U. S. STEEL STRIKE IS SETTLED AT THE WHITE HOUSE

Democratic Convention Ready For Balloting

Will Be Final Item on Day's Marathon Program

CHICAGO, July 25 — (Friday)— (AP) — The Democratic national convention voted early today to stay in session for a showdown on the question of letting two southern delegations keep their seats — and perhaps on picking a presidential nominee.

The decision, taken by a roll-call vote, was a victory for backers of Governor Adlai Stevenson, who hoped to push his handwagon over the victory line on an early ballot.

Backers of Senator Estes Kefauver had sought to recess the convention until 1 P.M. E.D.T. in the hope of getting a stop-Stevenson drive under way.

Vice-President Alben W. Barkley was entered in the Democratic presidential race tonight despite his own statement that he has withdrawn.

As zero time approached, Governor Adlai Stevenson of Illinois said tonight he was "deeply affected" by the fact that his name had been placed before the convention as a candidate.

He still remained publicly silent as to whether he would accept the nomination, but there was virtually no doubt that he would.

Governor Henry F. Schricker of Indiana, who offered the Illinois governor's name at the convention, described Stevenson as "the man we cannot permit to say no."

Stevenson, at the home of an aide, watched on television and then sent this statement through an aide to reporters:

"I had hoped they would not nominate me, but I am deeply affected by this expression of confidence and goodwill."

Powerful orators put in bids for the candidates. Senators Richard Russell of Georgia, Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, and Robert Kerr of Oklahoma, were put in nomination in the first hours of the convention session, along with Averell Harriman, mutual security administrator.

Truman Commutes Assassin's Sentence

WASHINGTON, July 24 — (AP) — The White House announced today President Truman has commuted the death sentence of Oscar Collazo, Blar House assassin, to life imprisonment.

The Puerto Rican, who took part in the shooting in which White House policeman Leslie Coffelt was killed in an attempt on the life of President Truman Nov. 1, 1950, was slated to die in the electric chair here Aug. 1.

Announcement of the commutation of the death sentence was made by presidential secretary Joseph Short without further comment.

Churchill Quiets Labor Leaders

LONDON, July 24 — (Reuters) — Prime Minister Churchill today pacified a delegation of angry Labor leaders who called on him to protest against his Labor Minister's refusal to sanction wage increases for 1,500,000 store workers.

The delegation, representing the 8,000,000-member Trades Union Congress, accepted Churchill's promise that the protest would be carefully considered and agreed to further talks with the Minister, Sir Walter Monckton.

The T. U. C. maintains Monckton abused his powers under an industrial act by refusing to approve the increase after employers had already agreed to them. Monckton has defended his action in Parliament, pointing to the Government's call for wage restraint to ease Britain's economic problems.

Hate-America Campaign Is Developing In Iran

(By Nate Folowotky)
TEHRAN, July 24 — (AP) — Arrest of an Iranian general was reported ordered and a hate-America campaign grew today as Iran observed mourning for persons slain in the demonstrations that ousted pro-Western Ahmed Qavam for the premiership.

While a dozen contradictory stories circulated concerning the whereabouts of Qavam, unconfirmed accounts said Gen. Alavi Moghaddam had been accused of misinforming Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi on the rioting here Monday and illegally ordering his troops to fire.

Moghaddam served as military governor of Tehran. He was relieved Tuesday after 35 or more persons had died in the outbursts that led Qavam to resign and restored Nationalist Mohammed Mossadegh as premier with greater power than ever.

Reports of the arrest order said the General told the Shah only one man, a stabbing victim, had been killed during the day, whereas many were dead.

The true state of affairs was reported brought to the Monarch at his summer palace outside Tehran by his younger brother, Prince Ali Reza. The Shah thereupon ordered the troops withdrawn and let the demonstrations take their course. It was said.

U. S. officials disclosed a huge demonstration was held Monday outside the U. S. Point Four office at Isfahan, south of Tehran, with rock-throwing in which one Iranian was killed. They insisted, however, the demonstration was strictly anti-Qavam and was not directed against the American assistance program—due to pour $24,000,000 into Iran in this fiscal year.

Feeling against the U. S. hinges principally on a belief that Washington backed Qavam over Mossadegh and the fact an American judge dissented in a 9-5 ruling of the International Court of Justice Tuesday that the court lacked jurisdiction to hear Britain's oil suit against Iran.

New Egyptian Cabinet Ready For Approval

Key Witness In Shooting Dies

ALEXANDER, Egypt, July 24 — (AP) — Premier-designate Aly Maher Pasha, swept to power by a lightning military coup, met King Farouk tonight to get royal approval of a new independent cabinet he hopes will restore stability to his crisis-torn country.

The harassed monarch asked Maher Pasha to take up the reins of government for the second time in six months on the demand of Egypt's new strong man, Maj.-Gen. Mohamed Naguib Bey, who seized control of the army yesterday and forced the resignation of Premier Ahmed Naguib Hilaly Pasha.

In the absence of Parliament, dissolved by the King after the January fire riots in Cairo when he first named Maher Pasha to the premiership, only a royal decree was required for confirmation.

