

Funeral For Rev. McCardle

SUMMERSIDE — The funeral service for Rev. J. W. McCardle was held at St. Malachy's Church, Kinkora, Monday, July 4, where Requiem Masses were celebrated by Most Reverend M. A. MacEachern, bishop of the Charlottetown diocese, and the following priests: Rt. Rev. P. McMahon, Rev. H. J. Croken, Rev. P. Hamill, Rev. Emmett Trainor, St. Rev. Leonard McKenna, Rev. Regis Duffy and Rev. W. Keeffe. Master of ceremonies was Rev. Faber MacDonald. The funeral eulogy was delivered by Rt. Rev. J. P. O'Hanley.

The funeral was largely attended by former parishioners of Father McCardle from Montague and also by parishioners of his native parish of Kinkora. The Royal Canadian Legion was represented by members from both Montague and Borden branches. The service officer was Arthur McCarville and Last Post was sounded by bugler Norbert Gallant.

Interment took place in the church cemetery where services were conducted by Most Rev. Malcolm A. MacEachern.

Pallbearers were Jack Clair, Lister Carpenter, Thomas Boudreau, Joseph Brothers, A. Fraser, and James Cain, trustees of St. Mary's Parish, Montague, and former parishioners of Father McCardle.

Festival Performers On CBC

Today in Charlottetown Summer Festival day on the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation. Maybe the CBC doesn't say so but the schedules make it obvious.

This morning it's "A.M. Chronicle" with host Orset Ulan, originating right from Confederation Center tower. Featured on the Wednesday program will be a taped commentary on Woodleigh Replicas in Burlington, folk songs by Ken and Eddie and interviews with Dr. Malcolm Beck of Sherwood Hospital, and Jamie Ray, who plays "Anne of Green Gables". This Maritime radio show will continue from Confederation Center for the rest of the week and the public is invited to drop in and watch it.

This evening at 7:30 p.m. the CBC Halifax Chamber Orchestra will feature solo work by Peter Samuelson, one of the Atlantic Orchestra's two French horn players.

Half an hour later on "Between Ourselves", host Paul Hershoff talks to people at the Centre about the opening of "Anne about the opening of the Centennial Commission that will involve every classroom student in Canada.

Mrs. Ross, a former school principal, has the experience of 1964 behind her when she headed the committee that was involved in the celebration of the Centennial by school children in this province.

Mrs. Ross has recently returned from Ottawa where she has spent three days attending meetings of the Centennial Commission where initial plans for the student participation were reviewed.
