TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

[SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER.] Opening of the Colonial and Indian Exhibition. IMPOSING CEREMONIES. Lines by Tennyson. Description of the Show. LONDON, May 4. The Queen formally opened the Colonial Exhibition to-day. The weather was beautiful, and the attendance immense. A prominent feature was the ode composed by Tennyson. It was magnificently rendered by a vast choir of carefully selected voices. One part of the ode was as follows:— "Shall we not through good and ill Cleave to one another still? Sons be welded each and all Into one Imperial whole. One with Britain heart and soul, One life, one flag, one fleet, one throne, Britons hold your own, And God guard all!" The Queen was much pleased with the order and great enthusiasm was manifested by the people. [On entering the Exhibition buildings one is at once face to face with striking reminders of Imperial development. On the various panels decorating the entrance hall are portrayed a series of views of the metropolis, and leading provincial and colonial towns. Among them will be found Halifax, St. John, Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Winnipeg, and Victoria, an excellent panorama of Canadian civic growth and importance. Passing through the harmoniously-arranged splendours from the Indian Empire, crossing the court of United Australia, and down the central avenue, one finds the Canadian section, excellently placed in the central arcade, where, including annexes, transepts, corridors, 34,890 feet were provided. Extensions then run into the west gallery, with 20,280 feet of space, and the west arcade with 2,080 feet, which, with additions in the east and west quadrant, the conservatory and gardens, Albert Hall, and the new building adjoining, make in all just over 73,830 feet of gross space. First to claim attention, are the decorations, the basia, as it were, of the whole display, and here one is at once struck by a leading distinction between the courts of Canada and the other Colonies. The coloring is subdued, and in a sense unobtrusive. From the eastern corridor, through the transepts and central gallery, to the western corridor, a length of 600 feet in a straight line, handsome show-cases of dark Canadian woods line the sides at intervals. The walls are draped with maroon cloth, relieved by a deep old-gold valance in the bays round the court, with painted plaques bearing the word "Canada," and the letters "V. R." while on either side of the upper lights hangs a pale lilac valance. The arches are picked out with gold-tipped leaves, and at each spring of the arch, 12 feet high and 10 feet apart, appropriate flags on spears are fastened over shields ornamented with maple leaves bearing the names of the Provinces of the Dominion. The effect thus distinctly differs from that produced by the magnificent tapestries and brilliancy of endless painted motifs with in many other courts, and herein lies an indication of the primary objects of the exhibits from the various Colonies. The displays of Canada and of Eastern Colonies and Dependencies can naturally have but little in common.] DOMINION PARLIAMENT. OTTAWA, May 4. In the House to-day, Blake rose and spoke upon the Irish question. He referred to the great statesman who leads Her Majesty's Government, and read largely from Gladstone's manifesto. He moved an address assuring Her Majesty of their interest in Ireland, and that Canada hails with joy the efforts to settle the Irish question, so as to conduce to the peace happiness and prosperity of the Empire. After some discussion Blake withdrew his motion to move it again on Thursday. A New Stud Book. PARIS, May 4. The Executive Committee appointed by the French Agricultural Society to establish a draft horse stud book, has admitted into its membership the French Draft Horse Association of America. The American buyers of horses in France are much gratified, while the traders and jobbers are violent in opposition to the scheme. Matrimonial. OTTAWA, May 4. Miss Costigan, daughter of Hon. John Costigan, was married here this morning to D. Bliss, Esq., of the Indian Department. The ceremony was performed in St. Patrick's Church. Obituary. PETERBORO, ONT., May 4. Bishop Jamot died here this afternoon, of inflammation of the lungs. He was 53 years of age and was appointed Bishop of Peterboro, in 1882. Aquatic. NEW YORK, May 4. Hanlan has declined to row Towner until after he has secured another race with Beach, who is now en route for England. The Strikers. NEW YORK, May 4. There was no violence in this city to-day among the strikers. Advice from Chicago report a terrible clash between the police and strikers there, in which many police and strikers were killed. One report states that 25 police and 40 strikers were killed and many wounded. Destroyed by Lightning. MONCTON, May 4. The Roman Catholic Church at Buctouche, Kent Co., was struck by lightning this afternoon, and destroyed together with the priest's residence. The loss is $18,000. Weather Bulletin. Probabilities for the next 24 hours for the Maritime Provinces. TORONTO, May 5—10 a. m. South to west wind; partly cloudy or cloudy weather, with local showers; not much change in temperature. Supreme Court. WEDNESDAY, May 5. Mutch, Appellant and Jenkins, Respondent. This was an appeal from the County Court of Queen's County. The action was brought by the Respondent in that Court for wages, and the County Court Judge gave judgment in his favor. From this decision the Appellant (Defendant below) appealed. The defence to the action was that the Plaintiff, who is comparatively an old man, was simply kept by the Defendant about the place for his work, and the Supreme Court found this to be the case and reversed Judge Alley's decision with costs. McLeod, Q. C., and A. A. McLean for Appellant, Peters for Respondent. The Court stands adjourned until tomorrow at 11. BIRTH. At Northam, P. E. Island, on the 22nd ult. the wife of Jeremiah McArthur, of a daughter. MARRIED. At the Church of the Messiah, Boston, Mass., on the 23rd ult. by the Rev. Henry Allen, William H. Crosskill, of the P.
