

How to Amuse the Children.

You cannot over-estimate the importance of surroundings upon the physical and mental condition of the children. Choose for them a large, sunny room, well lighted and in winter well warmed; here collect the treasures that delight children, and hang the walls with pictures, scenes from the good old fairy stories, that go down from generation to generation. Try to get games that mean something; animals to take to pieces and put together again, horses to be harnessed into carts, etc. Have it laid down as a nursery axiom, that broken things do not mend themselves, and that wilful destruction of property is followed by going without. In this way you can check restlessness. Have meum and teum respected. The small inhabitants of your 'earthly paradise' may borrow courteously from each other but must never violate the laws of property.

Make the children pick up their toys, and wait on themselves when possible; and absolutely forbid them making their nurse a slave. In this way they will learn to be self-helpful and self-reliant.

Win the children's confidence by proving yourself a sympathizer in every joy and sorrow. So few of us older ones realize how all-absorbing the affairs of the present are to the little ones, and how easily the tender feelings are wounded, by even the implied suggestion that you don't care.

The Great French Remedy, Dr. LeDuc's Periodical Pills.

For the cure of Leucorrhoea or White's E. cessive or painful Menstruation, Green Sickness, Falling of the Womb, Catarrh of the Uterus or Vagina, Hysteria, pain in the Back, or Piles, or for the purpose of invigorating and giving tone to the Generative Organs, two pills should be taken twice daily, or in very enfeebled conditions, one pill three times a day. To effect cures in chronic cases it will be necessary to continue the use of the remedy for some months. A reasonable trial will create sufficient confidence in the remedy to insure its being taken until a permanent cure is effected.
