OTAWA (CP) - More and more of Canada's consumer spending is being done on credit.

The end of November there was a whopping $1,417,000,000 in credit sales at general personal loans - a rise of 30 per cent from a year earlier.

This figure released today by the bureau of statistics does not include a 10-per-cent rise in the banks' fully secured personal loans - a rise of 23.8 per cent rise in home improvement loans to $74,000,000.

Since banks' credit sales had $672,000,000 outstanding for purchases of consumer goods at the end of November, that's 1 per cent from a year earlier.

Cash loans by banks were $1.4 billion up 14.4 per cent at $737,000,000 and they were financing $65,000,000 in installment credit, up 10 per cent over the year.