Airmen Still Missing In Quebec Crash

BAGOTVILLE, Que., July 24 — (CP) — Rescue workers continued their search today for one airman still missing following Tuesday's mid-air crash between an R.C.A.F. Lancaster bomber and a Vampire jet high above the Lake Marchand area of Quebec's Laurentide National Park.

The body of the fighter pilot and those of five of the six-man crew of the bomber have already been found by R. C. A. F. rescue teams which hacked their way through the wild and hilly bush country.

Three rescue workers who returned last night said they thought the body of the sixth bomber airman might still be in the wrecked and burned aircraft.

One of the workers, Nurse Isabel Thomson of North Bay, Ont., who parachuted into the area Tuesday with a para-rescue unit, said it was almost impossible to tell whether there were five or six bodies in the Lancaster because "everything was so burned."

Two helicopters were expected to arrive here for an attempt at bringing out the bodies.

Slow Recruiting For Armed Services

OTTAWA, July 24 — (CP) — The armed forces are having a hard time reaching the 100,000-mark in manpower.

The Defence Department announced today that the overall strength at the end of June was 98,359, a net gain of only 500 men in the month, the lowest of the year.

The army, with special force men taking their discharges in fair numbers, just about held its own with 49,844 men at the end of June. There were 14,014 in the navy and 34,501 in the air force.

The army had one of its worst recruiting months in a long time and grossed only 481 new men. It was second to the air force for the first time in a long period. The air force got 830 recruits, the navy 208.

TORONTO, July 24 — (CP) — Large specially-made paper bags containing water have been dropped by planes on a fire that had just started in an inaccessible area of the Sudbury district. Later ground crews arrived and extinguished it. Frank MacDougall, Deputy Minister of Lands and Forests said "It looks as if it's got possibilities."

Genereux Ruest Hanged Today

MONTREAL, July 25 — (Friday) — (CP) — The bomb-maker in Quebec's bizarre 1949 airlines crash died at 1:12 A. M., EDT, today on the gallows in Montreal's Bordeaux jail.

Watchmaker Genereux Ruest, was the second man to be hanged for the murder of a woman that was arranged to come off under the appearance of an air disaster. Twenty-two others died when their passenger plane exploded in mid-air.

Ruest had to be taken to the scaffold in a wheel-chair because of his crippled condition.

He was cut down and declared dead at 1:28 A. M., by Dr. Romeo Plouffe, jail physician.

Ruest attended Mass at 12:30 and was attended to the gallows by Rev. Roger Jeannotte, the parish's Roman Catholic chaplain.

Execution of the 54-year-old cripple was ordered carried out on schedule today by the Secretary of State.

Canadians Spend More For Housing As Building Costs Continue To Climb

OTTAWA, July 24 — (CP) — Canadians invested nearly $1,000,000,000 in new housing in 1951.

Despite higher costs, higher interest rates and increased difficulties in obtaining mortgages, housing investments totalled $844,000,000 compared with $836,000,000 in 1950.

The figures were contained in a report issued today by the Crown-owned Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. The report contained an annual review of mortgage lending in Canada.

Canadians dug deep into their pockets for more than half of the money invested last year. They put up $454,000,000, or 54 per cent, compared with $404,000,000, or 48 per cent, in 1950.

A total of 81,310 homes were completed in 1951 compared with 89,015 in 1950. New houses started in 1951 numbered 72,079 compared with 95,270 in the previous year.

Judge A. K. Dysart Of Manitoba Dies Suddenly

MONCTON, N. B., July 24 — (CP) — Judge Andrew K. Dysart of the Manitoba Supreme Court died in hospital here today, a day after admitted following a sudden illness while on vacation. He was 76.

A native of Cocagne, N. B., Andrew Dysart turned to the practice of law in a young Manitoba mainly because of pride in his British origin and the words of two great Canadians.

He had just finished Harvard when he heard Clifford Sifton, later Sir Clifford, Minister of Immigration in Laurier's Government, praise Western Canada's future and opportunities.

Recalling, too, the words of Sir John A. MacDonal, "A British subject I will die," Dysart refused offers from a Boston law firm and headed west.

His fame as a lawyer spread quickly and during the bitter general strike in Winnipeg in 1919 he became known as a top mediator.

He presided over the Royal Commission which investigated the Seven Sisters Falls power development for the Manitoba Government.

Expect Production Will Resume In Four, Five Days

WASHINGTON, July 24 — (AP) — The steel strike was settled at the White House at 5 p.m. EDT today.

President Truman told reporters that C.I.O. president Philip Murray and U. S. steel chairman Benjamin Fairless "have just advised me that six major steel companies and the United Steelworkers of America (C.I.O.) have reached agreement on important basic issues."

Truman announced that Murray is calling his 170-man wage policy committee to meet here tomorrow morning to ratify the agreement worked out today in the White House.

"This should lead to a speedy resumption of steel production," Truman said in a brief statement. The strike has been on for 53 days.

Truman had summoned Fairless and Murray to the White House today and demanded they compromise their differences.

Terms of the agreement were not immediately announced. The big stumbling block had been the union's demand for a union shop. It will take about four or five days to get production back into full swing.
