Scouts To Celebrate Founder's Anniversary

More than four hundred Scouts, Guides, Brownies and Cubs, attended the various city churches yesterday as a prelude to "Thinking Day" which will be celebrated by those organizations all over the world today, February 22 is the birthdate of the founder of Scouts, the late Lord Baden-Powell, and also that of his wife who is still identified with the Guide and Brownie movement.

The celebration tonight, which takes place in the Community Centre, will be highlighted by the presentation of the coveted "Gold Cord" to Miss Marjorie June Pickard, by Mrs. Harry Cudmore, Provincial Commissioner. The last time such a presentation occurred here was when Queen Elizabeth II as Princess Elizabeth, placed the awards on Helen Chappell, Maurine Bohaker, Elizabeth MacLean, Dawn Messer and Ann Cerry.

The various units attending church services were directed by their leaders and entered in a body after assembling on the premises. At Zion Presbyterian Church, Miss Suzanne MacKinnon, District Commissioner, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Parment, members of the Provincial Council, and Mr. Gordon Kerr, Provincial Executive Commissioner, accompanied the units which were led by Miss Marion Langille and Mrs. Gordon Totten, Girl Guides; Mrs. Joe Rodd, Brownies; Arthur Farquharson, Scouts; Kathleen Garnhum, Cubs.

Parkdale Guides attending Zion were under Mrs. William A. Chandler; Brownies, Mrs. Ovid Dollar; Cubs and Scouts, Mrs. Wilfred Oatway and John Burke.

Russians Touch Off More Guessing In U. N. Circles

The Russians have again touched off a guessing game at the United Nations by sending their first string diplomats, headed by Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky, to the UN general assembly.

While most other governments will rely on their permanent delegates at the session opening Friday, the Soviet satellites, Poland and Czechoslovakia, also are sending their foreign ministers.

The question being asked is: What are the Russians up to now? As usual, Soviet leaders are being quiet. They may or may not have surprise proposals. In sending their first team to the session, the Russians are following a practice they began when the UN started in 1946. So this, in itself, is not necessarily significant.

But it does show that the Russians expect to make the UN the main scene of their diplomatic activity during the coming weeks. Diplomats have learned from experience that the UN is the place to watch for Soviet policy changes when Vishinsky is attending sessions.

There will be ample opportunity for Soviet policy declarations on such issues as the Korean conflict and disarmament, because these subjects already are on the assembly agenda. On the other hand, Vishinsky will face a barrage of criticism on Russia's attitude toward Jews and may come forward with some sort of declaration aimed at justifying the Soviet acts.

There is speculation that Vishinsky may bring up some sort of charges against the United States as a result of President Eisenhower's new orders to the U.S. 7th fleet to end its neutralization watch in the Straits of Formosa.

There has been no evidence that Russia is coming up with anything new on Korea. Only a few days ago the Moscow magazine news assailed the Indian plan for Korean peace on the ground that it contained no specific proposals for a cease-fire.

This same charge was made in the UN last November by Vishinsky. At that time, he offered his own plan for an immediate cease-fire, with all outstanding issues being referred to a commission for settlement.

Scouts To Celebrate Founder's Anniversary

At St. Dunstan's Basilica, Miss Ephigene Arsenault, Division Commander for Queen's County, accompanied the units which were directed by Miss Elaine MacDonnell, Guides; Abraham Zakem, Scouts; Miss Helen Doiron, Cubs; Mrs. Leo Dowling, Brownies.

Mrs. Irving McQuaid conducted the Southport Brownies to the Catholic parish church there, the Guides attending the Basilica under Miss Leona Gallant.

At Trinity United Church the service was taken over in part by the young people when the service was read by Miss Marjorie Pickard and prayer offered by Robert Hutcheson, and the offering collected by a group from the Boy Scouts. Miss Lillian Duchemin, Public Relations Commissioner, accompanied the units here which were directed by Brigadier W. W. Reid, Scout; Guides, Mrs. J. O. MacLean; Brownies, Mrs. W. Reid, Cubs, Miss Ruth Currie. The Southport Guides were directed by Mrs. Nell Matheson.

At St. Paul's, Mr. F. W. Jelks conducted the Scouts and Cubs and Miss Mary Whiteside the Brownies.

East Germany TV Producers Having Troubles

LONDON, (Reuters) — Unscheduled sound effects are drowning out television programs on Communist East Germany's infant TV network.

Reports received here tell of studio floors creaking loudly and technicians making an uproar backstage. Announcers, caught napping by the roving camera, have been shown with their eyes closed.

This makes it pretty hard on the East German televisioner, whose six-inch screen is already frequently blurred and sometimes blotted out completely.

The production faults are described in an issue of "Der Rundfunk" a weekly program guide published by the East Berlin state radio system.

An indignant viewer protested that he was shocked one day when a woman announcer was shown asleep on the screen of the TV set in his factory. She was apparently dozing, he said, "for her eyes were closed and her arms were folded."

Another time, he was interested in a talk about the national building program. But he could hardly hear what the speaker was saying. "I felt it very disturbing that the floor creaked so loudly with every step he made," the viewer explained.

This writer also criticized the backstage technicians — "they should not laugh and talk so loudly that the noise they make is very audible over the microphone."

TV in the Russian Zone made its debut Dec. 21 — just four days earlier than video in West Germany — to celebrate Stalin's 73rd birthday.

Defence Pact

British troops are based in the Suez Canal Zone under a defence pact between the two countries which has three years to run. Britain refused the action and reinforced her Suez garrison.

School Children Enjoy "Sleeping Beauty Of Loreland"

Over four hundred children met on Saturday afternoon in the Notre Dame auditorium for an annual entertainment by the College students.

The play, "The Sleeping Beauty of Loreland," presented in a fairy-like atmosphere, transported them all to wonderland. They listened with rapt attention to the unfolding of the age-old story told in many colorful scenes.

Those who seemed to enjoy most, were the court falling asleep in the midst of the hubbub of wedding preparations with everyone going into slow motion till finally all drop off to sleep; the awakening which is the reverse, the flower girls saucily asking the stately Bumps, as he tries to train them to strew flowers gracefully; and the tension when Princess Beauty pricks her finger and sleeps for a hundred years, to be awakened by the handsome Prince.

On Tuesday and Thursday evenings this three-act play will be repeated for grown-ups who will recapture the spirit of their youth in this refreshing entertainment.

For the doll-dressing part of the competition — each company is to dress a doll in the native costume of the country they have chosen. The final product to be judged for workmanship and authenticity. All work on the dolls to be done in Pack time.

Miss Lillian Duchemin, Public Relations Commissioner, reported that the City Planning Committee, has requested the support and assistance of the Charlottetown Girl Guides and Brownies in the contemplated beautification program to be carried out this spring. After consideration, it was thought this would be a splendid project for the Guides and Brownies to participate in order to carry out the Coronation Tribute.

The invitation of our gracious Honorary President, Mrs. T. W. L. Prowse, to hold the annual meeting in Government House was accepted with pleasure. It was decided the meeting would be held on Wednesday, April 8th, at 3 p.m. in the Social Hall. The Girl Guide Movement to be cordially invited to attend.
