Magic Healer Salve.

WEST CAPE, August 4, 1890.

MRS. ROSS,—I wish to inform you that your "Magic Healer" Salve has proved a sure cure for Salt Rheum. A young lady residing in my house tested the Salve, and found it the best article she ever tried, after using other Salves without doing any good. I recommended her to try the "Magic Healer," and before using half a box, the Salt Rheum disappeared. I cheerfully furnish the above facts. And remain, yours.

SCOTT ACT CASES.

The Evidence Taken.

WM. DOUDIER.

Jno. F. Robertson—(sworn)—I know where Doudier keeps. I purchased no liquor there within last three months. I had beer there. I paid a dollar for all I got—perhaps 20 bottles. I took the beer home to use at dinner. Never treated friends there. Never saw any drinking liquor there to my knowledge. Got no ale there.

Jas. McDonald—(sworn)—I know a man by name of Wm. Doudier near my place on Richmond street. I was at his place in October. I bought some whiskey. I don't think I bought it from Doudier. I bought it from some man in the house. Think they called him Jack. As far as I can remember I did not buy from Doudier. I have seen Doudier in the bar. I have bought whiskey often there. Once from Jack within the last three months. I saw Doudier in the bar as often as I was in.

H. Sellers—(sworn)—I have been at Doudier's place. I purchased liquor there three or four times within dates. only saw one man at the bar. Do not know his name. Never heard him called by any name. There were none in drinking with me.

Patrick Trainor—(sworn)—I know the man. Don't think I had as much as a drink of beer at his place. I think the place belongs to Coyle. He has been there about two years. He has a fellow assisting him called Jack. He is there almost regularly. Jack is the only one I ever saw dealing out liquor.

H. Ramsay,—(sworn)—I know Doudier. I did get a bottle of brandy there within last three months. Don't know from whom I got it. Think it was from the man known as Jack. I saw Doudier there sometimes. Got no liquor from him.

Aubrey Fowle, (sworn.)—Doudier lives in Richmond Street. Have purchased liquor there from a man called Jack. I suppose I have got it more than once. I saw Wm. Doudier about there. I believe Doudier lives in the house.

Stephen Coyle (sworn.)—I have been at Doudier's place. I have purchased liquor there from a man called Johnny. Have heard him called Bourgout. I have purchased liquor at least half a dozen times and paid for it. I have seen Wm. there, believe he lives there. Have seen him serving no drinks. I own the premises. Doudier rented the place from me more than a year ago, rent payable monthly. He gave it up to me about a year ago. No one has a lease of it now. Johnny pays me the rent monthly. Wm. has nothing to do with renting it from me. Don't know what Wm. is doing about the house. I do not know whether Doudier is the real man and Jack only a blind.

Wm. Scott, (sworn.)—I have purchased liquor there. Do not know from whom. From the person called Jack. Got none from Doudier.

Jno. Hawkins (sworn.)—I know the place called the Frenchman's. I got liquor there last Saturday week. I think it was spirits, paid 30 cents for it. I got it from a little low stout man.

Geo. Dickieson (sworn)—I got liquor in there from a junk of a fellow behind the bar, and paid 10 cents.

Jno. Carson (sworn.)—I know the place kept there by the Frenchman. I was treated there, and saw liquor there.

Jno. A. McDougall, (sworn.) I got liquor at the Frenchman's within three months. Could not say from whom. I got something good. Suppose it was whiskey.

Summons dismissed.

MRS. EDMUNDS.

Case adjourned to this day week.

ANGUS MACDONALD.

Jno. McGregor, (sworn.)—I have been at McDonald's. I bought no liquor there. I got a drink once from Mr. McDonald, but did not pay for it.

Jas. Rush, (sworn.)—McDonald won't give me any liquor. I got none there. Others might have got drinks, but I could not give their names.

Wallace Arbing, (sworn.)—Got no liquor at McDonald's. Was not trusted there.

Adjourned to Wednesday next.

CHARLES COLLINGS.

GEO. SMITH, (sworn)—I have been in there several times. I got liquor there, but do not think it was within dates. Got a quart of whiskey in the last of September. A few weeks after I had a dispute with Collings. It is two and a half months ago that I had a difference with him. I was threshing and I got the liquor to treat the hands. This was about 20th of September. I think it was the first day of my threshing. It was about that bottle I had the difference. I don't remember Mr. Fowle treating me at Colling's. I got liquor there about 10th Oct. but don't know who paid for it. I swear that I don't remember who was in with me, or whether they belonged to town or country, and don't you ask me again, don't irritate me. I don't know what I might do It was syrup was called for, that is the way we do, we don't call for the real thing, it was not syrup we got, it was syrup we paid for but it was whisky we got. There were three or four in. Can't remember that Mr. Fowle was there. Think it was got from Mrs. Collings but he was there himself. I have my remembery struck for that. I got no liquor after that occasion.

Aubrey Fowle (sworn)—I believe I had liquor from Collings. I know Mr. Collings. I know I have purchased from him within dates.

Chas. McQuillan, (sworn)—I had no liquor at Collings.

Angus Newbury, (sworn)—I got a half glass of port wine there, paid 5 cents for it. I believe it is within three months. I won't swear positively.

