

Stanhope WI Xmas Meeting

The singing of "Jingle Bells" opened the December meeting of Stanhope WI which was held at the home of Mrs. Keith Douglas. Roll call was answered by 17 members and two visitors were also in attendance. The new president, Mrs. Ralph Carr presided over the meeting.

It was reported by Mrs. Harry Lawson that books had been purchased for the junior pupils of the school with the money donated recently by the Institute. Mrs. Alvin MacLachlan reported that the Senior Citizens' party which was held in the Community Hall recently had been well attended and was a success. A layette is being prepared to be sent to the Unitarian Service Committee and it is expected to be completed within a short time.

The treasurer then gave her report and it was reported by Mrs. Harry MacLachlan that $128.00 had been collected from the district this fall for the United Fund.

The secretary read letters from the P.E.I. Music Festival Association, Mrs. Helen Herring, and also from Mrs. Marjorie Driman, provincial convener of health and welfare. New committees for the month of January are as follows: visiting, Mrs. Herbert Baxter and Mrs. Lloyd Bell; school, Mrs. Alvin MacLachlan; refreshments, Mrs. John Miesner; Mrs. Lea Miesner and Mrs. Lina Miesner.

It was decided that the executive would again take charge of completing the programmes for the coming year.

Mrs. Lea Miesner moved that the meeting be adjourned after which Christmas gifts were exchanged by the members. Names were again drawn for next year's coming year. Refreshments were then served by the hostess assisted by several young women of the community.

"TOO FRIGHTENED TO SLEEP"

In Tun Sul's Small World Everything Has Its Price

Park Tun Sul was only four years old when he came to the Mokpo TB Children's Hospital.

Unhappy and homesick, he was terribly afraid to go to bed. Korean children always sleep on a floor, and with a quilt tucked under them and over them, they are very comfy if the floor is warm. But thousands like Tun Sul are only used to the cold, bare ground of a squatters hut. It was all the security he had ever known.

The first night the nurse found him in the corridor saying over and over to himself, "Somebody must help me to get home". But both Tun Sul's lungs were affected and he had to stay, so the nurse took him back to his bed. A few hours later she found him fast asleep with his head on his arms on the floor of the dining room near the ward. The second night he asked her to put his mattress on the floor, and because she understood, she pleased him and he felt a little more secure close to the ground. But he was still very unhappy. It was only when he arrived in the doctor's office for an examination and solemnly proffered him a two-won piece (less than once cent) that he brightened. He had paid his way. In Tun Sul's world everything had its price; he had never experienced loving abundance freely given. And in Korea even a tiny child of four takes it absolutely for granted that everything has to be paid for, and once you have paid you can expect good service.

Once Tun Sul would have died today he has a chance of life because of the Mokpo TB Children's Hospital built in 1932 by the Unitarian Service Committee in co-operation with the Norwegian Korean Association and Mokpo City Hall. Korea has the highest TB rate in the world but thanks to hospital care the disease has been almost wiped out among the under 14's in the Mokpo City area. Contributions are welcomed at USC headquarters, 56 Sparks Street, Ottawa 4 and the Bank of Montreal, Charlottetown, P. E. I., Manager, Mr. F. C. Lambert.

Who Is Home For Christmas?

"It'll be home for Christmas" is the happy new slogan being passed to many an anxious person whose loved ones are living many miles from their home town. It's wonderful to be "home" for the holidays and even nicer when friends know you've arrived. The Guardian - The Evening Patriot invites the submission of items for the annual Home For Christmas feature beginning Monday, December 14. Rural subscribers may write personally, contact the correspondents in their area or phone the Guardian - Evening Patriot bureau in Summerside, Alberton, Montague or Souris. Charlottetown readers should phone 4-5556 and ask for Audrey Jenkins or Avila Rogers. There is no charge for social news.

