NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Judging from reports received from the Montreal Star correspondents in all parts of Canada, the crop in the Eastern half of the country will be above the average. In Manitoba and the Territories the extremely dry season in June is responsible for a low yield, probably not exceeding seven bushels to the acre. This applies to all but a few sections of the country. In British Columbia a good yield is promised.

The Director of the United States mint states that the total amount of money in circulation in the United States on the 1st of July, 1900, was $2,062,425,496 as compared with $1,509,725,200 on the 1st of July 1896. The depression in 1896 caused a contraction in the circulation, while, as the Star of Montreal remarks, the extraordinary prosperity prevailing in the leading countries of the world during the last four years has caused a steady and rapid increase in the amount of money in circulation.

The Liberal candidates in the field are active already. For instance in Cumberland, N. S., Mr. Logan has two government engineers at his service laying out wharves and other government works which he is promising the electors are to be put in hand immediately. In Kings county N. S., Mr. Donville is actively at work. He has opened an office and has engaged no less than four clerks and typewriters who are now busily engaged in organizing and distributing campaign literature.

New York advices state that the demand for the new British war loan was so great there, that before 11 o'clock of the day of its issue one of the United States agents announced that subscriptions already received would no doubt call for half of the entire £10,000,000 issue. Another of the banking houses, it is said in the Bank of England's circular, announced itself ready to take all the bonds if there was any likelihood of such a proposition being entertained abroad. The subscriptions came from insurance companies, corporations and private holders anxious to exchange United States government bonds for the new issue on a basis which would yield double the rate of interest which their present holdings now pay.

The New York Sun says, at the close of an article on Canadian trade with the West Indies: "Primarily, however, the Dominion now is, and long must be, not a manufacturing but an agricultural country. Her manifest destiny is to supply raw products and food staples to the great American republic, and to receive therefrom such manufactures as cannot be produced more cheaply on Canadian soil." Commenting upon this the Toronto Globe says, "Canada is a great agricultural country, no doubt, but one of the leading features of recent years is the growth of manufacturing industries. For instance, the export of agricultural implements has increased nearly six times in ten years." But where would the Canadian manufactures, about which The Globe boasts, be to-day if all subjected to the jug-handled policy from which it was freed by the Liberal-Conservative party?

An esteemed exchange remarks that for many months the magnates of the Government party have been looking for a decent opportunity to make an appeal to the people, but have always been thwarted in their efforts to find a cry that would meet with popular approval. They are now convinced that further delay will be certainly fatal, and that the plunge must be taken at once. The party is in a state of disintegration and decay, and another session like that which has just terminated would put an end to any hope of uniting for a fight against the demand for cleanliness and economy in the management of the country's affairs. The time is at hand when the people must decide whether the reign of misrule shall continue, and whether emancipation shall be insisted upon at the polls. The popular will is, we believe, that four years of new Liberalism is more than the people and the country can stand, and that another lease of power would result only in further discredit and dishonor to the Dominion.

By the Ottawa Journal attention is drawn to the unsatisfactory state of our trans-Atlantic mail service. That newspaper submits a specimen of the work done: "In London, England, on July 16, was posted a letter addressed to a member of the staff of the Journal. The gentleman who posted the letter spent a couple of days more in London, went to Liverpool, and on July 19, three days after mailing the letter, sailed for Canada by the Tunisian. He reached Quebec on the morning (8 o'clock) of Friday last, July 27, and moving leisurely westward, arrived in Ottawa on Sunday, July 29. He called upon the Journal man, to whom he had written. His letter had not arrived. The letter was however duly delivered yesterday, July 31. There had been no accident or undue delay. It was simply a sample of the regular style of the mails between the Dominion and Great Britain." The business of the public is not improving under the management of our business is business? Government.

Hastingsdon Gleamer (old Liberal): "It is undeniable that there are a host of Liberals disgusted with the present Administration for picking up the practices they denounced in their predecessors. That they feel strongly enough to break old ties and oppose old friends we hardly suppose, and they are more likely to stay at home on polling day than attempt to bring out candidates to their mind."

Growing.—Rev. Dr. Potts reports the Methodist twentieth century fund as nearly $900,000.

DESTROY KINGS' TOMBS.

