In Memoriam.

[Mr. J. K. Foran, of Ottawa, has already been introduced to our readers as the author of some humorous lines which appeared in THE EXAMINER about eighteen months ago. Mr. Foran is well known in the Upper Provinces; he is a frequent contributor to periodical literature, and as a platform speaker is unexcelled. To-day we publish a tribute from his pen to the memory of John Boyle O'Reilly. It is an impromptu effort and was composed in less than twenty minutes while sitting one evening last week with some friends. The rapidity with which he thinks and writes is something marvellous, as we can testify from personal observation. He was recently elected an honorary member of a leading Historical Society in the United States.]

TO THE MEMORY OF THE LATE JOHN BOYLE O'RIELLY, EDITOR OF THE BOSTON "PILOT," AND IRISH-AMERICAN POET.

Like the sun that sinks in the western skies,
Like the star that high in the azure dies,
Like the hope that lives, but fleetly flies,
You have passed from the ways of men;
Like that sun you arise in another sphere,
Like that star in our history you appear,
Like that hope we behold your bright career,
Close quickly and gloriously; but then

You've left behind a departing ray,
Like the sun that sinks at the close of day,
And well may your fellow people say,
"He has nobly done his part."
As poet, patriot, man of worth,
As hero, statesman (soul of mirth!),
As lover true to his land of birth—
You've proved your faith and heart.

Gone! and the Irish race shall weep,
O'er the grave where the deepmost shadows creep,
To tell their tale; while you calmly sleep,
'Neath America's sacred sod!
True to your country; true to all;
Upon your sombre funeral pall,
The tears of a thousand exiles fall,
While they pray for you to God!

The "Trapper" sleeps 'neath the southern trees;
His grave is fanned by the passing breeze,
All wept his loss; but more true than these,
A million weep your loss.
Man of that class, men call elite;
Who can your noble verse repeat,
Of Joy so full, of grief replete,
Like the sorrows of the cross?

None! but your works shall live full long,
Their feelings mild, their feelings strong,
In prose, or verse, in work, or song,
Shall speak your well-earned fame,
And all the world shall sadly grieve
For you; and none can e'er believe
That you could to your people leave
Aught but a glorious name!

JOSEPH K. FORAN.

Basis of Consolidation

OF THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND IN CANADA. NEWFOUNDLAND IS INCLUDED—WHAT THE GENERAL SYNOD IS TO CONSIST OF—THERE SHALL BE TWO HOUSES—OBJECTS COMING WITHIN THEIR JURISDICTION—FIRST MEETING IN TORONTO IN SEPTEMBER, 1893.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 17.—The conference of Anglican delegates from the provincial synods and dioceses of the Dominion finished their labors on Saturday afternoon and adopted a report recommending the consolidation of the Church of England in British North America.

THE PROPOSED BASIS OF CONFEDERATION

is as follows: There shall be a general synod, consisting of the bishops of the Church of England in the Dominion of Canada and the diocese of Newfoundland and of the delegates chosen from the clergy and the laity. Delegates shall be chosen by the several diocesan synods according to such rules as they may adopt, or in a diocese which has no synodical organization they may be appointed by the bishop. The synod shall meet for the first time in Toronto on the second Wednesday in September, 1893, and shall be convened by the metropolitan senior bishop by consecration. The synod shall bishops constituting the upper, and the clergy and laity together the lower house. The houses shall sit separately, excepting at any time by unanimous consent of both houses. The president of the general synod, who shall be styled the primate, shall be elected by the house of bishops from among the metropolitans. The primate shall hold office for life, or as long as he is bishop of any diocese, but may resign at any time. The general synod shall have power to deal with all matters affecting any of the interests and well-being of the church within its jurisdiction, provided that no canons or resolutions of a coercive character, or including penalties of disabilities, shall be operative in any ecclesiastical province or independent diocese until accepted by the synod of such province or diocese. The following or such like objects may be suggested as properly of the general synod: (1) matters of doctrine, worship and discipline; (2) all agencies employed in the carrying on of church work; (3) missionary and educational work of the church: (4) adjustment of relations between dioceses in respect to widows and orphans of clergy and superannuation funds; (5) regulations of the transference of clergy from one diocese to another; (6) education and training of candidates for holy orders; (7) constitution and powers of an appellate tribunal; (8) erection, division or rearrangement of the provinces. But the erection, division or rearrangement of dioceses and the appointment and consecration of bishops within a province shall be dealt with by a synod of that diocese.

CONSIST OF TWO HOUSES,

COMING WITHIN THE JURISDICTION

Dyspepticure—Is not a palliative, but a cure; it first relieves, then controls, and finally entirely subdues the irritation and inflammation of the stomach that causes indigestion and dyspepsia.

We learn from the Farmer that the Kinkora races came off last Tuesday, and that they were witnessed by a large number of people. The judges were Messrs. Peter Duffy (starter), Hugh McLeod and J. D. Enman, Mr. James McLeod being timer. In the green race W. A. Noonan's Chief won, best time, 2.57; in the free-for-all Confidence, Jr. won, best time, 2.48 (W. A. Noonan's Maud E. took first heat, however, in 2.43); in the four-year-old race James McNeill's Fair Ellen won, best time 2.59½; in the three-year-old race John McPhee's Lady McPhee won, best time, 3.19.

At the last meeting of the Futurity race board Messrs. T. B. Grady, station agent Summerside, and J. J. Davis, of the Hotel Davis, Charlottetown, were appointed as two of the judges for the Futurity race. The Farmer says: It is their intention that the third will be selected from among those who will attend the race, but who reside on the mainland, the intention being to have one who will be thoroughly independent of all local influence.

The Alleged Rifle Scandal.

The Hamilton Times says: The shooting of the Hamilton team last Saturday in the Canadian Military Rifle League competition was so good that the competitors in some of the other cities refuse to believe that the scores were made, and made direct charges of fraudulent scoring against the Hamilton shots. The Hamiltonians are not surprised to learn that the phenomenal scores made by them surprised those at a distance, because they were rather surprised themselves at the result, but they naturally feel aggrieved that charges of fraud should be made against them by their brother marksmen. The extraordinary scores are accounted for by the fact that the team was composed of picked men, their rifles were almost new and in excellent condition, the day was perfect for shooting, there was not a breath of wind blowing, the light was all that could be desired, and each man as he shot was coached by a veteran crack shot. That there was nothing wrong with the scoring is proved by the fact that there were four scorers on the grounds, that the targets were iron and rang every time a bull's eye was made. The shooting was done in the presence of a number of Hamilton citizens, Col. Gibson being on the ground himself. Hamilton riflemen are noted the world over for their excellent shooting, and it is to be expected that they will now and again break the record. The charge of crookedness has been made without any foundation whatever, and the Halifax shots can rest assured that the scoring was as straight as the shooting.
