"THE MAN WITH THE HOE."

Not since the publication of Kipling's "Recessional" has any poem published in the daily press excited so much comment as professor Markham's poetical interpretation of Mill's famous picture, "The Man with the Hoe," which appeared recently in the San Francisco Examiner, and which is here quoted as one of the greatest of recent masterpieces in blank verse:

Bowed by the weight of centuries he leans Upon his hoe and gazes on the ground, The emptiness of ages in his face, And on his back the burden of the world. Who made him dead to rapture and despair, A thing that grieves not and that never hopes. Stolid and stunned, a brother to the ox Who loosened and let down his brutal jaw? Whose was the hand that slanted back his brow? Whose breath blew out the light within this brain?

Is this the Thing the Lord God made and gave To have dominion over sea and land; To trace the stars and search the heaven for power; To feel the passion of Eternity? Is this the Dream He dreamed who shaped the suns And pillared the blue firmament with light? Down all the stretch of Hell to its last gulf There is no shape more terrible than this. More tongued with censure of the world's blind greed— More filled with signs and portents for the soul— More fraught with menace to the universe. What gulfs between him and the seraphim! Slave of the wheel of labor, what to him Are Plato and the swing of Pleiades? What the long reaches of the peaks of song, The rift of dawn, the reddening of the rose?

Through this dread shape the suffering ages look; Time's tragedy is in that aching stoop; Through this dread shape humanity betrayed, Plundered, profaned, and disoriented, Cries protest to the Judges of the World, A protest that is almost prophecy. O masters, lords, and rulers in all lands, Is this the handiwork you gave to God. This monstrous thing distorted and soul-queered? How will you ever straighten up this shape; Give back the upward looking and the light;

Re-build in it the music and the dream; Touch it again with immortality; Make right the immemorial infamies; Perfidious wrongs, unmedicable woes? O masters, lords, and rulers in all land, How will the Future reckon with this Man? How answer his brute question in that hour When the whirlwinds of rebellion shake the world? How will it be with kingdoms and with kings— With those who slaped him to the thing he is— When this dumb Terror shall reply to God After the silence of the centuries?

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Mr. H. W. Macroste, writing in the Contemporary Review for this month, shows that nearly every important line of production and supply in Great Britain is in the control of trade combine, the individual producer and the individual merchant being squeezed out by great amalgamation. Great Britain is a Free Trade country, and a combine cannot, therefore be caused by Protection.

Liberals persist in telling the Conservative party that it needs a new leader, and the Montreal Gazette remarks that the way the Liberals treated Mr. Alexander McKenzie when he was down shows that they do not understand a party's sticking to a good leader in defeat as well as in success. The Conservatives have a better precedent, however, than the Liberals set. They stuck to Sir John Macdonald when he was down, and in a little while they were standing by him when he was up. They intend that history shall repeat itself.

The Great Fire at the Windsor, N. Y.

Was an awful calamity, but cannot be remedied. Now, Catarrhazone can remedy and is a positive cure for catarrh and kindred diseases. This statement is backed up by hundreds of testimonials, which we have and can produce. Snuff, ointments, washes, etc., have been proved useless in giving relief or curing catarrh, bronchitis, irritable throat, nasal and ear passages, but Catarrhazone, the ozonated air cure, does not only give immediate relief, but effects a permanent cure. Why delay? Send at once for sample bottle and inhaler, 10 cents. Outfit, $1.00.

Wood Island Notes.

The excellent roads this winter have enabled the farmers of this vicinity to obtain a plentiful supply of firewood, fencing swamp mud, etc. Mr. D. Gillis is doing great execution among the wood piles with his horse-power saw. With this improvement Mr. Gillis can cut upwards of 10 cords daily. His contrivance for splitting the wood by a pile-driving system is also a great boon. Mr. Gillis is an enterprising young man and well deserving of success. The excellent ice and roads this winter have brought out the furs of this vicinity. Among the foremost is Mr. A. Lamont's speedy filly under the skilful training of Mr. N. P. McMillan. Capt. McNeill's Kris is also very fine; while W. Brown's Tom is doing wonders in the hands of Mr. Crossman.

The event of the season was the concert given by the D. S., in the Wood Islands East Hall, on Tuesday, March 21st. The programme was composed of choice music, both vocal and instrumental, interspersed with readings, recitations and dialogues. Miss Mary Stewart acted as accompanist in an unexceptional manner. While it is unnecessary to particularise, mention might be made of Miss Irene O'Brien's solos and Mr. James O'Brien's banjo and harmonica music. Mrs. Doyle, of Charlottetown, rendered valuable assistance. The Debating Society here has been an excellent source of enjoyment and instruction during the winter months.

WAS SIMPLY AMAZED

To Hear of Mrs. Allbright's Unexpected Recovery.

She was a Perpetual Sufferer from Diabetes and Rheumatism—Couldn't bear to be Touched—Doctors Couldn't Help—Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Her.

Little River, N. B., March 30.—"Isn't it wonderful how Mrs. Allbright keeps her good health now?" said a lady resident of Little River, to a neighbor a few days ago.

"It was, indeed, a most wonderful case, all through," was the answer. "Mrs. Allbright is a different woman today to what she was two years ago, she used to swell and bloom all over her body. Her flesh was puffy, and tender—so tender that she couldn't bear to have it touched."

"She had Diabetes in every severe form, and to make her sufferings more unbearable, Rheumatism set in. I will remember going to see her, and finding her unable to move hand or foot without the most awful agony."

"That is true, indeed," said the first speaker. "But her sufferings didn't last long after she began on the Dodd's Kidney Pills. I would not have believed it, if I hadn't seen the case myself. It seemed impossible to restore her to sound health, but Dodd's Kidney Pills did it so completely, and so rapidly that I was simply amazed."

"So was everyone who knew, or read of the case. I have kept three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills in the house ever since, I am determined to be prepared for any disease of that kind, and Mrs. Allbright's case has convinced me that with Dodd's Kidney Pills any Kidney Disease can be cured quickly and easily."

This is the way the people of Little River, N. B., are talking of Dodd's Kidney Pills, the great Kidney Medicine of the century, that has cured every time it has been used.

DEAR SIRS,—I have been a great sufferer from rheumatism, and lately have been confined to my bed. Seeing your MINARD'S LINIMENT advertisement, I tried it and got immediate relief. I subscribe my restoration to health to the wonderful power of your medicine. LEWIS S. BUTLER. Burin, Nfld.