This Punishment Would Appeal With Peculiar Force to Chinese.

CHER FOO, July 29.—Public opinion and the foreign press at the treaty ports are alarmed at the possibility that the Chinese may prevail upon the powers to consent to the establishment of peace without inflicting punishment befitting the Chinese Government's crime. Officials persons engaged in commercial pursuits and missionaries of all nationalities, are remarkably united. They believe Pekin should be destroyed as an object lesson, and that if the dynasty is continued it should be forced to establish the capital at some accessible city, the Americans suggesting Nankin. This is considered important as the Chinese always believed that China defeated the powers in 1860 because the capital remained intact. It is also thought that guarantees to prevent excessive armament should be demanded and that China should be compelled, publicly and definitely, to renounce the fiction that the foreign ministers are representatives of tributary powers. There is a strong demand that unusual punishment, like the destruction of the King's tombs, shall be inflicted. The American and the English missionaries advocate a programme similar to the foregoing.

A Plaintive Despatch.

A despatch to the London Daily News, dated July 26th, says that Col. Shiba, the Japanese military attaché at Pekin, wrote on July 22nd: "We await relief with keen anxiety. When, and in which direction will you come? We have been continually attacked day and night by more than ten regiments of imperial troops. By supreme efforts we still hold the Russian, American and British Legations, and Sa-gang-fu palace, across the Yuho canal, and also German hall and the French Legation. The British Legation, our last stronghold, contains the women and children. The Japanese number 11 marines and fourteen volunteers. Each is reduced to 20 cartridges. Eight have been killed and 27 wounded. Sixty Europeans have been killed. Hostilities were suspended on July 17, but we are in constant apprehension that they will be renewed. All the city gates are guarded. Only the two east gates are open. We will probably succumb in a week unless relieved. The Emperor and Dowager Empress appear to be living in Pekin."

Chinese Troops.

SHANGHAI, August 5.—Documents found in the Viceroy's office at Tien Tsin, gave the names of the heads of the Boxers. There were said to be 20,000. There were copies of his reports to the throne on the Tien Tsin fighting. He asked for reinforcements and more guns. He recommended the retaking of the Taku forts, and on this appeared the Emperor Dowager's endorsements "let the Taku forts be retaken."

Private letter to the Viceroy's secretary indicates that the Pao Ting Wu missionaries have been killed. The Viceroy is at present in camp with General Ma, six miles away. General Sung is at Yang Tsun, twenty miles to the north. He has obstructed the river by sinking stonesladen junks. The forces of General Ma and General Sung numbers about 15,000. They are short of food and ammunition.

LAYING OF CORNER STONE.—The Corner stone of the new Roman Catholic church at Kinkora will be laid on Sunday next 12th inst. The ceremony will take place at 9.45 a. m. and will be followed by Pontifical High Mass by His Lordship Bishop McDonald in the new church which is now nearing exterior completion. Paper contributions will be received at the door on entry and smaller amounts from parties disposed to contribute may be handed into the collection plate before the end of the service.

Confirmation will be administered to the children of Kinkora and Seven Mile Bay at 5 o'clock p. m.

A Toronto paper reports that a meeting of the Executive of the Ontario Reform Association, with Sir Richard Cartwright present, was held a few days ago; and it is understood that as a result of its deliberations the general election is to take place on or about Tuesday, October 16th.

Ladies' Dress Fronts

There are a few of the best kinds left, not more than a dozen in all.

The reason they are here is because they are really the best; and of course it follows that the price was the highest.

But now we are selling the very best ones at the price of the cheap ones

Don't come looking for the $1.00 or $1.50 ones, they'er all gone long ago, but if you like it, we'll give you a beautiful one worth

$1.95 FOR $1.20

And if there are any a shade cheaper you can have them at the same proportion of their price.

These beautiful fronts are just what you want to spice up your summer costume, which is looking a little jaded now.

More beautiful than those made in Ch'town, in fact they have been copied very freely since we first introduced them.

White Underskirts

Too, are selling now at big reductions, this time of year we must get clear of all summer goods.

We are doing it.

1/3 off all White Skirts, both under and over.

1/3 off all Crash Skirts.

Better get one to replace that one that has got torn.
