

THE MAN IS THE BOY.

He was selfish and cold, and never would bring
To the school, or the field, a laugh that would ring;
He was always unkind, nor word would he say,
Of comfort or cheer at the close of the day.

He was sullen and dark, his brow it would lower,
The lad that was timid before him would cower;
He was bold and aggressive, and always would speak
In tones that were harsh to the boy that was meek.

His mien it was haughty, and gruff was his way,
He thought he was made of a far finer clay
Than the rest of the boys who stood by his side,
With hearts that were awed by his rage and his pride.

A frown was the greeting that always he gave
The lad that was gen'rous, and noble and brave;
The envy and pride of his heart would arise
At deeds that were done by the best of the boys.

In the spring when the birds would sing in their glee,
And the wind from the south would come o'er the sea;
When nature was robed in her brightest of green,
And the sky had a blue that seldom was seen,

Alone he would stand in the shade of the wood,
Unmoved by the beauty that reigned where he stood;
And there in his envy and pride he would shun,
The boys who had played till the day it was done.

The boys are no longer in school or at play,
They gather in places less joyful today;
But the lad that was loved was free as the fawn
With his feet on the hills at break of the dawn.

Unconscious of self he would stand by the weak,
A bound in the pulse and a glow on the cheek;
With heart and with hands he forever assailed
The envy, the pride, and the caste that prevailed.

The boy that was sullen and selfish and cold,
The same is the man that is wrinkled and old;
The boy that was gen'rous and noble and free,
The same is the man that is grey that you see.

Whatever in school or on campus we are,
No change in the ray of the light of our star;
O'er all the long years of our sorrow and joy
The soul is the same in the man as the boy.

The man is the boy of the far-away time,
The same as the morning of life is the prime;
The man that is nearing the end of the road
Is the boy that was leaving his father's abode.

DAMAGE BY FIRE.—Fire in a barn caused by lightning last week at North Mountain near Bridgetown, N. S., destroyed the barn and several head of cattle and horses belonging to Mr. Templeman.

'T WAS A BOOT BUTTON.—A peculiar operation was performed at Middletown, N. S., the other day. About a year ago the daughter of a man named Vienot complained of a pain in her nose. Dr. Andrews cut out a growth from the nostril and in the middle of it found a boot button.

KISS POISONED.—Miss Lizzie King may die because of a kiss, accompanied by a slight bite. She is now at the hospital suffering from blood poisoning and the doctors say that her conditions are serious. At a party given Saturday night, in a kissing game it fell to the lot of Miss King to be kissed by Herman Crige. She was bashful and demurred, finally refusing to comply. He was insistent and playfully remarked that he would take the kiss by force. This sentiment met with popular approval. A skirmish ensued in which of course Miss King was kissed. The next day swelling set in which developed into malignant poisoning. Her face is swollen to several times its normal size.—St. Louis paper.

Military Contingent.

HALIFAX, Sept 16.—The first military train for the Pacific will leave Halifax at 4 o'clock this afternoon. On its arrival she fortifications of Esquimaux, which have taken years to complete, will be formally handed over to the military authorities. Heretofore the fortress and other Imperial property at Esquimaux has been in charge of the Royal Marines, who will evacuate on the arrival of the military contingent.

ESTEEMED EXCHANGES.

Montreal Star: What determines the price of votes? The evidence taken in the North Waterloo election case on Saturday shows that the Liberal workers paid $50, $25, $10, $7, $5 and $2, according to circumstances. Why this remarkable difference in the same election? A vote is a vote and only a vote. Why does not one man get $50 for his honest vote and another only $2? From the general tenor of the evidence it looks as though the voter fixed the price at which he was willing to sell himself.

Montreal Gazette: Max O'Rell, who thinks Drevus innocent, says that but for the manifestations of foreign sympathy, the court-martial would have rendered a judgment of acquittal. Max O'Rell may not have meant to, but he has hit the Renes judges about as ugly a blow as they have received. He has justified foreign sympathy.

Mail and Empire: The declaration of Mr. Macnisch that he is "persecuted" raises the question as to the cause in behalf of which he is suffering. If he is a martyr to anything he is a martyr to the new Liberal doctrine that ballot boxes are made to be stuffed. But he is not persecuted. It is prosecution, not persecution that the public demands, and that is the very thing to which Mr. Hardy will not consent.