POLICE ASK FOR HEED TORONTO (CP) - The police answer to a 15 per cent increase in Metropolitan Toronto crime this year is for citizens to inform on anyone they suspect is up to no good. Deputy Chief Bernard Stummond asked citizens to notify police when they are suspicious of persons who rent garage for storage or persons without visible means of employment who rent rooms. Rooms can be used as drop-offs for stolen goods and garages for storing stolen articles, he said.

MR. AND MRS. REID VILLET Wedding Vows Exchanged In Late Autumn Ceremony

Hunter River United Church was the scene of an Autumn wedding recently when Marilyn Ruth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theo Sellar, Wheatley River, was united in marriage to Gordon Reid, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Gordon, Villet, Bedford, New Hampshire. Rev. Donald E. Powell officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Potted yellow mums and baskets of mixed Autumn flowers decorated the church, and the guest pews were marked with orange satin bows.

The bridal party entered the church to the strains of "Praise My Soul to King of Heaven". The organist, Mrs. Ivan Bowman, accompanied Stephen McLeod, uncle of the groom, as he sang, "Now Thank We All Our God" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white tulle with a wide sash and long lily point sleeves and an A-line skirt. White fur trimmed the neckline and a full length detachable train fell from the shoulders. Her four tier elbow length veil of silk illusion was held in place with a coronet of fabric roses and seed pearls, encircled with a band of white fur. Tiny cultured pearl earrings were her only jewellery. The bride carried a white Bible, gift of the groom which was decorated with orange tulle roses and streamers.

Carol Sellar, was her sister's maid of honour, and Louise Sellar, her cousin, was bridesmaid. The attendants wore identical floor length gowns of gold and white brocade, with Empire waists and A-line skirts. Their hairdresses were of three tier gold nylon net, held in place by

MARY HAWORTH Psychiatric Care Leaves Woman Still Insecure

Ten years ago, at age 24, I went to a psychiatrist because I was unhappy and unable to marry anyone.

During the psychotherapy a terrible fear broke out inside me and I was too scared to walk on the street by myself. So I voluntarily committed myself to a mental hospital.

There I was assigned to an individual therapist, my consultant for the next four years. He gave me confidence that I could get better and we discussed all phases of my life.

I learned a lot and showed some improvement, so, acting on the doctor's advice, I left the hospital and found secretarial work in the city. I had some secretarial work during my hospital stay.

It was a rough go, but I worked in the city for three years, until my fears broke out again. As my doctor had left town, I went to another psychiatrist, who returned me to the hospital. I have tried every kind of tranquillizer drug and have had two different therapists during redoubled by the shock to your ailing psyche of the previous bungle which had precipitated total panic. In any case, you've made a brave showing. You have the will - to - health, which is more than half the battle. As for what to do next, I have two suggestions, one orthodox and one heterodox from the laboratory angle.

The orthodox suggestion is: Get top-quality physical diagnostic help, in researching exhaustively the possibility that your mental stress is related to blood sugar imbalance. Read "Body, Mind and Sugar" by Dr. E. M. Abrahamson and A. W. Peet (Holt, Rinehart and Winston publishers). Read also the literature on this subject provided by the Hypoglycemia Foundation, Inc., at 149 Walnut Road, Scarsdale, N. Y.

PHASES BELLEW MARK Nova Scotia produces more than $1,000,000,000 worth of goods and services a year.

Evidently this person whose professional know-how you trusted at the time lacked the skill, insight, sensitivity and acumen to conduct the psychic probing operation in such a way as to help you bring your buried fears into the open, in preparation as you would be able to face the old wounds they referred to, and absolve the memories in the light of sympathetic adult understanding, opened, shared and offered by the specialist.

The terrible fear that broke out inside you, so that you were too scared to walk the street by yourself after some psychiatric delving, meant chiefly that the psychiatrist was blundering I think -- probably in terms of hacking away at your unconscious defenses, without simultaneously showing-up your real capacity to deal constructively with the terror material being brought out.

Apparently you had better luck with your first hospital therapist. Not by this his task, and your need of help, were