H. Sellers, (sworn)—I think I did get a treat at Collings. I am inclined to think it was within dates.

Convicted of 3rd offence. Sentenced to two month's in jail.

PATRICK WELSH.

Fred Mill's (sworn)—I got beer at Welsh's. It was bop beer. Did not drink more than two glasses at a time.

Wm. Henderson, (sworn)—I had nothing to drink there within three month's.

Patrick Duffy, (sworn)—I had beer at Welsh's. It was bop beer, learned more than me has pronounced it temperate. I believe a gorge of it would make me tight; but I would have to take a lot of it. If I could find room for enough of Welsh's beer it would make me tight.

Jno. Cairy, (sworn)—Got beer at Welsh's. I won't swear that it is intoxicating. Would not feel the effects of two glasses.

Patrick Welsh (sworn)—He testified that he had never sold to anyone anything stronger than hop beer.

Conviction for first offence $40, or two month's.

The six remaining cases were adjourned.

At the police court this forenoon, on the evidence of A. McLean, Albert Roberts was convicted of a second offence and fined $100 or two month's imprisonment.

"I believe that on the battle to be fought on the 8th of January depends the future prosperity, both moral and social, of this my native city."—Mayor Haviland.

The Parnell Crisis.

It is impossible to form even an approximate estimate of the results which are likely to follow the evil course of Charles Stewart Parnell, nor is it so far a fact that he will not yet and for a long time to come exert a great influence in Irish affairs. His opponents are now as bitter in their opposition to him as they were toward the British Government, and no excuse can be offered for the outrage of throwing lime in Parnell's eyes, which might have resulted in the total loss of his sight. From recent despatches we learn that after the lime throwing outrage Mr. Parnell slept at Urlingford, whence he drove the following morning to Rathdowney. Messrs. Davitt and Tanner also started for Rathdowney with the avowed intention of confronting Parnell publicly. Messrs. Harrison, O'Kelly, Edward Harrington and Joseph Nolan, members of parliament, joined Parnell at the Ossory hotel. Here a deputation of tenant farmers from the Aghadoe, Galway, branch of the league presented an address declaring confidence in Parnell. In expressing his thanks for the address Parnell said he rejoiced to see so many sterling farmers among the people rallying around him. It was an assurance that Irishmen would never more submit to English dictation. The seal of Kilkenny would be put upon his sixteen years' work. (Cheers). Mr. Harrison then addressed the deputation. He said he regretted that the Irish members of parliament opposing Parnell had descended to the foul abuse of London music halls, hurling a woman's name at their former leader. (Cries of 'Shame.') It was unmanly, ungenerous and un-Irish. (Cheers).

'THE FOX HAS GOT AWAY.'

During the meeting at the hotel, Messrs. Davitt and Tanner arrived and began to speak from waggons in the market square. Several hundred persons were grouped around Tanner, who in his speech said the Irish party could not whitewash Parnell. He complained of this old leader calling the seceders 'gutter sparrows.' Then stopping suddenly and pointing to Parnell, who was leaving the hotel in a carriage and driving off, he shouted: 'He is clearing out now. Tallyho! The fox has got away!' This sally was greeted with roars of laughter and cheers. Mr. Parnell and party avoided the market square and managed to depart without any collision of the factions. As they were passing through the village of Durrow a crowd of peasants gave cheers for William O'Brien. Whereupon Mr. Harrington called for cheers for Dillon. They were freely given, put there was no response to his call for cheers for Parnell.

The influence excited by the priests in the struggle is pronounced and emphatic, and individual members of the hierarchy act pretty much in agreement with their own views of the issue regardless of the manifesto recently issued by the Bishops. Riots are of almost daily occurrence. The following scene was enacted recently at Cork, Parnell's constituency:

A large crowd gathered at the railway station, and on the arrival of Messrs. McCarthy and Healy and their associates made a fierce and hostile demonstration. Sticks were brandished in the air, and a few fights ensued between members of the two factions. Priests who tried to pacify the people were brutally attacked. Canon Lyons, who is 70 years old, was knocked violently to the ground. Father Barret, being struck, turned on his assailants and called them cowards. Mr. McCarthy was hustled about by the mob and prevented from reaching his carriage. He went to his hotel in another carriage, followed by a hooting crowd. He addressed a meeting inside the hotel, while the Parnellites held a rival meeting outside. A public meeting will be held on Wednesday, as which Messrs. McCarthy, Sexton, Maurice Healy and Lane will speak.

The officers of the Cork corporation are however about equally divided in the support of Parnell and his opponents. During the celebration of mass at Kirkysart yesterday Father Gillian, the officiating priest, denounced Parnell very severely. While he was speaking the whole congregation arose and left the church. A meeting was then organized by the parishioners outside the church and a vote of confidence in Parnell was unanimously adopted. At the Franciscan church at Ennis yesterday the friars denounced Parnell for his moral and political action. Several members of the congregation became offended at the utterances of the friars and left the church. The priests in the pro-cathedral at Ennis made no comment upon Parnell's actions.

The latest phase of the question is the issue of John Dillon's manifesto against Parnell.

We challenge and defy the liquor dealers to say they are not the chief movers for the repeal of the Scott Act.
