Long-Standing

Blood Diseases are cured by the persevering use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

This medicine is an Alterative, and causes a radical change in the system. The process, in some cases, may not be quite so rapid as in others; but, with persistence, the result is certain. Read these testimonials:—
"For two years I suffered from a severe pain in my right side, and had other troubles caused by a torpid liver and dyspepsia. After giving several medicines a fair trial without a cure, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was greatly benefited by the first bottle, and after taking five bottles I was completely cured."—John W. Benson, 70 Lawrence St., Lowell, Mass.
Last May a large carbuncle broke out on my arm. The usual remedies had no effect and I was confined to my bed for eight weeks. A friend induced me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Less than three bottles healed the sore. In all my experience with medicine, I never saw more Wonderful Results.

Another marked effect of the use of this medicine was the strengthening of my sight."—Mrs. Carrie Adams, Holly Springs, Texas.
"I had a dry scaly humor for years, and suffered terribly; and, as my brother and sister were similarly afflicted, I presume the malady is hereditary. Last winter, Dr. Tyrone, of Fernandina, Fla., recommended me to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and continue it for a year. For five months I took it daily. I have not had a blemish upon my body for the last three months."—T. E. Wiley, 146 Chambers St., New York City.
"Last fall and winter I was troubled with a dull, heavy pain in my side. I did not notice it much at first, but it gradually grew worse until it became almost unbearable. During the latter part of this time, disorders of the stomach and liver increased my troubles. I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, after faithfully continuing the use of this medicine for some months, the pain disappeared and I was completely cured."—Mrs. Augusta A. Furbush, Haverhill, Mass.

PROVINCIAL LEGISLATURE.

This Provincial Legislature was prorogued at two o'clock this afternoon, in the presence of quite a number of ladies and gentlemen. Personal.

Every lover of good literature will be glad to hear that Mr. Lowell is about to publish a collected edition of his works.

An exchange is responsible for the statement that Hon. George Foster, Minister of Finance, will be married during the coming summer to a young lady residing at Ottawa.

It is understood at Vienna that the marriage of the Archduchess Valerie, youngest daughter of the Emperor Francis Joseph, and the Archduke Francis Salvador, half-brother of the Grand Duke of Tuscany, will take place quite privately in June next.

A Victoria, B. C. despatch reports the death by paralysis recently of Robert Dunsmuir, President of the Council. Mr. Dunsmuir was one of the wealthiest and most influential citizens of the Province, or, indeed, of Canada, and his loss will be much felt.

Archbishop O'Brien

PROTESTS AGAINST POLITICAL PRISONERS BEING TREATED AS ORDINARY CRIMINALS.

Ottawa advices state that amongst the letters received by Mr. M. F. Welsh, in reply to the circular which he sent out recently to a number of leading Canadians at the request of the Dublin Freeman's Journal, is one from Archbishop O'Brien, of Halifax, in which he lays down and argues at length the theory that in the treatment of prisoners a broad distinction must be drawn between political prisoners and ordinary malefactors; and that an act of parliament does not necessarily induce an obligation in conscience. The Coercion Act in Ireland is but a police regulation and it is regarded as an odious tyranny; hence it cannot make a moral act an immoral one. If a government really and truly wishes to carry out a police regulation, it must do so in a manner to respect the honor and integrity of its victims; otherwise it breaks the moral law, sins against commutative justice and violates the fundamental principles of government. Always and everywhere, even in uncivilized nations, the political prisoner enjoys immunities denied the criminal, but when a political prisoner only embodies the hopes and voices, the aspirations of a nation, the shame of treating him after the fashion employed with sordid criminals is only equalled by its guilt. His Grace concludes: We in Canada would soon put an end to such tyranny. Could the indignities of Clonmel be perpetrated in our jails, they would be raised to the ground in twenty-four hours.

Cardigan Notes.

Several changes in the ownership of property at Cardigan Bridge have lately taken place.

Mr. Peter McPherson purchased from William Gordon, Esq., Brudenell, the property occupied by Alex. McKay as a carriage factory. It consists of a dwelling house, stable and a large two-story building.

Capt. Bissett has sold the Rev. Mr. Gillies the residence and seven acres of land owned by him near Cardigan Bridge, and has bought Messrs. Carvell Bros. shop and dwelling house lately occupied by Mr. Peter Grant.

Mr. Alex. McKay has purchased a building lot from Donald Stewart, Esq., and intends building a factory on it.

Mr. J. J. Campbell and Mr. Doucette have purchased lots from Mr. Allan Campbell.

The ice has all gone from the Cardigan River, and navigation has begun.

Three schooners are loading with produce, the Lochiel, by Captain Bissett, the Harriet Torrey, by Wm. Minto, Esq., and one for Jas. E. Macdonald, Esq.

John Bright and J. G. Whittier.

In a despatch from G. W. Smalley, the London correspondent of the New York Tribune, in regard to the death of John Bright, occurs this passage that will be read with interest wherever the names of Bright and Whittier are honored:

What Mr. Bright liked, I have always thought in poetry—at any rate, in modern poetry—was the sentiment rather than the poetry. There is no evidence that I know of that he cared much for the delicate art of Lord Tennyson, or for Matthew Arnold in all his force and purity. His favorite among living or recent writers of verse was Mr. Whittier. Mr. Bright and Mr. Whittier had much in common. Both were members of the Society of Friends. Both were abolitionists, and there were other likenesses on which I need not dwell. Mr. Whittier's anti-slavery verse had endeared him to his English co-religionist, whose enthusiasm embraced much more than the anti-slavery verse of the American poet. He admired the simplicity, the courage, the fervor in a holy cause, the faith in great things which are among Mr. Whittier's best gifts. He admired him altogether, quoted him, talked of him with delight. One night at dinner—I may be indul
