

Christmas Mail Requires Careful Wrapping, Posting

By JEAN SHARP
Canadian Press Women's Editor
TORONTO (CP) — Unless your Aunt Harriet lives where mail is delivered by parachute, her Christmas present isn't going to be dropped from a great height deliberately.

At the same time, postal workers cannot give it personal attention. It goes on a conveyor with hundreds of other parcels, then into a bag which is thrown on to a truck or train and off again.

"They do get a fair bit of handling," W. D. Baker says mildly. "Chipboard, a box like a shoe box, won't stand it. A three-pound book could go right through it."

Mr. Baker is in the public relations department of the post office. He combines a plea for early mailing at Christmas with the hope that packages will be wrapped so they stand a chance of getting there in one piece.

If you haven't mailed your presents to Britain yet, it's too late to get them there by Christmas in the normal way. The deadline is Nov. 24.

"The correct address is one thing we're always concerned about. We must have the correct postal address, and in metropolitan areas the apartment suite number is getting to be almost a must."

"We also suggest you show a return address inside the package in case the outside label comes off."

Corrugated cardboard, strong brown paper and sufficient packing are also recommended.

Mr. Baker says the post office would be pleased if you never mailed liquids. But if you must, it prefers they be packed with enough absorbent material to absorb all the liquid should its container break.

PIUSVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Lance Dalton, Burton Lot 7 were recently visiting relatives in Piusville.

Mrs. Clifford Ellis, RN, visited in the district on Thursday in the interest of the new babies in this vicinity.

Norberta Corcoran spent the past weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Kelley, Roosevelt.

Frank Stephens, Campbellton, was a recent business visitor to the district.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter F. Gallant were recently visiting at the home of their daughter Mrs. All Arsenault and Mr. Arsenault, Miscouche.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Gallant are spending the winter with relatives in Toronto, Ontario.

Kevin Murray, Piusville and Stanley Murray, Miminegash, returned to their home after spending some time with relatives in Boston, Mass.

BRISTOL

When workmen erect the Christmas crib in the Little Flower Church next week it will be in memory of the late beloved pastor, Rev. Joe Rooney who served here for 20 years. The father had the crib built so it could be dismantled and re-erected each year in his memory.

Harold Jay, who had a lovely new home built in the village of Morell last summer has arrived from Boston to reside here in retirement after 50 years as a machinist in the U.S.A.

Last week we met Julie Gauthier, a resident here 51 years ago with her sister, the late Mrs. Cecelia Davy. Julie tells us she has never been back to Bristol in all those years and that she is the last living member of her family. A nephew, James Davy, resides in the city now. He left here as a boy.

It is reported that one of the oldest businesses in the village will close its doors and go up for sale. Country general stores are fading away in this fast age. Of course the grocery business is still needed but the general store is on the way out. The city is too handy now with paved roads and fast cars and trucks.

With the colder weather coming on the younger class and those not so young anymore are looking to the big rink in the hope it will get cold enough to make ice instead of the grass growing around the rink last week. Who among our oldest readers remember that cold Friday 70 years ago when the mercury here dropped to 46 degrees below zero, the coldest day ever known here.

JAPANESE ATTACK LEADER 25 YEARS LATER

The man who led the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, Mitsuo Fuchida, 64, returned to Hawaii a quarter century later, and recalled the events of Dec. 7, 1941. Fuchida, his back to Pearl Harbor, points to where he led the Japanese planes through the mountains of Cahu island, and down onto the crowded harbor where a score or more warships rode at anchor. (AP Wirephoto)

Feature Curry Of Lamb An Exotic Indian Dinner

BY IDA BAILEY ALLEN
For something different, you might invite your friends to an Indian Curry dinner. An India print cover will dress up the table. In the center put a sectioned platter or set of small relish dishes, to hold the condiments. Include toasted coconut chips; deviled cashew nuts or pine nuts; chopped scallions; canned Mandarin orange sections and cranberry chutney. Prepare Plenty Cook plenty of Lamb Curry and long white rice, and Dhall made with lentil or split peas, which is used as a sauce (and added protein), with the Lamb Curry served over the rice. For dessert, pass a big bowl of seasonal fruits and nuts. To be authentic, tea should be the beverage.

TOMORROW'S DINNER
Tomato Juice Cocktail
Curry of Lamb with Rice and Dhall
Cranberry Chutney
Plummed Pitted Prunes with Orange Slices
Coffee Tea Milk
Measurements level unless otherwise noted

CURRY OF LAMB
2 to 3 lb. shoulder or breast of lamb
2 tsp. margarine
1/4 c. minced onion
1/4 tsp. flour
1/4 tsp. salt
3 tsp. curry powder

Guest Speaker At Breadalbane WMS Meeting

Mrs. Merle Zimmerman, Fredericton, was hostess for the regular monthly meeting of the Breadalbane Christian Church Women's Missionary Society. Mrs. Cuyler Matheson presided at the meeting which opened with the missionary creed followed by the singing of "Take Time to Be Holy". The secretary, Mrs. Allan Hicks, read the minutes, and called the roll to which the members responded with a Bible verse.

Mrs. Lew Cass, missionary on furlough from Brazil gave a very interesting lecture on that country, in which she described the climate, customs, and religion outlook of the people. Articles of clothing and bedding for the needy were passed in. The Mizpah Benediction concluded the meeting. Lunch was served by the hostess.

York Point Institute Plans Christmas Welfare Projects

Mrs. Ralph Bain presided at the York Point WI December meeting which was held at the home of Mrs. Reginald MacEwen. Roll call was accompanied by a gift from each member for a patient at Riverside Hospital.

The visitation committee report was given by Mrs. Reta McPhail, the school report by Mrs. John Sanderson, and the treasurer's report by Mrs. Gordon MacEwen.

Mrs. Stanley Murchison reported on the progress made on the inquiry into installing a caution light at the road intersection at North River. Mrs. Gordon MacKinley and Mrs. Reginald MacEwen were appointed to assist with this matter.

It was decided to give donations to Halfway House, the Sheltered Workshop and shuttles of the community, at Christmas, and also to the school children and all small children of the district. Baskets will be packed for welfare.

North River WI To Study Handicrafts

North River WI met at the home of Mrs. Fulton Warren for their December meeting. The president, Mrs. Roy Campbell, presided.

Roll call was accompanied by an exchange of Christmas gifts. Members decided to donate to Halfway House; a letter was read from the Women's Institute branch informing members that a handicraft caravan would be available to visit the community, and Mrs. Elliott Wright was appointed to inquire into the matter more fully.

Articles were handed in for the completion of two layettes. It was decided to extend an invitation to Keith Kennedy to show slides on his recent trip abroad; the showing to be held in the North River auditorium.

The January meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Elliott Wright, when the program will be conducted by Mrs. Norris Kitson and the food committee will be composed of Mrs. Elmer Yeo, Mrs. Elliott Wright, Mrs. Fred Jewell, and Mrs. Lawrence Molyneux.

Borden Ladies Altar Society Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Borden Ladies Altar Society took place in the church hall on December 8th with a good attendance. The secretary, Mrs. Mark Gillan read the minutes of the last meeting and also gave the financial statement.

The members reported a successful Christmas sale, and also the result of the blanket lottery. The winning ticket, belonging to Hilary Conrad of Cape Tormentine, was drawn by Mrs. Herbert MacKenzie.

It was decided, as in the past to give Christmas boxes to needy families in the parish, and to purchase flowers for the altar for Christmas.
