2) half barrels choice apple cider on hand, call at once.—E. H. Norton & Co.

LAD TO REST.—The body of the late Mr. Michael Kelly was interred in the Roman Catholic Cemetery this afternoon. The funeral cortege was very large. The Benevolent Irish society, of which the deceased was a worthy member, attended in regalia.

OUT OF SEASON.—The Agriculturist says: On Thursday last Master Jack Muncy, of this town, left at our office several very large and fine English strawberries, which he had gathered that morning in Mr. James Gour, his fruit and vegetable garden. Freaks of nature seem to be adumbrating this fall.

VERY COMMENDABLE.—The Secretary of Queen Square Gardens has much pleasure in acknowledging the receipt of $13 from the sale of articles at a children's bazaar held by the following young ladies in September last, viz.: Ethel Davies, Vera Hyndman, May Dodd and Lillie Dodd.

Y. M. L. A. CONCERT.—The Young Men's Literary Association of St. James' Church will open their fifth annual course of lectures with a concert, to take place in St. James' Hall this (Tuesday) evening, commencing at 8 o'clock. There is an excellent programme prepared, and those who wish to spend a pleasant evening should attend.

ATTEMPTED TRAIN WRECKING.—A deliberate attempt was made a few days ago to wreck an intercolonial train near Stellarton, N. S., by placing a large piece of iron rail on the track. The engine of an accommodation struck the obstruction and a serious disaster was narrowly averted. The railway police are endeavoring to ferret out the guilty parties.

HAY DEALERS AND UNCLE SAM.—The hay dealers of Quebec Province, who have claims against the United States Government for a refund of duties, are about to hold a meeting at St. Johns, Que. The amount involved is about $800,000. It seems that Collector of Customs Benedict, of Burlington, has expressed himself favorable to the recognition of the claims.

STRUCK A BONANZA.—Ballard Smith, news editor of the New York World, has struck a bonanza. In a few days he will marry Miss Butterfield, a New York millionaire in her own right. The young couple will spend their honeymoon in a tour round the world. Mr. Smith's greatest "snag" previous to this was an interview of several columns with President Cleveland.

IN BAD CONDITION.—A report received from Capt. Guilford states that the Grand Manan cable is in a very bad condition. Seven pieces have already been picked up, after splicing which he will be obliged to underpin the whole line to the Campbell shore. The cause of the breaks is attributed to the effects of the copper ore in the ledge on the bottom, which corrodes the wire.

WILLIAMS' PIANOS.—Why do ladies and gentlemen of high musical talent prefer the Williams piano? Because they are able to judge accurately. There are more Williams pianos sold in Canada than all others combined. Messrs. J. F. Willis & Co. have a number of these fine pianos on exhibition in their office. Intending purchasers will find it to their interest to buy from Messrs. Willis & Co., as they are large importers and are willing to give the public good value for their money, independent of where they reside.—J. F. Willis & Co. Office, McEboern's Building, Lower Queen St., Charlottetown, P. E. I.

SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER.

Against England and the English.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.

Advices from Port Spain to Oct. 4th says that the British guano boundary question still agitates the minds of Venezuelans, and the manner in which England had treated the subjects is leading the people of the republic to hostile measures. Unable to interpret her patience, Venezuelans are determined to force her hands by every kind of outrage upon British subjects residing in country. Quite recently a national fête was celebrated at El Callas, Yuarway district. The principal orators, the leading men of the country, on this occasion demonstrated to a certainty how the country feels toward England. One of them, a government official, urged his hearers to "fight against the English as their forefathers had done against the Spaniards to gain their liberty." During the afternoon Venezuelans went about the town of Callao cutting and wounding British subjects they met in the streets. The governor did not attend the fête, and advised Venezuelans to avoid interfering with the English. The feeling in Trinidad is one of extreme hostility to Venezuela, and this cannot be wondered at in view of all the circumstances, especially the 30 per cent. differential duty, levied by the republic on Trinidadian products in violation of express treaties.

Shot in the Eye.

YESTERDAY afternoon about four o'clock, while a number of boys were practicing with an air gun in the yard of Mr. Thomas J. Morris, corner of Queen and Kent Streets, one of them, Fred Trainor, son of Mr. P. H. Trainor, painter, was accidentally struck in the eye with a small shot—the contents of the gun—sustaining injuries which will likely necessitate the removal of the eye. The shot that did the damage was fired by Harvey Morris, the 15-year-old son of the Mr. Morris above referred to. The target at which the boys were firing was on one side of a water closet, and young Morris caught and all the boys' eyes going near it, during the firing. But his advice was not taken, hence the disastrous accident. Trainor, whose turn to fire was before Morris', after shooting, went over towards the closet, first, however, handing the gun to Morris to fire. Morris took the gun in his hand and prepared to shoot. As he was about raising the gun to its proper position, he heard a noise, and, looking up suddenly, he saw Trainor's head over the top of the closet. The noise made by Trainor and his sudden and unexpected appearance startled Morris a little, and his finger pressing slightly upon the trigger which was easily moved, the gun was discharged. The gun was pointed slightly upward at the time, and the shot, instead of striking the target, went higher up, lodging in Trainor's eye. When he was hit, Trainor screamed, and Morris and the other boys at once went to his assistance. Morris, as soon as he saw what was the matter, picked Trainor up and carried him into his house, adjoining the scene of the accident. He next ran for medical assistance, and soon Drs. Conroy and Jenkins were on the scene. They found, on examination, that the shot had perforated the eyeball directly over the sight. The probabilities are that the eye will have to be removed. The little fellow is suffering a good deal to-day. Young Morris is much affected over the disaster to his playmate.
