

Report Artificial Kidney Is Giving Great Promise

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A surgeon today described a simple new artificial kidney which will help to prevent death from blood poisoning.

Once easily swallowed, it would do the work of filtering kidneys to remove fatal poisons from the blood. It is merely a thin, collapsible tube of plastic sausage casing, filled later with a special fluid to make it work like healthy kidneys to purify the blood. It works inside the small intestine.

This artificial kidney has kept dogs alive even when both their kidneys had been removed. It also helped a man dying of a chronic kidney disease that had ruined his kidneys.

FILTERS BLOOD

This bold approach to a most serious problem was reported at the opening of the merican College of Surgeons annual congress by Dr. Paul R. Schloerb, surgeon of the University of Kansas school of medicine.

Blood poisoning, or uremia, comes when injured or diseased kidneys fail to remove poisons accumulating in the blood. One answer is to tap blood flowing through an artery and send it through an artificial kidney machine where it's purified and put back into a vein.

The heart of these machines is a thin sausage casing with tiny pores permitting poisons in the blood, such as potassium, urea and nitrogen, to escape into a special bath of surrounding fluid.

Dr. Schloerb finds the sausage casing works just as well when put inside the small intestine. It can remove poisons from the blood even though not in direct contact with the blood.

ONE HUMAN

The tube, with one end closed, is put into the intestine. The special liquid which can draw out poisons is pumped into the open end of the tube, and escapes through another channel at the open end.

So far this method has been tried on only one human, a 46-year-old man dying of hopeless kidney damage. He was too sick to swallow the tubing, so a seven-foot section of it was inserted surgically in his small intestine.

Within hours he improved, and was holding his own against blood poisoning when he died later of a coronary attack.

Ferry Service Is Delayed Slightly By Bad Weather

Boat service between Borden and Cape Tormentine was held up for more than two hours Sunday evening due to the strong south east gale that hit parts of the Maritime Provinces.

Due to the high wind, which was accompanied by heavy rain, the Prince Edward Island was unable to move out from the dock at Borden and was compelled to remain there from 5.25 p.m. until 7.48 p.m. when the wind abated somewhat. Consequently the Abegweit was forced to remain in dock at Cape Tormentine until the P. E. I. gave up her berth and traffic was at a standstill, cutting down the regular schedule by one trip of each ferry.

However traffic was cleaned up

Former S'ide Street Foreman Died Saturday

The death occurred at his residence at 62 Russell Street, on Saturday, October 6th of Henry Joseph DesRoches in his 84th year.

The late Mr. DesRoches was born at Miscouche but lived most of his life in Summerside where for many years he was a valued employee of the Town of Summerside and was foreman of streets for 32 years, having served under eight mayors. Possessed of remarkable health and energy even in his advanced years, he continued to work on the street projects of the town, supervising the laying of sidewalks when he had reached the age of 84 years.

He made a host of friends in Summerside during his long life here and was recognized by all as an outstanding citizen and a good neighbor. His first wife predeceased him many years ago and his second wife died in 1955.

Of the first marriage three sons and one daughter survive: Sylvere, Abrams Village, Felix, Miscouche, Frank in Labrador; Mrs. Phillamene Valle, Quebec.

Of the second marriage two sons and one daughter, survive: Ambrose and Glendon of Summerside and Mildred, Mrs. Benjamin Bickford, Ottawa.

Two brothers and two sisters are also living, Thomas in Miscouche, and Edward in MacAdam Junction, N.B., Mrs. Margaret Arsenault and Mrs. Mary Ann Mayhew, both of Millford, Mass.

The funeral was held yesterday morning from his late residence to St. Paul's Church for Requiem Mass at 9.00 o'clock celebrated by Rev. Joseph MacLeod. Present in the sanctuary were Rt. Rev. G.J. MacLellan, V.G., Rev. J.N. Poirier, Rev. Claire MacDonald, Rev. Father Richard performed the last rites at the interment which took place in St. Paul's cemetery. The pall bearers were, Harold MacLennan, Preston Noonan, Wilfred Woodside, Robert Fraser, Jr., Robert Phillips, Lorne Driscoll.

Let's Talk It Over

A man, let's call him Jones, makes $80 per week. Another man, name of Brown let us say, does the same kind of work in another town and gets $50 per week. One day the boss tells Jones he is forced to reduce his salary to $50 per week. Coincidentally Brown's boss informs him he's raising Brown's salary to $40. Can you imagine what would happen in each case? Jones would go home discouraged and disgruntled. The news would cast a pall of gloom over the whole Jones family. The Browns, however, would be celebrating. Yet Jones still gets more than Brown for the same work.

It's a human trait to become accustomed to the status quo, to resent any unfavorable change in it, and to rejoice in a favorable change. Summerside's tax rate has been for years much below the average for towns of its size. Because of added educational and recreational which puts our town in a proud position in comparison with facilities other similar centres, our tax rate has risen sharply and will, we understand, take further jumps. Just how our taxation picture will then compare with towns we do not know. It would be interesting to find out. In any case, it's perfectly normal for taxpayers to feel a bit downcast over the change in our tax situation. We are sure the Summerside people will realize, however, that the principle of "so much for so much" obtains in our town as well as in other places.

For value received, I promise... We got a Civic Stadium With artificial ice; We got a brand new High School, It's really very nice; We got an Auditorium For which we say, "Hurray" But there is something else we got.

We gotta pay!

CARD PARTY—Six tables were in play at a card party sponsored by Alberton sub-division of the C.W.L. Thursday evening. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Joseph Arsenault and Billy Albert, and consolation to Mrs. Lemuel Arsenault and Larry Profit. The freeze-out was won by Mrs. Joseph Arsenault.

FRANK SINATRA IN "THE TENDER TRAP" CAPITOL, SUMMERSIDE

Frank Sinatra, Debbie Reynolds, David Wayne and Celeste Holm head the four-star of M-G-M's comedy romance, "Tender Trap," now at the Capitol.

Filmed in CinemaScope and color, the picture is based on the Broadway stage success, a play built around the adventures of a gay New York bachelor, who believes the Utopian life means safety in numbers until he finds he is hard put to win the one girl in the world he wants.

Frank Sinatra, whose roles in "Not As a Stranger" and "Guys and Dolls" have placed him at the top of his career, plays the carefree bachelor, with Debbie Reynolds, last seen in "Hit the Deck," cast as the one girl who is able to elude his charms—at least, for a while.

Celeste Holm is a girl who appreciates him right at the start, with Sinatra's string of other glamour gals in the picture including Jarma Lewis, the Bowery belle of "The Bar Sinister," Lola Albright and Carolyn Jones, each representing Hollywood at its most pulchritudinous.
