Official Opening Of New Montague High School

"The official opening of the new Montague High School was held yesterday afternoon, attended by a very large number of citizens from the school district. Present at the ceremony were Premier A. W. Matheson, Hon. Keir Clark, Minister of Education, and Dr. L. W. Shaw, deputy minister and director of education.

Mr. S. S. Hessian, Q.C., very capably acted as chairman, and in his opening remarks expressed the hopes of the trustee board to the building committee, the secretary, Mr. Lester MacLeod, Hon. Keir Clark, the Home and School Association, the Women's Institute, other organizations, and the ratepayers of the district, through whose co-operation and combined effort the new school was made possible.

He stressed the fact that in order to cope with the problems of today, each and every child must receive a thorough education. He spoke of the forces striving to blot out our institutions, and the necessity for us to protect our way of life. He concluded by speaking of the co-operation and assistance which the board had received, and in their behalf expressed his appreciation.

Hon. Keir Clark, Minister of Education, spoke highly of the type of building which had been erected at Montague, being the first one, he said, to be erected since a standard New Brunswick plan. He noted that five of the six classrooms were already in use, and that next year the sixth room would be in use when grade twelve would get underway.

Premier A. W. Matheson commended the public spiritedness of the people of the district in erecting such a fine building designed to promote the general well being of the children. He also lauded the great work of those former public spirited men who were instrumental in the erection of the Memorial School following the First World War. Their children, he said, were the ones, who further seeing the need for further expansion, had risen to the occasion and provided the means whereby this new school had been erected.

Dr. L. W. Shaw, deputy minister and director of education, also offered his sincere congratulations. He stated that the citizens had made one of the wisest investments, in the future of their children, and that the school stood as a monument to their co-operative effort. Montague has provided well for its children, he said, and the pleasant atmosphere and surroundings offered by the new school would assist greatly in developing a clear, open outlook on life in the child, and contribute in proportionate amount to the complete growth of the individual.

Mr. William Whiteway, general contractor, of the new building, expressed his appreciation of the co-operation which he had received, and assured the citizens that their school was one of the finest in the Province. Mr. Major John A. MacDonald, M. L.A. also offered his congratulations, pointing out the obligation which lies with the citizens to provide such educational facilities as are required to give each child the necessary education to fit him for his position in life. The new school, he said, would go far to enhance the educational development of the children throughout the district.

Rev. J. M. Fraser, minister of Trinity United Church, offered his best wishes to the citizens in passing another milestone in the history of education in the community. In this complex world of today, he said, the need for education is far greater than it has ever been. He emphasized the maintaining of high ideals to which education must be devoted, must never be lost otherwise, diverted from the proper end, it can only lead a nation and people toward the pathway of internal disintegration and destruction. The home, school and church must go together, he said, for through these is the full life of the child.

Mr. H. J. Hynes, supervisor, commended highly the generosity of the people through whose instrumentality such a fine building has been provided. He also thanked the trustees, and all organizations who had played their part so well towards finalizing this major project. He briefly outlined the history of the Memorial School, and lauded those through whose work it had been built, and commended their children of today who had faced their present responsibility.

At the conclusion of the official opening, the ladies of the Women's Institute and the Home and School Association served coffee and lunch to the large number which attended the opening ceremonies.

Egg Production Record At Experimental Farm

The highest egg production ever recorded at the Experimental Farm here was marked up Monday when the hens in the famous "roundhouse" as well as in the other house left almost 1,000 eggs in the nests.

A great majority of the hens are White Leghorns, but there are some hybrids through a cross with New Hampshire. The roundhouse is designed to house approximately 1,500 birds and usually has about 1,350. The hens are not bred here, as the Central Station at Ottawa handles all breeding and supplies the day-old chicks to the various experimental stations in Canada.

The new arrivals are shipped to the different stations by air at approximately two weeks intervals. They arrive in first class condition with a relatively low percentage of loss. In charge of the work here is Mr. Lorne Ramsay who takes a deep personal interest in the birds and carefully checks the production records of each of them.

Inspected Plant Last week Mr. H.S. Gutteridge, Dominion Poultry Husbandman, of the Central Station, Ottawa, paid his annual official visit and inspected conditions here. He suggested certain changes in the construction of the roundhouse, as a result which is expected to start shortly on the lowering of the roof. It is believed that this will result in healthier chickens. At present there are birds which were shipped here last spring at two weeks intervals. They are kept in sections of the house according to their age and all are numbered with metal tags attached to the wings. The nests are so designed that while a bird may enter of its own volition, the hinged bottom part of the entrance then drops so the hen cannot get out. This is in order to check the egg production. A large sheet is maintained by Mr. Ramsay and on it is the exact record of every chicken at the farm. Surprisingly, to a city dweller at least, the egg production is not the same for all the birds. Some of them are dozens ahead of their sisters.

Cross Breed Experiment In a separate building an experiment is being conducted in the production of "meat" birds. These are a special cross between Leghorns and New Hampshire and are bred for their broad-breasted build to provide a greater quantity of meat.

It is noticeable that this cross-breed is definitely heavier than those in the roundhouse. Some run to almost eight pounds in weight. Their color varies greatly as some of them are almost white while others have a red tinge to the feathers. The majority, however, appear to range in shade from grey to deep brown.

Results of experiments to date will be prepared and sent to the Central Station where they will be coordinated with reports from other stations and the findings given poultrymen in the various parts of Canada.

Red Point Women's Institute held their annual meeting at the home of Mrs. J. Sutherland on November 3. A travelling apron has been started to raise money for institute funds. It was decided for the coming year to cut down on the lunches at meetings. Program committee next month are Mrs. Charles Ching, Miss Bernice McPhee, Officers for the coming year are: President Mrs. R. Garrett, vice president Mrs. Charles Ching. Other officers reappointed. Next meeting is at the home of Mrs. Nelson Stewart Dec. 1.

Fine Variety Concert At Georgetown

Georgetown Town Hall was filled to capacity last evening for one of the finest variety concerts ever presented in the town. Under the direction of Mrs. Ralph Beck, the Musical Dischords of 1953 featured a cast of twelve young ladies and six young men. The numbers ranged from the ridiculous to the sublime, and each was heartily applauded by the large audience.

Mrs. Malcolm Beck was piano accompanist, and Mr. Arnold Wightman acted as master of ceremonies.

The entertainment opened with a group of "smile" selections, followed by a group of American folk songs. The ensemble was also heard in a group of Negro spirituals, Scotch songs, and cowboy favorites. Soloists were Mrs. Arnold Wightman, Mrs. Beck, George Bourdreaul, and Bob Murray. A vocal duet, "Schubert's Serenade" was beautifully rendered by Mrs. Douglas Coffin and Mrs. Arnold Wightman.

Bob Murray was also favorably heard in two violin selections "Danny Boy" and "The Old Rascal". A novelty number by Mrs. Douglas Coffin, harmonica, Mr. Ralph Beck, harmonica, and George Bourdreaul, violin, was greatly enjoyed. The entertainment closed with the ensemble singing "Lead Me Gently Home", and "God Save The Queen."

The performance, which is sponsored by the Georgetown branch of the Canadian Legion in aid of the War Memorial Fund, is a presentation of outstanding ability by the finest of Montague's talented young men and women.

A successful card party was held on Thursday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Campbell, Primrose. Eleven tables were in play. Ladies' prize was won by Mrs. Louis Cantelo, gents' by Joseph Johnston.
