempts with the auger failed when it hit rock. On the second boring, 180 feet deep, workers heard voices, although they could not distinguish words.

One rescuer said he heard five taps, and believed that meant all five were alive.

Two more 21 foot bit sections were rolled in by hand and mounted on the machine for the third boring.

When the drill broke through into the chamber, the trapped men loaded a cloth hat and a piece of lumber into the pit. When these came out at the other end, the rescurers knew they had reached their goal.

Ocean Perch Is Valuable Curio

ST. ANDREWS, N.B (CP)—The story of a fish that bears living young, grows just an inch a year, lives about 40 years and never strays far from home, intrigued top executives of the Maritime provinces' fishing industry attending the annual two-day forum at the fisheries research board's biological station here

It was related by Dr. Wilfred Templeman, director of th ebiological station in St. John's, Nfld, in reviewing research carried out on redfish at his station.

Known also as the rosefish, bream and ocean perch, the redfish is an important species in Canadian and US. quick - freezing plants. Exploratory fishing by the St John's station has discovered extensive grounds in the Gulf of St Lawrence, parts of the south coast of Newfoundland, the Grand Banks and in Labrador waters.

Research on herring at the St. Andrews station was reviewed by Nova Scotia side of the Bay of said major spawning areas have been located in the Trinity and Lurcher areas of southwest Nova Scotia and on the northwest edge of Georges Bank

Plankton cruises throughout the Bay of Fundy and the Gulf of Maine had shown the greatest numbers of young herring in the Georges Bank area, with smaller but significant numbers along the Nova Scotia side of the Bay of Fundy
