Royal Visit to Charlottetown

and genuine pleasure expressed on the face of the Prince showed that he is a true sportsman and charmed the three thousand people on the grand stand. Other features which interested the Prince highly was the exhibition of a trick shooting by Mr. Boyce Bowen, an islander, formerly of Buffalo, Colorado, pronounced by Buffalo Bill as the champion boy shot of the world. Boyce is now 17 and is living with his father at Kensington. He gave a wonderful exhibition of skill and accuracy, smashing oranges, balls etc., thrown into the air by his father. He used a Remington 22 rifle and seemed to be able to do almost anything. Later on he gave an exhibition of shooting from an automobile going at speed. Step-dancing was given to the music of bagpipes by a bevy of young girls dressed in Highland costume. Their pretty costumes and graceful dancing captured the sympathy of the Prince and the large audience. The dancing was under the direction of Mr. Thomas White, Officials G. W. V. A. Peace Celebration races starter, F. W. Hughes; Judges, H. H. Horne, Dr. F. W. Christopher; Timers, J. S. Wedlock, L. B. McMillan.

The following is a list of the girls and boys who took part in the dancing at the races:
Highland Fling:—Constance McFarlane; Sword Dance, Reta McDonald; Reel, Helen McDonald, Marion McDonald, Constance McFarlane, Elsie Biffin; Edwin McCormic, Sterling McKinnon, Ralph Cameron, Jos. McMillan.

At five o'clock the Prince and his party arrived at Government House, Brighton Road, to be present at the garden party given in his honor by Mrs. Mathieson. The affair was a brilliant success in every respect. There was a large attendance of ladies and gentlemen, but no uncomfortable crowding. Mrs. Mathieson received the Prince at the entrance to the drawing room. She was assisted in receiving by her daughters, Miss Mathieson and Miss Dora Mathieson, Lady Davies, Mrs. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Hazard and Mrs. Arsenault.
Mrs. Mathieson was gowned in steel grey georgette crepe, Miss Mathieson wore pale pink chiffon and Miss Dora Mathieson pale blue chiffon.
Mrs. A. B. Warburton, Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. Bagnall and Mrs. Pope poured tea in the dining room. They were assisted by Mrs. J. O. Hyndman, Edmonton, Miss Davies, Miss Fitzgerald, Miss E. Hazard, Miss Nicholson, Mrs. J. O. Hyndman, Miss Owen, Miss Beatrice McKinnon and others.
Tea was served in the dining room and library, ices and punch on the lawn. The Villa looked lovely, being profusely decorated with flowers.
After the Prince had his tea he went back to the drawing room and held a reception there. He expressed a desire to meet all the people and everyone present was presented.
The Prince was next conducted to the temporary hall room erected on the lawn, and danced two dances, one with Miss Helen Mathieson and the other with Miss Evelyn Crosskill. Music was supplied by the Royal Marine Band and was thoroughly enjoyed. In the interval Miss Julia Henrich, of the Opera Metropole, of New York, who is at the guest of Sir Andrew MacPhail, rendered a magnificent vocal solo for which she was encored, and Miss Arsenault contributed a piano solo for which she was similarly honored. The Prince was later introduced to both performers and chatted with them. Miss Mercy Coles, who had danced with His Royal Highness' grandfather over fifty years ago, had also the honor of an interview with the Prince; and afterwards he retired to return to the ship. At twenty minutes past six the guns announced that the Prince had gone on board, and this ended the Royal visit to Prince Edward Island.

The Kermess in the Armouries under the auspices of the G. W. V. A. and supervision of the Ladies Auxiliary was most entertaining. The floor space was covered with booths, some young ladies in various costumes served tea at the Dutch booth, ice cream and cake at the V. A. D's booth and fortunes good and bad at the fortune telling stand. A platform for dancing was also arranged and during both evenings the band discoursed sweet music.
Among the many entertaining features were the public dances on Tuesday and Wednesday also under the patronage of the G. W. V. A. in the P. W. Hall, which was gaily decorated with flags and bunting. Many pretty dresses were worn for the first time and with bright music, a lovely floor and amiable patrons the hours were quickly and pleasantly whiled away.

Among the noticeable features in the returned soldiers' parade Tuesday was the "White Russian Star" on the tunic of Gunner Menton Whitlock who recently returned from Russia. COMPLIMENTED BY H. R. H.—At the races on Tuesday, Miss Reta McDonald, whose pupils had danced so pleasingly, was presented to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, who very kindly complimented her on the excellent performance of her pupils and expressed his pleasure at seeing the very graceful dancing. He conversed with her for several minutes in a most friendly way and was in no way reticent about his enjoyment of the proceedings at the races.

PRESENTED WITH BOQUET.—As the Prince of Wales was embarking on return to his ship Wednesday evening he was presented with a beautiful bouquet by Victoria Sterns, the eleven year old daughter of Major H. H. and Mrs. Sterns of this city. The Prince accepted the flowers and thanked Miss Sterns, asking her name, age and address.
The Bands
The G. W. V. A. band accompanied the Guard of Honor from the Marine Wharf to the Provincial Building, the League of the Cross band played for the G. W. V. A. parade, the Seventh Regiment band for the parade to the Park at night and the G. W. V. A. band for the Kermess.

PRIVATE DECORATIONS.
In addition to and beautifully supplementing the public decorations mentioned in Tuesday morning's Guardian the decorations by private citizens are well worthy of mention. From Marine Wharf where His Royal Highness landed, along Queen, Great George, Prince, Hillsboro, Cumberland and Westmouth, Pownal, Rochford and West streets to their northern extremities, Water, King, Dorchester, Sydney, Richmond, Grafton, Fitzroy, Euston, practically all the residences and stores were richly festooned with bunting, while streamers were hung across the streets. The streets, particularly Queen, Richmond, Grafton and Kent presented a very pleasing appearance well befitting the auspicious occasion. Also on Great George street from the Victoria Hotel north to the Provincial Building the decorations were very proud and very tastefully displayed.

AFTER THE BATTLE.
Laughter will follow the sighing as sunshine will follow the rain. The rose in the autumn is dying, but in spring it will blossom again. The storm of today will pass over the mantle of snow will depart, and the fields will be fragrant with clover, and peace will come back to the heart.
The cares of today will be trifles as soon as tomorrow is born; The fear that oppresses and stifles will pass with the coming of morn.
And the burdens that now you're bearing in time you will gladly recant.
As proof of your courage and daring, and you will rejoice in them all.
The rose, if it blossomed forever, we'd value no more than a weed. Our joys are all linked to endeavor; we must work for the pleasures we need.
And never a pulse would beat faster nor leap as a battle was won Unless men had coped with disaster

Getting Full Value for Your Money is Real Thrift
Thrift does not imply deprivation, although some people have an idea that they must practice self-sacrifice in order to save. The woman who knows what thrift means seeks first the worth of her money and, if she finds it, savings are the logical result.
There is no form of thrift to compare with full value for the money you spend. And there is no form of waste to compare with the haphazard spending of money which takes no heed of value.
People who do all their shopping at this Store automatically save in the course of a year, a sum which permits purchasing additional things, which otherwise could not be bought if the same purchasing power were used in shopping elsewhere. The reason for this lies in the fact that our patrons get full value. They pay the lowest prices in the city, and consequently save money. In other words, they practice thrift in the best form.