Moncton Times: The Chatham Advance writes disparagingly of the Hon. Mr. Foster because he is not a success as a "tactician." Mr. Foster is a good speaker, the Advance admits this much; his facts and arguments may be irresistible, but he is not a tactician; he is able, while in power, to gather about him the loose fish and the Advance is one of his fondest admirers. But the difference in the composition of the two men, politically, will be in Mr. Foster's favor in the long run.

An Omen

While a public meeting was going on at Skaguay the other day an earthquake shook the town. Our American friends had better make terms with us before some great convulsion of nature digs out a channel from Skaguay to Dawson and turns the great city of the north into a seaport. Things are coming our way.

CHARLOTTETOWN Business College

—AND—
Writing Academy
Will re-open for the Fall and Winter Term
ON AUGUST 29th.

"Let the Searchlight of Practical Illuminate the dark places of Theory"
A THOROUGHLY Progressive, Practical Institution, in which young men and women are not only taught Book-keeping (in all its applications to Commerce) both by single and double entry, but are trained how to do business by actual business transactions. The students act as buyers, sellers, traders, bankers, book-keepers and accountants in actual business operations, and the currency issued by the College Bank and the merchandise from the Emporium are used in bona-fide business transactions, just the same as in mercantile and banking houses. Book-keeping in itself may be learned at home, but a knowledge of how to transact business cannot be thus acquired. That our course and system of training is eminently practical write for testimonials from business men and from students who are now holding lucrative and responsible positions.

SUBJECTS:

Book-keeping by single and double entry (theoretical and practical) Actual Business Practice, Business Penmanship, Business Correspondence, Commercial Arithmetic, Commercial Law, Railroading, Steamboating, Banking, actual practice in the College Bank, Typewriting, Shortland, and Navigation.

FACULTY:

L. B. Miller, Principal, Teacher of Book-keeping, Arithmetic, Business Practice, Business Correspondence, Typewriting and Navigation.
A. C. McMillan, Vice Principal, Teacher of Railroading, Steamboating, Banking, accounting and Actual Business Practice.
J. Harry Williams, teacher of Business Penmanship.
Wm. Moran (licensed) Teacher of Shortland.
George S. Enman, Esq., (Law Firm McDevold & Inman) Lecturer on Commercial Law.

For circulars or full information write or apply to

L. B. MILLER,
Principal

All interested are cordially invited to call the College and inspect our system of training and work in general.

At Last!

A Remedy has been discovered that will Permanently Cure Catarrh. 151
JAPANESE CATARRH CURE CURES.

This is not merely the words of the makers of this remedy, but the assertion is backed up by leading physicians and the honorable testimonials of hundreds of cured ones. And more, there is an absolute guarantee to cure in every package, or money will be refunded. We will also send a two weeks' trial quantity free to any person suffering from this dangerous disease. Japanese Catarrh Cure is a new discovery, being a prescription perfected by one of America's most successful specialists in treating this disease. It is a soothing, penetrating and healing pomade, prepared from stainless compounds of Iodine and Essential oils, to be inserted up the nostrils. The heat of the body melts it, and the very act of breathing carries it to the diseased parts. It reaches, soothes and heals every part of the mucous membrane, curing invariably all forms of catarrh of the nose and throat, and all forms of catarrhal deafness. Mr. Joseph Little, the well-known mill owner of Port Essington, B.C., writes: "Japanese Catarrh Cure completely cured me of catarrh, which had troubled me for 25 years, during which time I had spent over $1,000 on remedies and specialists in Toronto and San Francisco. About two years ago I procured six boxes of Japanese Catarrh Cure, and since completing this treatment have not felt the slightest symptoms of my former trouble. I can highly recommend it. Relief came from the first application. We always keep a supply in the mill for cuts and burns, and consider it superior to any other remedy for healing." Sold by all druggists. 50 cents. Sample free. Enclose 5 cent stamp. Address, The Griffiths & Macpherson Co., 121 Church Street, Toronto.

A BOY LIKE THIS

A Well Dressed Boy

A boy whose clothes fit him and make him feel comfortable.

A boy who is neat and stylish in appearance.

A LITTLE MAN EVERY INCH OF HIM

That is the way every boy should be and it won't cost any more than it does to dress him a careless slapdash fashion as if anything was good enough for the boys. That is a great mistake and is apt to develop in him careless and slovenly habits.

Give Him a Trial

Bring him to the Model Store and see how neatly and stylishly we can fit him out with a comfortable, well fitting suit at the very lowest cash price. He will feel better; so will you.
